

DANGER OF PANIC SMALL, BURKE SAYS

"Wear Old Clothes and Don't Lose Heads," Is Advice of Treasurer of U. S.

NO DROP IN PRICES NEAR

"There will be no panic in America if the people keep their heads," John Burke, United States treasurer, said today in discussing the present inflation of the currency and the return of the nation's finances to a normal basis. Mr. Burke spoke last night at the annual dinner of the Philadelphia Credit Men's Association. Mr. Burke said there would be no money stringency in the United States for some time, because of the present inflation of money and credit.

"When Europe regains her feet the so-called boom in this country will end," he said, "but there is no danger of a panic if the people will keep their heads. American manufacturers must anticipate the letting up of Europe's demand for our commodities."

All Depends on Europe

"No one knows how long the present high prices in this country will continue. But these prices depend on the raw material situation, which in turn depends on the European situation."

"The poise and common sense of the American people will control the financial situation. We have a great amount of the world's gold, which will aid in averting a panic when the readjustment period arrives."

"The financial situation will adjust itself eventually. The best way is a gradual return to normal conditions."

"One of the main reasons for the high cost of living lies with the people, who refuse to help in reducing it. I have little faith in such sporadic demonstrations as the overall movement. But everybody should wear his old clothes just as long as possible.

"On With the Old," He Says

"An excellent example of one of the country's chief ailments is shown by the automobile situation. You can get all the second-hand automobiles you want. But nobody wants them. The cry is for new cars and the demand is so heavy manufacturers cannot begin to accommodate it."

"Wear out your old things before buying new—that seems to me to be a quick way of bringing the cost of living down."

Dead in Bed, Bullet in Head

Louis Price, thirty-two years old, a roomer at 536 North Sixth street, was found dead in his bed late yesterday afternoon with a bullet in his head. He had complained to his landlady, Mrs. Samuel Yakimov, earlier in the day, of feeling ill, and when he did not come down to dinner she sent her husband up to his room. Detective Forgy, of the Tenth and Buttonwood streets police station, came in response to a call and had the body removed to the Habnemann Hospital, from where it was taken to the morgue.

BIG NAVY CONTRACTS

Philadelphia Yard and Hog Island to Share $23,000,000 for Work

Favorable action on contracts totaling $23,000,000 for Hog Island and the Philadelphia Navy Yard has been taken by the Senate.

The contracts are for the construction of seven B-type aviation and destroyer tenders. The work is to be begun at Hog Island and operation at the yard will be continued until the hulls are almost half completed.

When they are completed up to a point where they can be taken over by the navy they will be removed to the navy yard for completion. The Hog Island share of the work will cost $11,700,000. This pays for the construction also.

The naval measure includes an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the completion of the drydock at League Island, $1,300,000. The local yard also gets $100,000 for two cranes by the bill and $100,000 for general dredging work.

An appropriation of $47,280 for employees of the Philadelphia Naval Home is also carried in the measure.
