

WOULD MARRY GIRL FOR THE THIRD TIME

Fearing Possibility of Having Pretty Bride Deported, Ship Engineer Makes Offer

CAME HERE AS STOWAWAY

Facing the possibility of having his pretty twenty-four-year-old bride taken from him, Frank Greenison, chief engineer of the steamer Coteti, today declared his willingness to marry her for the third time to prevent her deportation.

The girl, who was discovered as a stowaway on the Coteti, is at the Gloucester immigration station, awaiting a verdict from the immigration authorities at Washington.

James L. Hughes, acting immigration commissioner at Gloucester, said today that a great deal depends upon whether Greenison can prove his citizenship. He claims to have been born in the United States, although his parents are Swiss.

Greenison told the immigration authorities that he married his bride in Hamburg, Germany, and left immediately for Brest. The girl followed Greenison, unknown to him, she claims, and secreted herself aboard the Coteti. She had food enough to last two days.

Then she was discovered and taken before the captain of the ship. Neither Greenison nor the girl could produce a marriage certificate showing that a ceremony had been performed in Hamburg, as they said. The captain, to protect himself, married the couple again.

When the Coteti reached Wilmington, N. C., the girl was turned over to the immigration authorities and given a hearing. She was ordered deported and Greenison immediately appealed to Washington.

The ship was about to proceed in Philadelphia without the girl when she and Greenison made such a pitiful plea not to be separated that the immigration officials consented to allow the girl to be taken to Gloucester in care of the captain.

Lack of proof of the marriage in Hamburg and a question as to the legal status of a marriage aboard ship by a captain probably will make necessary the third marriage.

Both the girl and Greenison are eagerly willing to do anything to prevent their separation. The girl, apparently from a refined family, speaks English fluently.

Asked why she followed Greenison unknown to him, she replied: "I just couldn't bear to have him leave me."

SAYS HUSBAND SHOT AT HER

Man Estranged From Wife Accused of Firing 3 Bullets at Woman

Following an alleged quarrel with his wife, Florence, when, it is said, she refused to live with him, George Schultz, twenty-six years old, accused of having attempted to shoot her at his mother's home, 2532 South Twelfth street, yesterday.

The couple had been estranged for some time, it is said. Mrs. Schultz, who had just given birth to a baby, returned from the hospital to her mother-in-law's home several days ago. Schultz called at his mother's home yesterday and asked his wife to come back to him. When she demurred, the police say, Schultz, she declared, drew a revolver and fired two shots at her. Although he was standing so close by that her face was burned by powder from the discharged weapon, it is said, both shots missed her.

Mrs. Schultz, who is twenty-one years old, testified against her husband at a hearing before Magistrate Meekers in the Central Station this morning. Schultz was held in $1500 bail for court.

B'nai Brith Initiates 200

Two hundred candidates for membership in the Independent Order of B'nai Brith were initiated by a degree team from Joshua Lodge, at ceremonies last night in the Adelphia Hotel. Prior to initiation there was a banquet attended by several hundred members of the order.
