

UPILS PAY TRIBUTE TO DEAD POLICEMAN

Children Send Flowers and Visit Home of Patrolman Price, Killed in Accident

RAISED BY CORTELYOU

Hundreds of school children made their way to the home of Patrolman John Price today, prior to funeral services for their friend and protector. Patrolman Price was killed at the crossing at Germantown avenue and 15th street, on Monday, when caught between two trolley cars. That was the second time he had stood to guide children on their way to and from school.

Badge Done in Flowers

One of the most beautiful of the roses was from the children of the Alford G. Harmer School, the German-American Combined School and the German-American High School. It consisted of a policeman's badge of pink and white roses three and a half feet in height and two feet in width. It had a white border of white roses, on which was the figure 14, that of Price's district, as done in pink roses.

FIELD OF HONOR PLANNED FOR CITY

Commissioners to Hear Scheme for Building Big Stadium in Fairmount Park

WOULD ALSO INCLUDE HALL

A proposal to give Philadelphia a Field of Honor, in memory of her sons and daughters in all the wars, that will become one of the symbols of the city, will come up before a meeting of Park commissioners, councilmen, and representatives of various societies tomorrow afternoon.

It is planned to make the new project, which includes the building of one of the largest stadiums in the country and a Hall of Honor, a feature that will rank with Madison Square Garden in New York, Chicago's Coliseum and the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco.

The ground chosen as the tentative site of the Field of Honor is in Fairmount Park, east of the Schuylkill river and 500 yards north of the Girard avenue bridge. It includes fifty-three acres and is at present known as "the Cliffs."

Within this space would be erected a stadium to hold 30,000 persons and a Hall of Honor. The stadium could be used for Olympic games, football, soccer and any sporting feature. It would be a great stimulus to the natural sporting propensities of the city, which is one of the first in the country as a home of outdoor events, and a fine national advertisement for Philadelphia. The Hall of Honor would be used for the headquarters of the different patriotic societies of the city, and would be suitable for shows and conventions. The transportation facilities for handling great crowds are superior at the spot chosen to any other place in the city. The trolley facilities are excellent and the roads and parking places for motors are adequate. It is near the place where the greatest crowds gather for the boat races every spring.

If the plan goes through, work on the new project will be started within a month. This will give Philadelphia the jump on New York, which is planning to build a Hall of Honor on Pershing square, and Chicago, which is contemplating a stadium on Michigan drive. The building of the stadium in Fairmount Park would take a little less than a year.

The completion of this stadium would mean that Philadelphia could bid for the 1924 Olympic games. Another good feature of the stadium would be that an adequate field would be provided for the big games played by the University of Pennsylvania football team.

That message is now about a year old, and its name is Jean Mars. And the letter from Hatzboro telling of the message from Mars came from Jean's father, E. F. Mars, Jr., who is a conductor on Route 21, P. R. T.

STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER

FOR FRIDAY, APRIL TWENTY-THIRD HOURS NINE TO FIVE-THIRTY O'CLOCK

We Can't Defy the Law of Supply and Demand, but we can and do Save Men Money on Good Clothing by Early and Skillful Operations.

Three of the largest and best manufacturers in America confine their lines of Clothing to this one Store in this city, and several others sell to us when the quality and value make their product attractive—and, naturally, they exert themselves to have their Clothing represented in our stock. Supply and demand regulate prices and we cannot govern cost of raw materials nor shortage of skilled labor—both of which have increased more than 200 per cent. in five years. But our close relations with great manufacturers have enabled us to anticipate advancing costs during these years, and we own our present stocks at much less than their replacement value. Comparison will convince you that THESE VALUES ARE REALLY EXTRAORDINARY:

500 Men's and Young Men's Suits $36.00
Worsteds, unfinished worsteds, cassimeres and chevots in neat dark mixtures and plain shades of blue, brown and gray.

Young Men's Smart Flannel Suits $42.50
Trim single- and double-breasted styles, of blue, brown and green flannel. The coats combine well with white flannel trousers.

Suits, with Two Pairs of Trousers $47.50
"Alco" Suits of gray worsteds and blue serge, in conservative styles, and other excellent fabrics in styles for young men. All proportions.

Men's "Alco" Suits of Unfinished Worsteds $48.50
Correct single- and double-breasted effects, of fine worsted in the popular dark blue shades.

"Alco" Suits of Smooth Worsteds $62.50
Conservative styles, of this fine-texture fabric, and in an excellent selection of "stout" as well as regular sizes.

7 Cents to the Coast

Under the present postage rates, it costs seven cents to mail one copy of the April Delineator to a subscriber on the Pacific coast or in the "mountain states."

The transportation charges, therefore, are almost half the retail price charged for a single copy.

The Post Office Department will deliver a Delineator next door to the Butterick Building for three cents.

Publishers will have to come to charging more for their magazines in the West.

The matter naturally is of chief concern to our subscribers west of Denver and to the Post Office Department.

Should not the principle of uniform letter postage throughout the nation apply also to second class rates for magazines and newspapers?

Is a geographical tax good for the nation?
