Solemn Services in Catholic and Episcopal Churches Continue Until Easter

BUSINESS HOUSES CLOSE

Today is Good Friday, the most solemn day in the ecclesiastical year. Commemorating the death of Jesus Christ, it is a day rich in devotion in all churches, especially those of the Episcopal and Catholic denomination. Early morning services were ob-ancient rites and customs in the high churches were devoutly adhered to.

The mass of the presanctified, which is the principal observance in the Catholic Church, was said at 9 o'clock. At this mass the host which was conse-erated or Holy Thursday was used. Prior to the mass the consecrated water was taken from the repository at the side of the altar, where it was placed yesterday, and deposited in the tabernacle of the main altar.

Altars were stripped of their cover-
