PIANO BOX LEADS YOUTH TO BRIDE

23-Year-Old Soldier Traces Teacher, 53, Through Address on it

PAIR WED AT YOUNGSTOWN

Youngstown, O., March 26 .- "I care for him very much indeed, but I beleved his professed attachment for me might only be a passing fancy, so I resolved to lose myself to the world completely, leaving no clue by which he might carry out his oft repeated intention of following me wherever I should go and inducing me to marry

"He found me at last upon his re" turn from France, accomplishing what all the police and detectives could not do. And caring as much for each other as we did, there was really nothing else for us to do, so we were married."

So explained Mrs. Russell L. Richman, formerly Mrs. Mary Heffernan, fifty-three years old. Brooklyn school teacher, who dropped from sight two years ago, and who yesterday started housekeeping with her pupil husband, Russell L. Richman, twenty-three years old in Parkwood avenue, here.

Russell L. Richman, twenty-three years old, in Parkwood avenue, here.

Mrs. Hefferman and young Richman, an overseas veteran, were married in Warren, O., March 1, by the Rev. T. F. Rheinhild, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, after one of the strangest romances in history, involving the flight of the widowed teacher from Brooklyn and from her friends, relatives and position, in an effort to evade the youthful suitor who would not be denied. Even two years overseas, during which he fought in the Argone drive, did not dampen the ardor of the Brooklyn youth's love for his teacher, more than twice his own age.

"I made every possible effort to evade the boy," the teacher said. "I told none of my friends or my relatives where I was going, or even that I intended to go. I just disappeared."

Richman was in France for nearly two years. Mrs. Hefferman never wrote him, she said, believing that when he returned from France all would be forgotten and she could return to Brooklyn. However, when Richman returned he at once took up the search. One day he saw a piano box about to be loaded on a truck. It bore the name of the missing teacher. The address given was Massillon, O. Richman found Mrs. Hefferman in that city, and though she refused at first to see him, he was so persistent that she eventually agreed to meet him. The meeting took place in persistent that she eventually agreed to meet him. The meeting took place in Cleveland, and again Mrs. Hefferman tried to discourage Richman. He declared, however, that he would never give her up, and she then consented to marry him. They went to Warren and the ceremony was performed there. "Since his teens he has declared his love for me," Mrs. Hefferman siad, "and though I tried and his parents tried to dissuade him, it was to no avail. He was a persistent lover." Richman is employed by the H. W. Dubiske Co., investment bankers, of Chicago, in their branch office here. Mrs. Richman formerly was employed by the same company.

Divorce on Statutory Grounds Sought in Cross Suit

Boston, March 26 .- Leonard Law-

Boston, March 26.—Leonard Lawrence, of 198 Commonwealth avenue, Back Bay, was named a correspondent
by Arnold Lawson, son of Thomas W.
Lawson, the financier, in his cross divorce libel suit against Mrs. Lucie M.
Lawson, filed in the Suffolk Superior Court yesterday. He charges the statutory offense. Mrs. Lawson in her suit alleged desertion by her husband.

It became known yesterday that for many months Lawson has had detectives watching his wife and their testimony at the trial will be of first importance, it is claimed. The couple have four children and each parent is asking the court to give them custody. asking the court to give them custody.

Mrs. Lawson was first married at the age of seventeen, divorce separating her from her first husband. He was Herbert Barnum Seeley, of New York, who is credited with having given the famous dinner at which the dance of "Little Egypt" was balted by the police
