

LEGION 'RESPECTS' PAID TO BERGDOLL

The Longer He Lives the Stronger the Warning to Future Craven," Says Weekly

PLANS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

The American Legion Weekly, official publication of the world war veterans' organization, in an article on the frontispiece of the issue received in this city today, pays its respects to Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the notorious Philadelphia slacker, who has just received a five years' sentence by the United States court-martial.

"Who wants the 'distinguished' Bergdoll?" inquires the Weekly. "No more than any other decent community or individual will New York relish his presence or his propinquity. During the recent trial by general court-martial Bergdoll's very fellow prisoners at Fort Mifflin expressed so vigorously their contempt for the unwanted slacker that Bergdoll—impervious to shame as he has been—began to weep."

"And yet Bergdoll is 'wanted'—wanted for just one purpose, and that is to complete his term in prison and live thereafter a life of obloquy—a breathing reminder of the harsh but just fate that America metes out to traitors. The crime for which Bergdoll was tried is punishable by death. But Bergdoll will live, and the longer he lives the longer will be the lesson and the stronger the warning to those craven who in future would emulate his example. By such lessons are nations cleansed and made heart-whole."

"And lest we focus too intently our vision on Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the reminder may be timely that those who stood not alone. There are, in fact, by official government count, 173,911 others besides him who have been filling their lungs with the free air they refused to help keep free, and now that the hour of retribution approaches, are invoking the protection of the friends in institutions their lack of manhood sent others to defend."

"Those supplications, pathetic as they are, must be in vain. The Bergdoll finding is an impressive beginning. But it is a beginning only. There must be no diminution of effort until the last guilty one of the 173,900 has been given his belated bit to do."

The Grand Army of the Republic, United Spanish War Veterans and the American Legion will co-operate in the celebration of Memorial Day in Philadelphia.

This has been secured as a result of the appointment of committees by each of these organizations to arrange jointly a program for the celebration. These will be the first Memorial Day exercises since the return to civilian life of a great majority who served in the world war, and the day will therefore be one of more than usual significance. The committee of the American Legion which is working with the other organizations of veterans is headed by Benjamin H. Golder, of Post 37, and consists of the following members: Joseph Breen, Post 207; Clayton W. Wylan, Post 388, and Solomon Glick, of Post 152.

Tacony Post No. 133 has arranged for an entertainment in Owl's Hall, Longshore street, Tacony, for the benefit of the women's auxiliary and the members of the post Tuesday evening, April 6.
