

GABRILOWITSCH AS GUEST CONDUCTOR

Leader of Detroit Orchestra Scores Popular Success in Saturday Evening Concert

Osip Gabrilowitsch, conductor of the Detroit Orchestra and world famous as a solo pianist, made his first appearance as an orchestral leader in this city on Saturday evening.

Mr. Gabrilowitsch, in the absence of a soloist, constructed a program from the works of the four composers who were the chief of the orchestra.

As a conductor, Mr. Gabrilowitsch showed some decidedly characteristic features in his handling of the orchestra.
