

MARTIN OUT, ARON SEEKS SENATE TOGA

Waldron Chosen to Carry Vane Colors in Fifth District Congress Race

MAYOR OPPOSES KENDRICK

Senator Edwin S. Vane, who has been confined to his home with a sprained ankle since Friday, limped into his office today and the political pot in the Fifth Congressional and Senatorial districts immediately began to boil.

State Senator Martin, who retires as a senator from the Fifth district this year, announced that Max Aron, Vane leader in the Twentieth ward, would be a candidate to succeed him.

Senator Martin was the first of a series of Vane followers to confer with Mayor Moore in his office in the Lincoln Building. The conference lasted for more than an hour.

Waldron in the Race

Following the meeting between the two leaders, Vane followers said that the first ward, where leader in the Fifth district, would be chosen to carry the Vane organization colors in the Fifth district.

About the same time Senators Vane and Martin were discussing the political line-up, Mayor Moore and Congressman E. Costello, now representing the Fifth district, were conferring in City Hall.

Following the conference, Mr. Costello smilingly said he would be a candidate for re-election and would be "in the fight till the finish." He left the conference chatting with the Mayor's secretary, Durrell Shuster.

MISSING GIRL A FILM FAN; PREFERS WRITING TO DOLLS

Mrs. Shreeve, Her Mother, Crowds Day With Housework to Minimize Worry

$1000 Reward Fails to Bring Real Clue — Boy Scouts Search Vicinity in Vain

Worn by a week of anxiety over the disappearance of her six-year-old daughter, Ellen Beardler, Mrs. Osmos Shreeve crowds her day with housework to keep her mind from her trouble, so far as this is possible, and looks anxiously for some clue that will help to recover the little girl.

"It was just eight days ago, at 8 o'clock, that I said 'good-by' to Ellen and told her to hurry or she'd be late for school," said Mrs. Shreeve today. "We were stupid about not knowing that there was no school because of vacation. That was the last I saw her."

Mrs. Shreeve's pallor tells of the loss of her daughter, which is always ready and waiting for the return of little Ellen.

Knows Her Name and Address

"I am sure she could find her way home," says Mrs. Shreeve. "She was always writing her name and her address. She played with a pencil and paper as most little girls play with dolls, and was always writing the names of all of us."

She Liked the Movies

"I know she would not have gone with strangers," says the mother. "She was a great mamma-baby. She always talked about Ellen, but she never would say that she never would wait for them, but always hurried on ahead."

There is one thing we can think about Ellen, and that is her mother. She was only six years old, but she was perfect health. She had never been taken away and, in fact, had made her home her playground.

TENANTS REQUEST UNUSED BREWERIES

Ask Mayor Moore to Commandeer Buildings to Store Household Effects In

ROUTE "SPIES" AT MEETING

Mayor Moore has been asked to commandeer unused breweries as warehouses for the storage of household goods of evicted families.

This action was taken at a meeting of the Pennsylvania Tenants' Protective Association at 5639 Thomas avenue last night.

Many members of the association, it was said, are about to be evicted and if warehouses are provided for their household goods they will be able to camp in the park or some other place until they can obtain a home.

The Mayor also was requested to turn over the palatial home of Grover C. Bergdoll, convicted draft dodger, to evicted tenants, if possible. The residence is at Fifty-second street and Wynnefield avenue.

The meeting was interrupted several times by persons alleged to be spies of landlords. A high-powered touring car was in the vicinity of the meeting hall, and men were seen to run out of it and throw open the door to the meeting.

Several of the tenants dashed down the steps and pursued the alleged "spies," but they escaped. Finally the tenants posted a guard in front of the hall to ward off interruptions.

The delegates adopted a resolution providing for a protest meeting of the tenants of the city. The Governor and other state officials will be invited to speak to indicate what action, if any, they will take to relieve the housing situation. The hundred delegates present were a unit in urging the mass-meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Glassmire, whose recent eviction from their home at 10 South Redfield street was the cause of a riot, were the guests of the association. Samuel Glassmire, their wounded son, attired in a uniform, was also present.

MRS. EDWARD STAFFORD

Daughter of late Admiral Will Sponsor Destroyer on Anniversary of Pole's Discovery

WARSHIP TO HONOR MEMORY OF PEARY

Today, the tenth anniversary of the discovery of the North Pole by the late Admiral Robert E. Peary, will be marked at Cramp's shipyard by the launching of the United States torpedo-boat destroyer Robert E. Peary.

Mrs. Marie Peary Stafford, daughter of the late explorer, for whom the destroyer will be named, will christen the vessel. The launching will take place at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon.

It is expected that a delegation of official personages will accompany Mrs. Stafford from Washington, where she lives. Just who will be included in the sponsor's party was not known at Cramp's yard this morning.

Mrs. Stafford was known as the "snow baby." She was born during one of Admiral Peary's expeditions in the Arctic region.

The destroyer Peary is the nineteenth ship to be launched of a second batch of twenty-five destroyers being built by Cramp for the navy. It is 314 feet over all and thirty-one feet in breadth. It has a displacement of 1215, and is built to make thirty-five knots an hour.

This week we are making a special showing of light-weight Hosiery. The toes and heels are doubly reinforced for longer service and they have been most carefully fashioned to hold their shape during the long service the quality fabrics insure.

HARD-BOILED DRIVE ON A. E. F. DENIED

General Harts Grilled by House Committee as to American Police Work at Paris

SOLDIERS BEATEN, CHARGE

By the Associated Press

Washington, April 6.—Charges that "strong-armed, bloodthirsty police companies swept the streets of Paris, making wholesale arrests of American soldiers" were denied today before a House investigating committee by Brigadier General William W. Harts, former commander of American troops in the Paris district.

General Harts, who was ordered home from Germany, where he is chief of staff of the American forces, to testify before the committee, also denied that prisoners were put through a third degree to obtain confessions of crime, or that they "were beaten, threatened and inhumanly treated."

Representative Bland, who questioned the witness, read reports of specific cases in which officers were said to have assaulted soldiers and asked whether General Harts took action in those cases.

General Harts said he always followed recommendations of inspectors. "That's the trouble," Mr. Bland returned. "Hard-boiled, strong-armed practices were used constantly and no one was punished."

"Men with police experience were desired for work in clearing Paris," the general said. "The Thirtieth marines were doing police work when I arrived. They were unsatisfactory and were removed. Later companies were recruited from wounded men, not fit for active duty."

"The human element was left out of these companies," Mr. Bland declared. "They were a strong-armed, blood-thirsty bunch who were ordered to be hard-boiled."

"I object to the words bloodthirsty and strong-armed," said General Harts. Charges Use of Third Degree

Representative Bland charged that soldiers "were put through the third degree," but General Harts said he had not been informed of such conditions. "That's why you are before this committee," Bland replied. "I have always contended you didn't know conditions, but you will be informed."

Driver Hurt in Collision

Jesse Goddman, thirty-eight years old, 817 Line street, Camden, was severely injured today when a milk wagon that he was driving was struck by a trolley car at Locust street and Kaighn avenue, Camden.

He was taken to the Cooper Hospital where he is suffering with a crushed foot and cuts and bruises. Hundreds of bottles on the wagon were smashed and a portion of the street was covered with milk as a result of the collision.

We hope it is not necessary to tell you that we would not recommend you to something we would not wear ourselves.

Our friend was simply deceived by the tailoring, the fit, and the style.

To him it looked like a custom-tailored suit that had cost $175.

And it still looks that way, and the mates look that way, too.

For it wasn't a special order, but came off the daily bill of fare.

Right out of stock. Like yours! Spring Suits—Overcoats $35 to $80. PERRY & CO. 16th and Chestnut Sts.

138 HEARTS DART TARGET

Cupid Opens Barrage on Single-Blessed and Many Will Wed

Dan Cupid sends regular barrage fire of darts into Philadelphia's single blessed today and as a result sixty-nine couples sought success of the official "heart specialist" at the Marriage License Bureau in City Hall.

Licenses were issued to the following: Moses Meeniti, Mt. Carmel, Pa., and Rosina Vining, Mt. Carmel, Pa.

Frank Rosetti, Narberth, Pa., and Jennie Mariani, Ardmore, Pa.

John J. Gerber, 1517 S. 49th st., and Nellie I. Hirtleman, 8849 Webster st.

John C. Klotz, a retired grocer, ninety-four years old, died Sunday at his home, 2149 North Park avenue. He enjoyed good health until a week or two before his death.

Dr. Elmer E. Gibble, aged fifty-three years, a physician, of 733 West Erie avenue, died this morning at his home after a severe attack of pneumonia, from which he had been suffering since Wednesday last.

Charles C. Warren, 2623 N. 33d st., and Margaret M. Neil, 3418 Division st.

John T. Erick, Greenboro, N. C., and Elizabeth E. Murphy, Jr., 2827 N. 7th st.

Edmund P. Davier, 2429 N. Fairhill st., and Mabel G. Schuck, 2922 N. Franklin st.

Robert J. Killough, 4408 N. Woodstock st., and Donald A. Jellison, 701 S. 2d st., and Emma Samuel, 1212 D. St., and Clara Carl McEneaney, 2071 Myrtle st., and Clara Hart, 4677 Gracemont st.

Arthur R. Carmichael, 2946 Dickinson st., and Jennie R. Tollinger, 2614 Oakford st.

Charles E. Spang, 1814 Cambridge st., and Mary Rodgers, 312 League st.

Rudolph M. Wirtman, 221 Hanberry st., and Lottie Mullin, Gloucester, N. J.

William H. Allen, 1143 E. Columbia ave., and Fred H. Caldwell, 26th st., and Clara Cleveland Arline, 2939 Edgemoor st., and Pearl Schuch, 301 S. Linniger st.

William Allen, 173 W. Ontario st., and Clara Schuch, 301 S. Linniger st.

Adin C. Lavoock, 6211 Regent st., and Clarence H. Walker, Camden, N. J., and Mary E. Bell, 2350 N. 12th st.

Earl E. Mader, 2225 Sanson st., and Elizabeth M. Kasper, Bristol, Pa.

Charles D. Klotz, a retired grocer, ninety-four years old, died Sunday at his home, 2149 North Park avenue.

Dr. Elmer E. Gibble, aged fifty-three years, a physician, of 733 West Erie avenue, died this morning at his home after a severe attack of pneumonia, from which he had been suffering since Wednesday last.

Dr. Elmer E. Gibble was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania in the class of '90. He is survived by his wife and one son, Frank, both living at his home. The funeral will take place on Thursday.

TODAY and Tomorrow Only We Will Sell Women's $12 Fall Cordovan Calf Oxfords Special 2 Day Economy Price ONLY $8 TWO DAYS OFFER ONLY 16,800 Noises Per Hour from One Typewriter - Figure it out for yourself. Any good typist can average 70 words per minute, of 4 letters each. That is 280 noises per minute exclusive of spacing. Multiply this by 60 and you get 16,800 noises per hour.

STANERREK WE SUGGEST THAT YOU BECOME FAMILIAR WITH THE COPYRIGHTED FASHION PARK STANERREK TREATMENT WHICH HAS BEEN APPLIED TO MANY SUITS. THIS TREATMENT HAS A TENDENCY TO STRAIGHTEN UP A MAN'S BACK AND CHEST. THE EFFECT IS ERECT.

NBT $175? "No!" "What?" $60 "Great Scot!" "No, Perry's!"

That is the gist of a conversation with a New York clothing man who commented the other day on a new suit worn by one of the firm. We hope it is not necessary to tell you that we would not recommend you to something we would not wear ourselves.

Spring Suits—Overcoats $35 to $80. PERRY & CO. 16th and Chestnut Sts.

AMERICAN STEEL PULLEYS American Pulleys, for instance, combine fair price with first quality. We are always ready for an emergency call—and that's when the American's quick installation saves time and money.

J. Jackson & Co REALTORS Right near the Sears-Roebuck factory on the Roosevelt Boulevard, we have several tracts of land that should appeal to a Builder.

Walter G. Becker Himself 11th and Chestnut

J.B. Sheppard & Sons French Crepes (Imported) Lovely colors and the sort of quality that delights a woman's heart. For the dressy gowns for summer afternoons. $2.00 the yard

Whitman's Salted Nuts, Favors, Bon Bono to harmonize with the table decorations 1316 Chestnut St.

JACOB REED'S SONS 1424 - 26 CHESTNUT ST. THE MAN, A MAN'S BOOK ON DRESS, IS READY