An Old Grist Mill by the Water Side on a Favorite Drive

sometimes kept on grinding when the hopper was

It simply made a noise, with its big, hard stones knocking against each other, having nothing to work upon but itself.

The human mind is much like a mill: when it lacketh corn or wheat it clatters along, rattling away as if it were doing something, when it is simply wasting itself.

Many persons have nothing to think of outside of themselves, so their thoughts grind up their peace and content.

A good adviser in their content or occupation might relieve them from mental depression and temporary anxieties.

Heap up the mind's hopper with a service of kindness to somebody. We have often been told that walking through the Store from the railroad terminals to Chestnut Street and listening to the peals and appeals of the morning music lightens the whole day.

It Was Caroline Reboux Who First Used Coque Feathers

This Spring or her smartest hats, and it was this inspiration which prompted the milliners in our own Gray Salons to make some new and charming hats, with the glistening coque feathers for adornment.

The hats are in new shapes and of fine Milans and other straws, in dark colorings, chiefly. They are quite distinctive, they will be very smart for tailored wear. and they will be shown for the first Monday morning.

Prices start at $25. (Second Floor, Chestnut)

We Bought in Paris Certain Beaded Robe Patterns

Really lovely things that we new Philadelphia women would ke the opportunity of having for ummer gowns.

They have just been opened, and t is hardly necessary to say that there is small likelihood of any similar robe patterns being seen. The material is a very fine reach cotton voile in Nattier blue, ory, champagne, coral and pink, all are beaded in white and in three designs. There is ample material and trimming for both skirt and louse, $27.50. $32.50 and $37.50.

Krimmer, the Coming Fur, Trims a New Satin Wrap

Among fashion authorities there is much talk of this fur for Fall and this is its first appearance on a wrap.

The wrap in question is a very beautiful black satin with full gathers in the back, tassels to finish off the arm openings and a large collar with squared ends of this pretty curly gray fur. The silk lining is gray also. $300 is the price. Another new wrap with novel fashion features is a beautiful silk and wool duvetyn with large open armholes bound with a cord of the material, and the same cord finishes the neck and ties with tassel ends. It is reindeer color, lined with salmon pink and $325

These are only examples of the new late Spring wraps now arriving in the Coat Salons. (First Floor, Central)

Laces and Linens From Paris-For Wedding Gifts

Did you ever see a bride who objected to the quantity of household linens she received among her gifts? There "aint no sich a person," to the best of our knowledge and beliefwhich is one reason for mentioning this importation of Normandy laces and tetieres just received in the Art Needlework

The tetieres (a modern form of chair tidy) are of real Cluny, real filet and linen cut work, and prices run from $9.50 to $15.

The Normandy laces are in the form of doilies and centerpieces, many of which would lend themselves excellently to mounting under glass, for trays and so on. Doilies are as low as $1 and centerpieces as high as

AMPICO Reproducing Piano

What a wonderful thing it is to be able to sit in your favorite chair at home and hear the world's greatest artists play your own piano!

And what a fine thing it is that the achievements of these men have been perpetuated, to live after them as surely as the work of the painter, the sculptor or the poet, and do their part in the uplifting of the world.

Come in some time and let us show you what the Ampico reproducing piano can do. No printed words can give you any conception of its marvels.

A visit entails no obligation to buy, but if you wish to do so, convenient terms can be arranged. (Egyptian Hall, Second Floor)

In the Face of Conditions These Are Exceptional Linens

Probably you have read or heard of the unfavorable conditions prevailing in the

Unfortunately, it is all too true

What is more, there is no indication that things are likely to improve, but every indication that they are likely to be prolonged-at least for a year or more.

We ourselves would now have to pay considerably more at wholesale than you are asked to pay at retail for many of the grades of table linen we are now offering. There is not an item in the stock that can be bought to sell for anything like the price we have marked on it.

Here, for instance, is a heavy silver-bleached Irish double damask table linen, of pure flax, 70 inches wide, free from dressing; also a 72-inch heavy Irish damask of exceptional body, both of which are priced at $4 a yard, although it would cost considerably more to buy them at the looms today. Another exceptionally good item is a plain white linen suiting for skirts and dresses, all pure linen, 36 inches wide, $1 a yard.

Every day that passes makes goods of this kind more unusual at these prices.

An Opportunity to Buy Whittall Anglo-Persian Rugs

With the market almost sold out of these finest of Wilton rugs, and with a further advance in price imminent, we can offer a fine selection of Anglo-Persians, in a complete range of sizes, at the prices which have been ruling for some months past. This is possible because we have just received a shipment that has been due for weeks, but was delayed by embargo.

Our earnest advice to any persons wanting these fine rugs at their present prices, is to lose no time in making their selections.
