

DREC CORTELYOU SCORES KNOCKOUT WHEN HE ORDERS TENDLER-HINCKLE BOUT STOPPED

CORTELYOU MOVES TO STOP BOXING 'SET-UPS'

Director Scores Olympia Promoters for Tendler-Hinckle Bout—Will Use Police to Prevent One-Sided Matches and Keep Sport Clean

By LOUIS H. JAFFE

THERE will be no more one-sided matches in Philadelphia, if James T. Cortelyou, director of public safety, has anything to do with the boxing game, according to a statement made today.

"That bout between Tendler and Hinckle last night at the Olympia was a brutal affair. One of the men did not have a chance at any time. The contest should never have been put on," said Mr. Cortelyou today.

"I will not stand for 'set-ups.' I want boxing promoters of this city to put on bouts where the men are evenly matched. I will have no objection at all to stop all contests just as soon as there is a semblance of a 'set-up.'"

"The promoters, matchmakers, and referees are all parties to the trouble, and they have received many complaints about 'set-ups' in this city. Last night's contest was the first I have seen. I am sorry that the Olympia Club, which heretofore has staged evenly matched bouts, has fallen down."

"I feel that this falling down is due to a desire to fatten the box office receipts. One of the first moves I intend to make on cleaning up boxing is to have the promoters announce to the public before the bouts how much each principal is going to receive. This will give the public a chance to know if the men are evenly matched."

"I want it distinctly understood that the sport must be kept clean. The public and must be protected. I don't care whose toes I am treading on."

Stopped in Sixth
Mr. Cortelyou used perfectly good judgment in ordering the bout stopped in the sixth round. He would have had the same judgment had the match been stopped sooner. Hinckle was a poor opponent for the Philadelphia lightweight ace. Stanley was outclassed. He took everything Lew had and was on his feet when Referee Lew Grimsom halted hostilities.

Hinckle, because of his grittiness and probably would have been able to weather the smashing attack of Tendler until the sound of the final gong. Only forty-seven seconds of the fight, but, as said before, Mr. Cortelyou had the right idea.

Human Punching Bag
Tendler used Hinckle for a human punching bag. He pummeled Stanley from the opening gong with every punch he had in stock. Righty and lefty, popped off Hinckle's head and body like buckshot. The Grays Ferry youth crumpled, caved and rocked, but it was not until the fourth round that a left to the jaw spilled him to the floor for the count of nine.

The fifth round Hinckle absorbing a lot more punches. Tendler's left, slightly hurt in the first round, continued to weaken Stanley more and more. Lew, who was suffering from a cold, failed to let up in his attack. With a minute to go before the finish of the last round, Director Cortelyou leaped up from his chair in Harry D. Edwards's private box, shouting for the referee to stop the bout.

PHILS PREPARING TO TRAVEL NORTH

Squad in Dejected Condition Following Shutout at Nashville

Birmingham, Ala., March 30.—"Gavy" Cravath began his last week of training in Birmingham yesterday when he gathered in his Phillies and sent them through a thorough workout at Rickwood Park. This week will be fraught with hard work, practice and exhibition games. The Phils returned from Nashville Sunday night feeling decidedly dejected. The "Vols" romped on Cravath's men to the tune of 5 to 0 in the game Sunday, sending the Philadelphia back in a crestfallen condition.

The Phillies clash with the Birmingham Barons here this afternoon in the fourth game between these teams. Except for the first encounter, which resulted 3 to 2, Cravath's men have found easy sailing. Cravath plans to start North Sunday. On the way the Phils will meet the Louisville Colonels, and the Columbus, O., American Association team.

YALE'S OARSMEN DUE HERE TODAY

Two Blue Crews Will Arrive Too Late for Drill on River

The varsity and junior Yale crews which race Penn's oarsmen in the first brush of the season Saturday will arrive here this afternoon too late for a drill on the Schuylkill.

The Blue shells already have arrived in this city. That is, it is believed they have arrived. As yet they have not been located, but as soon as they are they will be taken to the College Boat Club.

The New Haven oarsmen had their last workout yesterday before leaving for this city. During the last week, Coach Guy Nickalls, a brother of the former Penn tutor, has driven his men through a mile workout daily and he claims they are ready for the gun.

"The Yale crews will arrive late this afternoon," said Major Pickering, the Penn sports manager, today. "They will not be able to get in a workout today, but they will take one tomorrow in their own shells."

Two of the other three men in the varsity shell were with the junior crew last year and the remaining one came up from the freshman boat. Of the second crew Driscoll and Hord were regulars last season. Walker was a varsity oarsman three years ago.

The Yale crews will be seated as follows: First—Stroke, Captain C. C. Peters; No. 7, G. C. Ellis; No. 6, F. H. Lovjoy; No. 5, J. H. Flagg; No. 4, J. J. Sheffield; No. 3, J. McHenry; No. 2, J. S. Moulton; bow, Phil Allen, Jr.; coxswain, A. Carson.

Second—Stroke, B. L. Lawrence; No. 7, D. G. Driscoll; No. 6, W. R. Crookes; No. 5, G. N. Walker; No. 4, S. Y. Hord; No. 3, H. J. Mall; No. 2, J. T. Carman; bow, C. V. Whitney; coxswain, H. D. Madden.

SUNOCO The new motor oil that lengthens the life of your car The motorist who wouldn't drive a hundred yards on a flat tire will continue indefinitely to lubricate his automobile in a hit-or-miss fashion. Yet ten miles on a flat tire will do far less injury to the car than ten minutes of faulty lubrication. If you simply guess or take chances with lubrication, sooner or later you will pay the penalty and the repair shop gets your money. The chief means of extending the life of a car is to use the right lubricant. You can't go wrong on SUNOCO Motor Oil. It is made, not in three or four, but in six different types—covering the lubricating requirements of all automobiles. To get this dependable, guaranteed lubrication, simply ask your dealer or garage man for it. Look for the SUNOCO sign. The SUNOCO dealer has our complete data on motor car lubrication, which enables him to supply the proper type of oil for your car. SUNOCO can be bought in any quantity, also in 1-gallon and 5-gallon sealed cans and in handy drums for home garages.

TRICK PAIRINGS IN PINEHURST MEET

Bizarre Method Employed in Breaking Triple Golf Tie Among Professionals

By SANDY McNIBLICK
Pinehurst, N. C., March 30.—They are using wooden combination to break up the hoodoo which has held here today in the final thirty-six holes for the open golf championship of the North and South. They paired off the leaders like this:

The two smallest men in the tournament tied off together, the two tallest pros, paired and the two tallest went to it together. A chuckle rippled through the huge gallery at the sight, reminding them that Fredy McLeod and then Louie Teller swatted lusty tee shots down the alley. Fred was one day our national champion. He was tied yesterday with 146 strokes. Louis Teller and Marty O'Loughlin being the other partners in flogging the fastest field that ever contended for this title.

O'Loughlin, who hails from Jersey, is very, very rotund so the fates decreed that he should go off with Clarence Hackney, the fat Atlantic City brother of Jim and Bill. More laughter, as this heavy and chunky duo waddled out behind Teller and McLeod, whose diminutive forms every little dip or roll in the fairway obliterated. Teller and McLeod joined hands so they wouldn't lose each other. Hackney stood tied this morning, with Emmett French on their 147 cards of yesterday.

Barnes and Emmett
Six-foot Emmett was paired with long Jim Barnes professional champion, who is all alone in third score with 148 strokes so far. It was a trying, shock-moment up leap-off, these three first waves in the assault on the championship today. French and Barnes took all of the gallery's breath in rolling the style of play perfectly as he has been playing Southern Pines all winter, near here. The golf required there is very similar and besides that French is one of our most gifted shotmen.
