appointed to consider the subject, has called the Mayor's attention to section 10 of Article XVII of the charter, which provides that no liability shall be enforceable against the city "by any netion at law in equity or otherwise" unless the Council shall have made a previous appropriation to cover it.

The purpose of the budget article in the charter was to provide for a preliminary estimate of the expenditures for a year and to compel the city to live within the estimate. The first section directs that the estimate shall include news from the eastern lines was needed all expenditures of every kind which must be met out of the tax receipts. This seems to be broad enough to include the appropriations for the county departments and the Municipal Court. The only doubt concerns the constitutionality of the section.
