

PARTIAL DIVORCE TO PASTOR'S WIFE

Chancellor Sustains Plea of Mrs. William D. Parry, Formerly of Philadelphia

DESERTION WAS CHARGED

Mrs. Clara Hutchins Parry has received a partial decree of divorce from the Rev. William Davidson Parry, former pastor of the Girard Avenue Unitarian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Parry now live in Atlantic City.

The decree was granted by Chancellor Walker at Trenton yesterday on the charge of desertion.

Mr. Parry was formerly a Methodist minister, but severed relations with the New Jersey Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church two years ago. At that time Mr. Parry said there were certain questions in his mind theological, and he felt he could no longer be loyal to his vows as a Methodist Episcopal minister without the sacrifice of certain convictions.

According to the report of the special master in chancery, the clergyman became tired of his wife and there was constant disorder in the family.

The report also stated that the clergyman had declared his wife's ideals were too high for him and he could not live up to them.

1064 of Them Priced at Only $4.15, $7.25, $9 and $10.50

Every woman who knows fashions knows that hand-made lingerie blouses are the blouses for Spring and Summer. And what a lovely fashion it is—sheer, soft materials coupled with fine needlework!

This collection of 1064 blouses has just arrived from Porto Rico, but owing to an accident of transportation some of the blouses are somewhat soiled. This has brought the prices down on the entire lot, though there are many perfectly fresh waists in the gathering. All are of sheer, white batiste, beautifully made entirely by hand.

Three styles are sketched.

At $4.15
Eight models, mostly with roll collars, hemstitching and tucks. There is one slipover model that is very youthful.

At $7.25
A very wide variety of styles in both high and low-neck blouses. Some are ruffled, some show corded seams and real fillet or Irish picot edges rippling frills. Scalloped ruffles and little colored squares add delightful touches.

At $9
Here is a slip-on blouse bound with color and trimmed with inset squares of color, and charming, frilly blouses trimmed with baby Irish and fillet edging. About a dozen styles for your choosing.

At $10.50
Wide edgings and insertions of fillet lace, dainty touches of Valenciennes or baby Irish trim these beautiful blouses. Every point about them is exquisite, from the tiny beading in the seams to the wee buttons that fasten them.

(NOTE.—In each of these groups are simple blouses that are in excellent taste for women in mourning.)
