

MRS. WILSON MAKES A CHANGE FOR FRIDAY'S MARKET BASKET

Broiled Perch Is Something Different for Sunday Breakfast, Creamed Sweetbreads for Dinner and Savory Eggs for Supper

By MRS. M. A. WILSON (Copyright, 1920, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson. All rights reserved.) THIS is just the season of the year when the family appetite is most capricious.

THE MENU BREAKFAST

- Baked Prunes and Cranberries Broiled Perch Watercress Garnish Potatoes a la Princess Clover-Leaf Biscuits Coffee

DINNER

- Savory Tomato Soup Salted Peanuts Radishes Creamed Sweetbreads, Flemish Style Peas a la Dowling Asparagus Lettuce Peach Dumplings Coffee

SUPPER

- Sardine Canapés Savory Eggs Macaroni au Gratin Lettuce Tea

The market basket will require one pound of prunes, one-half pound of cranberries, two pounds of perch, one-quarter cup of potatoes, one bunch of watercress, one bunch of leeks, two bunches of scallions, one bunch of radishes, four bunches of peas, one head of salad, one bunch of asparagus, one-half pound of dried peas, one cup of coffee, one-half pound of peanuts, one box of sardines, one package of macaroni, two large sweetbreads, six French or Viscon rolls, baked prunes and cranberries.

running water. When cold, remove the bones and fatty particles. Now cut crust from rolls and carefully scoop out the crumbs, making a bread casserole. Brush inside of rolls lightly with good salad oil and place in oven to brown.

When ready to serve dinner, place two and one-half cups of milk, two grated onions, one-half cup of flour, stir to dissolve flour. Bring mixture to a boil. Cook three minutes. Now add:

- One-half cup of finely chopped parsley, one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of paprika, Juice of one-half lemon, Two well-beaten egg yolks.

Rest hard to mix and now add three hard-boiled eggs cut into quarters and the sweetbreads cut into inch pieces. Heat to the boiling point and fill into the prepared rolls. Dust with paprika and place in oven for five minutes.

Peas a la Dowling. Wash and soak over night one-half pound of dried peas. In morning cover with cold water and cook until tender, taking care not to have much water when nearly cooked.

Now drain; rub peas through colander into bowl. Season with two tablespoons of butter, one teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of onion extract. Heat with fork to blend. Pile high in vegetable dish and pour two tablespoons of melted butter over top. Serve.

Savory Eggs. Mince fine one bunch of leeks, four onions, three bunches of parsley. Place in saucpan six tablespoons of bacon fat. Add herbs and cook slowly until tender. Now add one tablespoon of vinegar, three tablespoons of tomato catsup, one cup of cream sauce.

Stir to blend. Now grease a custard cup well and put two tablespoons of sauce in a cup. Break in egg, then add two tablespoons of the prepared sauce. Set cups in pan of warm water and bake in moderate oven for twenty minutes.

Mrs. Wilson Answers Queries

Dear Mrs. Wilson—Every evening I take great pleasure in reading your valuable recipes, for which I thank you.

I have a quantity of dried mushrooms (Caper). I do not know how to use them. Would you kindly tell me? MRS. N. S. D.

Wash well, soak in cold water for one and one-half hours, parboil and use as for fresh mushrooms.

Dear Mrs. Wilson—Will you kindly give me recipes for honeysuckle and cookies? MRS. E. W. See recipes February 23.

Mrs. N. M. and Mrs. W. H.—Received your letter too late to have reach you in time; come again and allow two weeks for answer.

Weaver Store Orders So easy to use. Buy everything for the family at your store. Call, phone or write S. R. WEAVER 1112 Chestnut St.

Ice Saves Worry. "Oh, my! Butter melted, milk soured, fruit rotting, meat spoiled, cheese oily! Was ever a woman so put about?" All your own fault, dear lady. You tried to be economical. Now see the results.

2 Days—Fri. & Sat. NO MORE. We Offer a Newly Arrived Military Model Women's Cordovan Calf $12 Oxfords At a Special Price. Beautifully made in a shade of dark brown so in demand this Spring.

Ask for Mrs. Morrison's Puddings. A healthful food for the kiddies as well as a tasty dessert for the whole family. Popular Flavors: Chocolate, Golden Vanilla. At Your Grocer's.

Please Tell Me What to Do

By CYNTHIA

Is This Kind, "L. of E."? Dear Cynthia—One of your correspondents, who signs herself "Experienced," requests an answer from some of the readers of your columns.

To begin the subject, "Experienced" claims all fellows like to make fools out of girls. Does "Experienced" ever think of the girls who make fools out of us fellows? We are like the proverbial fool and his money. All girls think of at this present age is to get some poor simp and fleece him for a good time, and when he can't show them a good time any longer, it is "too long, kid," and they hunt up another. Now, in regard to kissing, this kissing business is what I call puppy love; nothing to it. In fact, it is a sample of weak-mindedness, soft stuff, fickleness. You say you would have died for this man. In what manner would you have given your life for him?

Would you have taken him for better or for worse? Would you have made a home for him? Would you stand by him if he should meet with reverses, if he got down financially, would you get a new suit, and help him get on his feet? Or would you hunt some corner and sit down and bemoan your fate, and wonder why you ever married such a man? All these questions I ask you are the questions of true love. You know, "Experienced," that they all spring that stuff about dying for each other, and after marriage they are trying to knock each other's head off. Sit back and wait, you say. Yes, there are good women and men, but how hard to find them. Fight out of every ten girls nowadays, so far as making a home for a man and being a helpmate to him are concerned, are not worth powder enough to blow their own heads off. While there may be girls of good morals, honest and good companions to go around with, so far as marriage is concerned, they would never marry a man like you.

No, "Experienced," don't make a fool of yourself, and don't advise other girls to do it; there are too many among you now. You want a man to be a man; then you girls or women act as women should act.

A man generally pays a good price for a good article, but a poor article is paid for accordingly. The good girls of today are the old-fashioned kind, who don't sit in a car and puff out their chests, but make their faces look like Indians on a war path; who don't wear dresses up to their knees; who will enjoy and appreciate a fellow who makes a man as a $2 or $2.50 musical comedy, and who are never throwing out hints for a feed nor asking "Where are we going next week? Lots of them have the nerve to ask a fellow: "Where do we go from here?" The kind of girls who sensible fellows are looking for are not the jazz baby, nor the doll, nor the kissing bug.

Write to Washington. Dear Madam—Could you kindly advise me through your column as to where I would have to write for permission to have my aged mother, who lives in Germany, come into this country? My mother is a widow and has nobody but myself. I am an American citizen.

You will have to write to the Immigration Bureau in Washington, D. C., for instructions in this matter. It is very difficult to arrange this, for it is necessary to get a passport and have it issued by a consul. Consuls are rather hard to find nowadays in Germany, you know. However, the Immigration Bureau will tell you just what you can do and how to do it.

THE ? CLUB. How would some of these names do: The Friendship Circle, the Leisure Hour, Playtime Club, the Civil Social Circle (only you could spell them with an S). You might use blue, the color of loyalty, and white, the color of purity, for your colors, and let your motto be "Loyalty and Purity." You could take "Friendship and Fun," "Good Times, Good Manners and Good Sports," or "Happiness and Health" for your motto. You might get more ideas by requesting each member to submit a name, color and motto and choosing the best.

Dear Madam—Please tell me a suitable name for a social club of boys and girls. What color and motto would be suitable for such a club?

That seemed to be about all he could do. The spark plugs seemed to be right, the noise was perfectly proper when he opened those little spigot affairs on the cylinders—petcocks, are they? Automobiles have such queer names for their parts. Finally he discovered that something or other had gone dry. There was no grease on it, and it would have miles from a garage, and no cars seemed to be going their way.

Then the woman in the car had a "hunch." One of those "hunches" that women get. Without a word she opened her handbag, pulling out a large tube she handed it to her husband. "Would it do?" she asked. He tried it. It would do. The car moved on smoothly, its fractions parts lubricated by delicately scented complexion cream. Their trip was saved.

NOW, who in the world would have thought of that but a woman? In the first place, a man wouldn't be carrying cold cream. He might have shaving cream for an automobile? No, indeed. And, in the second place, the two ideas of automobile grease and shaving cream would never get together in his mind. Anyhow, perhaps shaving cream wouldn't lubricate.

The gentleman who said that women aren't inventors was all wrong. Why, in one day a woman makes three or four inventions. Perhaps it would take longer

The Woman's Exchange

Woman Suffrage

Dear Madam—Kindly answer in your column the dates woman suffrage movement was first begun in the United States of America; also in England. Did any other country introduce it previously to above-named ones? E. G. G.

The end of the Revolution marks the beginning of the campaign for woman suffrage, but it was not until 1848 that the first convention was held. England also started in 1847. The women of England were not denied the franchise until 1928, however. The first address on the subject was made in 1851 by the East India Company. The Scandinavians were the first Europeans to grant suffrage, the Finnish women gaining it as early as 1863.

Name for a Club. Dear Madam—Please tell me a suitable name for a social club of boys and girls. What color and motto would be suitable for such a club?

That seemed to be about all he could do. The spark plugs seemed to be right, the noise was perfectly proper when he opened those little spigot affairs on the cylinders—petcocks, are they? Automobiles have such queer names for their parts. Finally he discovered that something or other had gone dry. There was no grease on it, and it would have miles from a garage, and no cars seemed to be going their way.

Then the woman in the car had a "hunch." One of those "hunches" that women get. Without a word she opened her handbag, pulling out a large tube she handed it to her husband. "Would it do?" she asked. He tried it. It would do. The car moved on smoothly, its fractions parts lubricated by delicately scented complexion cream. Their trip was saved.

NOW, who in the world would have thought of that but a woman? In the first place, a man wouldn't be carrying cold cream. He might have shaving cream for an automobile? No, indeed. And, in the second place, the two ideas of automobile grease and shaving cream would never get together in his mind. Anyhow, perhaps shaving cream wouldn't lubricate.

The gentleman who said that women aren't inventors was all wrong. Why, in one day a woman makes three or four inventions. Perhaps it would take longer

Dear Madam—Could you kindly advise me through your column as to where I would have to write for permission to have my aged mother, who lives in Germany, come into this country? My mother is a widow and has nobody but myself. I am an American citizen.

You will have to write to the Immigration Bureau in Washington, D. C., for instructions in this matter. It is very difficult to arrange this, for it is necessary to get a passport and have it issued by a consul. Consuls are rather hard to find nowadays in Germany, you know. However, the Immigration Bureau will tell you just what you can do and how to do it.

THE ? CLUB. How would some of these names do: The Friendship Circle, the Leisure Hour, Playtime Club, the Civil Social Circle (only you could spell them with an S). You might use blue, the color of loyalty, and white, the color of purity, for your colors, and let your motto be "Loyalty and Purity." You could take "Friendship and Fun," "Good Times, Good Manners and Good Sports," or "Happiness and Health" for your motto. You might get more ideas by requesting each member to submit a name, color and motto and choosing the best.

Dear Madam—Please tell me a suitable name for a social club of boys and girls. What color and motto would be suitable for such a club?

That seemed to be about all he could do. The spark plugs seemed to be right, the noise was perfectly proper when he opened those little spigot affairs on the cylinders—petcocks, are they? Automobiles have such queer names for their parts. Finally he discovered that something or other had gone dry. There was no grease on it, and it would have miles from a garage, and no cars seemed to be going their way.

Then the woman in the car had a "hunch." One of those "hunches" that women get. Without a word she opened her handbag, pulling out a large tube she handed it to her husband. "Would it do?" she asked. He tried it. It would do. The car moved on smoothly, its fractions parts lubricated by delicately scented complexion cream. Their trip was saved.

NOW, who in the world would have thought of that but a woman? In the first place, a man wouldn't be carrying cold cream. He might have shaving cream for an automobile? No, indeed. And, in the second place, the two ideas of automobile grease and shaving cream would never get together in his mind. Anyhow, perhaps shaving cream wouldn't lubricate.

The gentleman who said that women aren't inventors was all wrong. Why, in one day a woman makes three or four inventions. Perhaps it would take longer

Dear Madam—Could you kindly advise me through your column as to where I would have to write for permission to have my aged mother, who lives in Germany, come into this country? My mother is a widow and has nobody but myself. I am an American citizen.

You will have to write to the Immigration Bureau in Washington, D. C., for instructions in this matter. It is very difficult to arrange this, for it is necessary to get a passport and have it issued by a consul. Consuls are rather hard to find nowadays in Germany, you know. However, the Immigration Bureau will tell you just what you can do and how to do it.

THE ? CLUB. How would some of these names do: The Friendship Circle, the Leisure Hour, Playtime Club, the Civil Social Circle (only you could spell them with an S). You might use blue, the color of loyalty, and white, the color of purity, for your colors, and let your motto be "Loyalty and Purity." You could take "Friendship and Fun," "Good Times, Good Manners and Good Sports," or "Happiness and Health" for your motto. You might get more ideas by requesting each member to submit a name, color and motto and choosing the best.

Dear Madam—Please tell me a suitable name for a social club of boys and girls. What color and motto would be suitable for such a club?

That seemed to be about all he could do. The spark plugs seemed to be right, the noise was perfectly proper when he opened those little spigot affairs on the cylinders—petcocks, are they? Automobiles have such queer names for their parts. Finally he discovered that something or other had gone dry. There was no grease on it, and it would have miles from a garage, and no cars seemed to be going their way.

Then the woman in the car had a "hunch." One of those "hunches" that women get. Without a word she opened her handbag, pulling out a large tube she handed it to her husband. "Would it do?" she asked. He tried it. It would do. The car moved on smoothly, its fractions parts lubricated by delicately scented complexion cream. Their trip was saved.

NOW, who in the world would have thought of that but a woman? In the first place, a man wouldn't be carrying cold cream. He might have shaving cream for an automobile? No, indeed. And, in the second place, the two ideas of automobile grease and shaving cream would never get together in his mind. Anyhow, perhaps shaving cream wouldn't lubricate.

The gentleman who said that women aren't inventors was all wrong. Why, in one day a woman makes three or four inventions. Perhaps it would take longer

Dear Madam—Could you kindly advise me through your column as to where I would have to write for permission to have my aged mother, who lives in Germany, come into this country? My mother is a widow and has nobody but myself. I am an American citizen.

You will have to write to the Immigration Bureau in Washington, D. C., for instructions in this matter. It is very difficult to arrange this, for it is necessary to get a passport and have it issued by a consul. Consuls are rather hard to find nowadays in Germany, you know. However, the Immigration Bureau will tell you just what you can do and how to do it.

THE ? CLUB. How would some of these names do: The Friendship Circle, the Leisure Hour, Playtime Club, the Civil Social Circle (only you could spell them with an S). You might use blue, the color of loyalty, and white, the color of purity, for your colors, and let your motto be "Loyalty and Purity." You could take "Friendship and Fun," "Good Times, Good Manners and Good Sports," or "Happiness and Health" for your motto. You might get more ideas by requesting each member to submit a name, color and motto and choosing the best.

Dear Madam—Please tell me a suitable name for a social club of boys and girls. What color and motto would be suitable for such a club?

That seemed to be about all he could do. The spark plugs seemed to be right, the noise was perfectly proper when he opened those little spigot affairs on the cylinders—petcocks, are they? Automobiles have such queer names for their parts. Finally he discovered that something or other had gone dry. There was no grease on it, and it would have miles from a garage, and no cars seemed to be going their way.

Then the woman in the car had a "hunch." One of those "hunches" that women get. Without a word she opened her handbag, pulling out a large tube she handed it to her husband. "Would it do?" she asked. He tried it. It would do. The car moved on smoothly, its fractions parts lubricated by delicately scented complexion cream. Their trip was saved.

NOW, who in the world would have thought of that but a woman? In the first place, a man wouldn't be carrying cold cream. He might have shaving cream for an automobile? No, indeed. And, in the second place, the two ideas of automobile grease and shaving cream would never get together in his mind. Anyhow, perhaps shaving cream wouldn't lubricate.

The gentleman who said that women aren't inventors was all wrong. Why, in one day a woman makes three or four inventions. Perhaps it would take longer

Dear Madam—Could you kindly advise me through your column as to where I would have to write for permission to have my aged mother, who lives in Germany, come into this country? My mother is a widow and has nobody but myself. I am an American citizen.

You will have to write to the Immigration Bureau in Washington, D. C., for instructions in this matter. It is very difficult to arrange this, for it is necessary to get a passport and have it issued by a consul. Consuls are rather hard to find nowadays in Germany, you know. However, the Immigration Bureau will tell you just what you can do and how to do it.

THE ? CLUB. How would some of these names do: The Friendship Circle, the Leisure Hour, Playtime Club, the Civil Social Circle (only you could spell them with an S). You might use blue, the color of loyalty, and white, the color of purity, for your colors, and let your motto be "Loyalty and Purity." You could take "Friendship and Fun," "Good Times, Good Manners and Good Sports," or "Happiness and Health" for your motto. You might get more ideas by requesting each member to submit a name, color and motto and choosing the best.

Dear Madam—Please tell me a suitable name for a social club of boys and girls. What color and motto would be suitable for such a club?

A MAN ONCE REMARKED THAT WOMEN DO NOT INVENT

He Was Badly Mistaken—Women Are Inventing Little Short Cuts and Conveniences in Housework Every Day. They Don't Show, That's All

SOMEbody said one time that women seldom if ever invent anything. And then somebody else came right back and remarked that they often did, and proved it with a list of inventions made by women. It's safe to believe that the first somebody was a man and that the second somebody was a woman.

They were getting along beautifully, when something suddenly went wrong. Husband got out, of course, opened the hood, and looked wise.

That seemed to be about all he could do. The spark plugs seemed to be right, the noise was perfectly proper when he opened those little spigot affairs on the cylinders—petcocks, are they? Automobiles have such queer names for their parts. Finally he discovered that something or other had gone dry. There was no grease on it, and it would have miles from a garage, and no cars seemed to be going their way.

Then the woman in the car had a "hunch." One of those "hunches" that women get. Without a word she opened her handbag, pulling out a large tube she handed it to her husband. "Would it do?" she asked. He tried it. It would do. The car moved on smoothly, its fractions parts lubricated by delicately scented complexion cream. Their trip was saved.

NOW, who in the world would have thought of that but a woman? In the first place, a man wouldn't be carrying cold cream. He might have shaving cream for an automobile? No, indeed. And, in the second place, the two ideas of automobile grease and shaving cream would never get together in his mind. Anyhow, perhaps shaving cream wouldn't lubricate.

The gentleman who said that women aren't inventors was all wrong. Why, in one day a woman makes three or four inventions. Perhaps it would take longer

Dear Madam—Could you kindly advise me through your column as to where I would have to write for permission to have my aged mother, who lives in Germany, come into this country? My mother is a widow and has nobody but myself. I am an American citizen.

You will have to write to the Immigration Bureau in Washington, D. C., for instructions in this matter. It is very difficult to arrange this, for it is necessary to get a passport and have it issued by a consul. Consuls are rather hard to find nowadays in Germany, you know. However, the Immigration Bureau will tell you just what you can do and how to do it.

THE ? CLUB. How would some of these names do: The Friendship Circle, the Leisure Hour, Playtime Club, the Civil Social Circle (only you could spell them with an S). You might use blue, the color of loyalty, and white, the color of purity, for your colors, and let your motto be "Loyalty and Purity." You could take "Friendship and Fun," "Good Times, Good Manners and Good Sports," or "Happiness and Health" for your motto. You might get more ideas by requesting each member to submit a name, color and motto and choosing the best.

Dear Madam—Please tell me a suitable name for a social club of boys and girls. What color and motto would be suitable for such a club?

That seemed to be about all he could do. The spark plugs seemed to be right, the noise was perfectly proper when he opened those little spigot affairs on the cylinders—petcocks, are they? Automobiles have such queer names for their parts. Finally he discovered that something or other had gone dry. There was no grease on it, and it would have miles from a garage, and no cars seemed to be going their way.

Then the woman in the car had a "hunch." One of those "hunches" that women get. Without a word she opened her handbag, pulling out a large tube she handed it to her husband. "Would it do?" she asked. He tried it. It would do. The car moved on smoothly, its fractions parts lubricated by delicately scented complexion cream. Their trip was saved.

NOW, who in the world would have thought of that but a woman? In the first place, a man wouldn't be carrying cold cream. He might have shaving cream for an automobile? No, indeed. And, in the second place, the two ideas of automobile grease and shaving cream would never get together in his mind. Anyhow, perhaps shaving cream wouldn't lubricate.

The gentleman who said that women aren't inventors was all wrong. Why, in one day a woman makes three or four inventions. Perhaps it would take longer

Dear Madam—Could you kindly advise me through your column as to where I would have to write for permission to have my aged mother, who lives in Germany, come into this country? My mother is a widow and has nobody but myself. I am an American citizen.

You will have to write to the Immigration Bureau in Washington, D. C., for instructions in this matter. It is very difficult to arrange this, for it is necessary to get a passport and have it issued by a consul. Consuls are rather hard to find nowadays in Germany, you know. However, the Immigration Bureau will tell you just what you can do and how to do it.

THE ? CLUB. How would some of these names do: The Friendship Circle, the Leisure Hour, Playtime Club, the Civil Social Circle (only you could spell them with an S). You might use blue, the color of loyalty, and white, the color of purity, for your colors, and let your motto be "Loyalty and Purity." You could take "Friendship and Fun," "Good Times, Good Manners and Good Sports," or "Happiness and Health" for your motto. You might get more ideas by requesting each member to submit a name, color and motto and choosing the best.

Dear Madam—Please tell me a suitable name for a social club of boys and girls. What color and motto would be suitable for such a club?

That seemed to be about all he could do. The spark plugs seemed to be right, the noise was perfectly proper when he opened those little spigot affairs on the cylinders—petcocks, are they? Automobiles have such queer names for their parts. Finally he discovered that something or other had gone dry. There was no grease on it, and it would have miles from a garage, and no cars seemed to be going their way.

Then the woman in the car had a "hunch." One of those "hunches" that women get. Without a word she opened her handbag, pulling out a large tube she handed it to her husband. "Would it do?" she asked. He tried it. It would do. The car moved on smoothly, its fractions parts lubricated by delicately scented complexion cream. Their trip was saved.

NOW, who in the world would have thought of that but a woman? In the first place, a man wouldn't be carrying cold cream. He might have shaving cream for an automobile? No, indeed. And, in the second place, the two ideas of automobile grease and shaving cream would never get together in his mind. Anyhow, perhaps shaving cream wouldn't lubricate.

The gentleman who said that women aren't inventors was all wrong. Why, in one day a woman makes three or four inventions. Perhaps it would take longer

Dear Madam—Could you kindly advise me through your column as to where I would have to write for permission to have my aged mother, who lives in Germany, come into this country? My mother is a widow and has nobody but myself. I am an American citizen.

You will have to write to the Immigration Bureau in Washington, D. C., for instructions in this matter. It is very difficult to arrange this, for it is necessary to get a passport and have it issued by a consul. Consuls are rather hard to find nowadays in Germany, you know. However, the Immigration Bureau will tell you just what you can do and how to do it.

THE ? CLUB. How would some of these names do: The Friendship Circle, the Leisure Hour, Playtime Club, the Civil Social Circle (only you could spell them with an S). You might use blue, the color of loyalty, and white, the color of purity, for your colors, and let your motto be "Loyalty and Purity." You could take "Friendship and Fun," "Good Times, Good Manners and Good Sports," or "Happiness and Health" for your motto. You might get more ideas by requesting each member to submit a name, color and motto and choosing the best.

Dear Madam—Please tell me a suitable name for a social club of boys and girls. What color and motto would be suitable for such a club?

That seemed to be about all he could do. The spark plugs seemed to be right, the noise was perfectly proper when he opened those little spigot affairs on the cylinders—petcocks, are they? Automobiles have such queer names for their parts. Finally he discovered that something or other had gone dry. There was no grease on it, and it would have miles from a garage, and no cars seemed to be going their way.

Then the woman in the car had a "hunch." One of those "hunches" that women get. Without a word she opened her handbag, pulling out a large tube she handed it to her husband. "Would it do?" she asked. He tried it. It would do. The car moved on smoothly, its fractions parts lubricated by delicately scented complexion cream. Their trip was saved.

NOW, who in the world would have thought of that but a woman? In the first place, a man wouldn't be carrying cold cream. He might have shaving cream for an automobile? No, indeed. And, in the second place, the two ideas of automobile grease and shaving cream would never get together in his mind. Anyhow, perhaps shaving cream wouldn't lubricate.

The gentleman who said that women aren't inventors was all wrong. Why, in one day a woman makes three or four inventions. Perhaps it would take longer

Dear Madam—Could you kindly advise me through your column as to where I would have to write for permission to have my aged mother, who lives in Germany, come into this country? My mother is a widow and has nobody but myself. I am an American citizen.

You will have to write to the Immigration Bureau in Washington, D. C., for instructions in this matter. It is very difficult to arrange this, for it is necessary to get a passport and have it issued by a consul. Consuls are rather hard to find nowadays in Germany, you know. However, the Immigration Bureau will tell you just what you can do and how to do it.

THE ? CLUB. How would some of these names do: The Friendship Circle, the Leisure Hour, Playtime Club, the Civil Social Circle (only you could spell them with an S). You might use blue, the color of loyalty, and white, the color of purity, for your colors, and let your motto be "Loyalty and Purity." You could take "Friendship and Fun," "Good Times, Good Manners and Good Sports," or "Happiness and Health" for your motto. You might get more ideas by requesting each member to submit a name, color and motto and choosing the best.

Dear Madam—Please tell me a suitable name for a social club of boys and girls. What color and motto would be suitable for such a club?

That seemed to be about all he could do. The spark plugs seemed to be right, the noise was perfectly proper when he opened those little spigot affairs on the cylinders—petcocks, are they? Automobiles have such queer names for their parts. Finally he discovered that something or other had gone dry. There was no grease on it, and it would have miles from a garage, and no cars seemed to be going their way.

Then the woman in the car had a "hunch." One of those "hunches" that women get. Without a word she opened her handbag, pulling out a large tube she handed it to her husband. "Would it do?" she asked. He tried it. It would do. The car moved on smoothly, its fractions parts lubricated by delicately scented complexion cream. Their trip was saved.

COLE Seven-Passenger Touring; special body and upholstery; 6 tires; full factory equipment; attractive price. Lexington Motor Company of Pennsylvania, 851-53 North Broad St.

Your Housekeeping Will Be a Pleasure With an OHIO-TUEC Electric Cleaner. Easy and economical to operate. IT CLEANS. See it work at:

Central Electric & Lark Co., 12 North 18th Street. S. A. Epstein Co., 152 N. 9th Street. Albert Gentel, 1608 Columbia Ave. Albert E. Jester, 2108 S. Broad St. Charles W. Koster, 2028 W. York St. Nicholson Electric Co., 6201 Christian Street. Geo. L. Purvis, 4747 Mather St. Seville Electric Co., 328 S. 82d St. Charles D. Sileo, 2761 Orthodox St. Thayer Electric Shop, 17th and Erie. A. E. Wiegand & Co., Germantown and Chestnut Streets. Wright & Wright, 2215 N. Broad St.

For detailed information write or phone today to H. C. ROBERTS ELECTRIC SUPPLY CO. Wholesale Distributors PHILADELPHIA

Ma don't bother about getting me any other lunch when she's got POST TOASTIES in the house -says Bobby Sold by Grocers Everywhere. Made by Postum Cereal Co. Inc. Battle Creek, Mich.

KINNEY'S—The Rising Sun Which Dispel the Darkness of High Prices

VALUES That Outshine Competition. Illustration of a rising sun over a landscape.

Our Big Store Is Already Overcrowded With Spring and Summer Shoes for the Whole Family!

Table listing various shoe models and prices. Latest Arrivals for Women: Patent Leather Oxfords $5.98, White Canvas Oxford $2.98, Baby Louis Patent $6.98, Women's White Canvas Oxford $3.49, Same in White Canvas Pump $2.98, Mat Kid $6.98, Women's Patent Leather Oxfords $4.98, Women's mat kid high-heeled pumps $3.98, Women's black or brown kid high-heeled oxfords $5.98, Back Cal. Oxford military heel perforated tip $4.98. Children's Low Shoes: Children's two-eyel tie, high heel, long plain toe, Goodyear sole, white canvas Oxford, medium heel $2.98, Same in Pump $2.79, Mat Kid "The" instep tie, high Louis heel, All Styles of High Shoes: Women's patent beaver top lace, medium heel, Women's patent leather, medium heel, gray cloth top $6.49, Women's kid comfort shoes $3.98. Children's High Shoes: Children's guilford lace, size 5 1/2 to 6 1/2 $1.98, Children's brown lace, size 5 1/2 to 6 1/2 $2.98, Growing Girl Patent Leather plain Pump, size