Nancy Wynne Talks of An Interesting New York-Baltimore Engagement-She Tells of the Dougherty-Sinnickson Marriage of Yesterday

An engagement announced yesterday in Baltimore and New York is of interest here though neither the girl nor the man is a Philadelphian. The girl is Eleanor Carreil Daingerfield Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Carter, of Baltimore, and the man John Vernon Bouvier, 3d, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vernon Bouvier, 3d, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vernon Bouvier, 3d, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vernon Bouvier, 3d, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah J. Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah J. Sullivan, of 1910 Walnut street, will act as best man. The ushers will include Mr. Whitney Wright, Mr. John R. Fell, Mr. Alfred E. Sergeant, Mr. Philip S. P. Randolph, of 309 South Philip S. P. Randolph, of 309 South Philip S. P. Randolph, of 309 South Philip S. P. Jack Bouvier Vale. 1914, and is a is a graduate of Yale, 1914, and is a member of the Racquet, Tennis, Uni-versity and Yale Clubs of New York. During the war he was a lieutenant in the air service.

The Bouviers were one of the old French families to come to this country a century ago and they have held high positions in various callings here. Jack Rouvier's brother is Captain W. Sergeant Bouvier, and he has three sis-ters, Mrs. Phelan Beale, Maude and Michelle. Michel is a family name which has usually been inherited by the men in the family, but in this case a daughter was given the name, the "LE" being added, of course, to make it feminine.

IT SEEMS to me that the directors of the Children's Hospital have been very wise in bringing Adolf Bolm and his Ballet Intime here for a benefit per-formance for said hospital. Those of us who remember the wonderful weeks of Russian ballet at the Metropolitan several years ago will not miss a chance to see something of that same kind, which is to be given here next Tuesday night is to be given here next Tuesday night at the Academy of Music. The artistic combination for that evening will be what is known as the Little Symphony, under the direction of George Barrere, and the Ballet Intime, with Mr. Bolm as the principal artist. I think it is as the principal artist. I think it is going to be great.

Among the boxholders for the evening are Mrs. Livingston Biddle, Mrs. Tom Dolan, Mrs. George Crozer, Mrs. Horace Jenks, Mrs. Harry Thayer, Mrs. Morris Stroud, Jr., Mrs. Stanley G. Flagg, Jr., Mrs. Tony Geyelin, Mrs. Stacy Lloyd, Mrs. Effingham B. Morris, Mrs. Otis Skinner, Mrs. Harvey Sayen, Mrs. King Wainwright and many Wainwright and many

THOUGH I have seen them together I frequently of late, I really was sur-prised yesterday when I heard that Fanny Sinnickson and Harvey Dougher-ty had been married at 12:30 o'clock. Their engagement had not been au-nounced, you know, and so it really was surprise to most of us. I remember when Miss Betty Sinnickson was married to George Sasportas several summers ago, it was the same way; the engagement was not announced, simply the marriage. The Sinnicksons never have seemed to like any fuss and feathers about weddings. Fanny is the youngest of the daughters. Her mother, who died some years ago, was Miss Emma Rosen-garten, a sister of Miss Fanny Rosengarten, for whom the bride of yesterday was named, and of Mr. Joseph Rosengarten, Mr. Frank Rosengarten and Mr. George Rosengarten, all of this more fun to have to play with than a boy." So one day when Daddy told them that they had a little brother, they were not greatly pleased. "Oh!" said Mary, "we have so wanted a new sister." "That's too bad," said Daddy, "and here a month ago a baby girl was left at the Smiths and they said they wanted a boy. I tell you what," added he, "let's irade; we'll give the Smiths our boy and they can give us their girl." they can give us their girl."

"Oh, no, that wouldn't do at all."
said Jean, quickly, "we don't want a said sister, we want a new one."
