Nancy Wynne Tells of the Social Doings Today—She Hears About Plans for Unusual Tableaux. Various Happenings Recorded

I HOPE you all had a happy Easter and are ready for the gayety of this week; for it seems to me it is going to be decidedly a gay one. We start tonight with the Mask and Wig performance at the Forrest Theatre and a dance for the younger set given by Mrs. Reynolds Brown at the Philadelphia Cricket Club. Then there will be the big subscription dance for the younger set out at the Merion Cricket Club for the benefit of the Bryn Mawr social service department and in charge of a committee of subdebs and debs. So you see we will all be busy as busy can be!

THE Jacob Disstous will give a Mask and Wig party and supper afterward at the Ritz in honor of their daughter Lorraine. Lorraine, by the way, is quite well again. You remember she was ill and had to give up most of her debut plans for the winter. Mrs. Perry Allen will give a dinner and Mask and Wig party for her daughter, Virginia Allen, and members of the younger school set, and Mrs. Thomas Leaming will entertain for her granddaughters, Rita Heckscher and Dorothy Burr. The former, as you know, will be a debutante of next season. There will be a number of smaller parties at the performance also.

AT THE Easter dance at Merion the girls on the committee include debs and subdebs, among them Margaretta Harrison, Eleanor Robb, Anne Ashton, Ruth Packard, Mary Thayer, Virginia Heckscher and Edith Newlin. Edith and Eleanor were debutantes of the last season, you know. The others will come out next year. The Richard E. Nortons will give a large dinner for their daughter Nancy before the Easter dance.

I AM very much interested in the tableaux which are to be given at the Bellevue-Stratford on the afternoon of April 13. Have you heard about them? Jessie Willcox Smith and Leopold Seyffert are to pose a number of children and grownups, respectively, in a series of portraits. Miss Smith will reproduce her own paintings, the children taking part in the pictures being Isabelle Henry, Florette Montgomery, Barbara Strawbridge, Mary Spottswood Harrison, Mary Isabel Voorhees, Virginia Brock, Molly Tyler, Polly Leiper, Nancy Heyward, Peter Borie, Cornelia Tilden, Gainor Roberts, Evelyn Willing, Mary Fell Jordan and Charles Mather.

The women who will be posed by Mr. Seyffert will be Mrs. Tony Geyelin, Mrs. Tom Ridgeway, Mrs. Randal Morgan, Mrs. Brad Fraley, Mary and Ellen Glendinning, Mrs. Henry Pepper Vaux, Mrs. William Clothier, Mrs. George S. Willing, Jr., Mrs. Harlow Voorhees, Mrs. Alexander Brown and Mrs. Effingham Morris, Jr. Oh! I forgot to tell you it's for the Hope Day Nursery's benefit.

I HEAR Mary Norris had a wonderful time down in White Sulphur, she and her parents and grandparents and Mrs. Albert Rosengarten, her cousin, were all there for several weeks. Mary is as fond of riding as the rest of her family has always been. They came home last week.

You remember her two younger aunts, Mrs. Altemus and Mrs. Arthur Spencer. Time was when one scarcely ever saw them in anything but riding clothes. That was some years ago, however, but the present generation of the Dobson family seems just as fond of horses as the former.

I saw Lisa Norris on Chestnut street one day last week. She came back recently from a visit to Palm Beach. She was wearing a blue suit and small blue hat. The suit was made with a vest of Persian embroidery which was very smart.

Connie Vaucain was in town that same day and looked very stunning in a brown suit and small brown hat. Except for the straw hats, the spring suits are not yet a general thing, so these two specially attracted my attention.

TALK about the conveniences of living in an apartment house. It is comfortable, but just suppose one of said apartments springs a leak while all the occupants lie sleeping peacefully and no one finds it out till the cellar is flooded.

It happened thusly: A certain person you know and I know awoke from her dreamless sleep the other night to hear a loud sound of pouring rain. She promptly went to sleep again. About an hour later she woke to hear said rain pouring louder and louder. This time she woke sufficiently to think "Some one must have left the water running in the tub." And forthwith she rose, and on investigation found water pouring, squirting, running, gurgling, sousing everything in sight, coming from the pipe under the washstand. Horrors! It was 3 a. m.

What to do? Well, as I heard the story, by that time the water was running out into the kitchen, down the hallway, into the bedroom, everywhere! So she woke the male member of the menage who insisted on tying up a sole in the pipe, which extended six inches, with a two-inch bandage. Did it help? It did not.

Finally it was found that the water was pouring through the floor into the cellar and was lying on the ground inches deep. Rolling up pajamas, the valiant male member waded through the rapids and with superhuman strength turned off not only the water from under the pipe, but all the water in the house.

Picture next morning! When all the inhabitants of said apartment house arose to wash and make coffee, and there was no water! The calls for "James" to know why were many. But from the apartment wherein the flood had occurred there came no sound. They had known, and had drawn water, while the flood was going on.

NANCY WYNNE.

MISS MAISIE RUSH AN EASTER BRIDE

Fashionable Wedding Takes Place at St. James Church. Atlee-Purchas Nuptials

One of the most important of the early spring weddings is that of Miss Maisie Rush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rush, of 2106 Pine street, and Mr. George E. Bartol, which took place today at noon at St. James' Protestant Episcopal Church, Twenty-second and Walnut streets. The bride wore a cream white satin charmeuse gown, the bodice cut in a deep V at the neck, a draped skirt, and a long train with orange blossoms at the end. Her veil was arranged like a Red Cross veil, with rose point lace across the front and down one side. She carried a shower bouquet of white lilacs, lilies of the valley and white sweet peas. Mrs. John W. Drayton attended her sister as matron of honor, and the bridesmaids included Miss Rachel Price, Miss Eleanor G. Bartol, Miss Marion G. Bartol, Miss Mildred W. Longstreth, Miss Dorothy Blair and Miss Susan Rush, of Norfolk, Va. Mr. J. Grier Bartol, acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. R. Alastair McCloud, Mr. Charles Davis, Mr. Horatio H. Morris, Mr. Barclay McFadden, Mr. George J. Harding, Jr., Mr. C. Heath Bannard, Jr., Mr. John Welsh Drayton, and Mr. Benjamin Rush, Jr. A reception followed the ceremony. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Bartol will live in Overbrook.

ATLEE—PURCHAS

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Purchas, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Beswick Purchas, of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mr. Edwin L. Atlee, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Atlee, of 3012 West Coulter street, Germantown, took place quietly at noon today, at the home of the bride's mother in Milwaukee, in the presence of the immediate families. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Sally Purchas, and Mr. Atlee had his father for his best man. The Rev. Holmes Whitmore performed the ceremony. After a wedding trip, the bride and bridegroom will be at home after May 1, at 3012 West Coulter street, Germantown.

PHILLIPS—FONDA

Another interesting wedding to society is that of Miss Helen Lafourcade Fonda, daughter of Mrs. A. Caldwell Fonda, of 1709 Pine street, and Mr. Harold Ash Phillips, of Baltimore, grandson of the late Moro Phillips, of this city, which took place quietly today at 12 o'clock, in St. Mark's Chapel, Sixteenth and Locust streets. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Elliot White and was followed by a small reception for the members of the families and a few intimate friends. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Bayard P. Fonda, and was unattended. Mr. Marshall Phillips acted as best man for his brother. After a wedding trip the bride and bridegroom will live in Catonsville, Md.

RHOADS—GAGE

The wedding of Miss Katharine Gage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Gage of City Line, Oak Lane, and Mr. C. Brewster Rhoads, of 4512 Chestnut street, will take place at 6:30 o'clock this evening at the Church of the Saviour, Thirty-eighth street above Chestnut. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Phillip J. Steinmetz, Jr., rector of St. Paul's Church, Ogontz, assisted by the Rev. Robert Johnston. Mr. Gage will give his daughter in marriage. The bride will be attended by her sister, Mrs. Guy H. Bloom, who will be matron of honor. Mr. Adams Dobson, of Bethlehem, will act as best man, and the ushers will be Mr. Langdon Jones, Mr. Guy H. Bloom, Mr. Sydney Trewin, Mr. Howard Trewin, Mr. Frederick Kaschwitz and Mr. Brenton G. Wallace. A reception will follow the ceremony at the Aldine Hotel. Upon their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Rhoads will live in Oak Lane.

DALTON—WYNNE

The wedding of Miss Harriet Graham Wynne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Wynne, of the Powelton Apartments, and Mr. Donald Maclean Dalton, lieutenant, U. S. N., will take place at 6 o'clock this evening, in Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Nineteenth and Walnut streets. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of the church, and will be followed by a reception at the Ritz-Carlton. The bride will be given in marriage by her father and will be attended by her sister, Mrs. J. Clifford Mendenhall, Jr., as matron of honor. Lieutenant Commander Charles Green, U. S. N., will be best man and eight naval officers will act as ushers.

ANCKER—GOODWIN

An interesting wedding was solemnized at noon today in the Church of St. Barnabas, Third and Dauphin streets, when Miss Mary A. Goodwin, daughter of Mrs. Lydia Goodwin, of 3249 North Sixth street, and Mr. Milton Ancker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Ancker, of 1824 West Tioga street, were married by the rector, the Rev. James McClintock. Miss Elsie Stever was the maid of honor and Miss Lillian Biddle was the flower girl. Mr. Ancker had for best man, his cousin, Mr. Arthur Ancker. The ceremony was followed by a breakfast at the home of the bride's mother. The bridegroom and bride left on a trip and will be at home after May 1, at 3249 North Sixth street.

KEELY—NOTHAFT

One of the attractive Easter weddings took place on Easter Sunday at 4 o'clock when Miss Elsie Nothaft, of 3133 Ridge avenue, was given in marriage by her father to Mr. William H. Keely, of 3048 Colona street. The Rev. Dr. Dippel officiated. A reception followed immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Clara Nothaft, a sister, acted as maid of honor. The best man was Mr. Paul Irving Keely. Mr. and Mrs. Keely left for an extended wedding trip immediately after the reception. They will be at home at 3013 Bonsall street after April 15.

STUART—HARTZELL

A very pretty wedding will take place this evening at 6 o'clock at the Belmont Baptist Church, Forty-fourth and Westminster avenue, when Miss Drusilla Hartzell, of 4938 Westminster avenue, will be given in marriage by her father to Mr. Thomas W. Stuart, 1010 Palace street. The Rev. Carey Thoman will officiate. A reception will follow immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Abbie Callahan, of Easton, will be the maid of honor. Miss Irma Clouser and Miss Marian McCaffrey will be the bridesmaids. The best man will be Mr. Joseph O'Donnell and the ushers will include Mr. Clarence Hartzell, a brother of the bride, and Mr. Leo McCloskey. The bride and bridegroom will leave after the reception for an extended wedding trip through Canada. They will be at home after May 1, at 4938 Westminster avenue.

STRAWBERRY MANSION

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Mayer, of 3103 Clifford street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at a family dinner of twenty-seven covers at the St. James Hotel. Mrs. Mayer was Miss Barbara Lang, daughter of the late Mr. Louis Lang. Mrs. Viola Strauss and Miss Jennie L. Mayer are their daughters.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Minnie Claire Levin, daughter of Mrs. H. Levin, 3200 Diamond street, to Mr. Joel F. Isaacs, 2551 North Nineteenth street; the Rev. Marvin Nathans officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Isaacs are on a wedding trip in the South.

An Exhibition
offered as a practical assistance in making selections. In arranging the displays, endeavor has been made to gather in each group the articles actually needed for the purpose represented.
The various groups are displayed on tables and in cases throughout the store. Each article is taken from the stocks and may be purchased.
The Bride's Jeweled Adornments on her wedding day—a string of pearls; a diamond wrist watch; a bar pin of emerald-cut diamonds with bracelet to match; a diamond corsage pin in the suggestive form of Cupid's dart, with veil pin of like design; the wedding, the engagement and guard rings arranged as worn on the bride's finger. And an ivory-bound prayer book with gold markers.
Gold Jewelry and Personal Appointments suggesting gifts for the bride, the groom and their wedding party.
Articles for the Bride's Going-Away Luggage—a gold-fitted suit case, a silver-fitted motor bag, an overnight case with French crystal fittings, a traveler's jewel case, a folding clock, an umbrella.
Appointments for the Dining Table—a table planned in rose and cream-color with French motif, containing a silver service of Antoinette design, with fine china in rose and gold and a complete set of rock crystal stemware;
a second dining table furnished in the quieter English mode—a bright-finish silver service of old English design; English china in cobalt blue and gold; crystal stemware in replica of an antique Waterford production;
for the bride's town house, china in white and gold is exampled;
for the country seat, the suggestion is old English china strewn with nosegays;
for the banquet table, a grouping of fine dessert silver with the exquisite accessories.
The After-Dinner Coffee Table, the Afternoon Tea Table, the Chocolate Table, the Breakfast Tray — each represented in complete equipment.
The Appointments of the Bride's Boudoir Table and Desk; her Stationery; artistic accessories of the Drawing Room, the Hall, the Groom's Den. Mantel clocks, hall clocks, clock sets; Chinese lamps, vases, curios and ornaments of Imperial cinnebar lacquer; leather articles gold-tooled after the old Italian handwork; the French feather fan, the opera glasses; the slipper bag for the bride's use at the dance; the French beaded hand bag and painted fan for less formal functions; crystal-pendant vases of Waterford design; fine old Sheffield urns; Dutch silver birds for table enrichment—each article appropriately placed amidst harmonious environment.
