

P. R. R. MEN FORM POSTS OF LEGION

2500 Employees of Railroad in 15 Cities Have Their Own Organizations

HOUSES BOUGHT OR LEASED

In fifteen cities of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey, posts of the American Legion have been organized, having as their nucleus the employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Approximately 2500 employees have already enrolled in these fifteen posts, according to J. W. Study, commander of Post No. 294, of Philadelphia. As many, if not more, eligible employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad have enrolled in posts in other than those bearing the name of the system.

The larger cities in which efforts are being made by the Pennsylvania Railroad to enroll employees as members of the Legion and in which posts have been organized are Altoona, Harrisburg, Carlisle, Pottsville, Scranton, West Chester, York, Lancaster, Reading, Philadelphia, New York, Camden, Trenton, Jersey City, Newark and the Jersey City, Philadelphia.

Officers of Posts

Clyde C. Smith is adjutant of the Altoona Post; Robert H. Price, of the Harrisburg Post; Leonard Olsen, of the Carlisle Post; Russell Eckenrode, of the Pottsville Post; J. C. Edgar, of the Scranton Post; W. H. Brewster, of the York Post; Robert J. Byron, of the Lancaster Post; A. J. Davis, of the Reading Post; Louis Cohen, of the West Chester Post; W. W. Bailey, of the Philadelphia Post; E. S. C. Punched, of the New York Post; John J. Nash, of the Camden Post; H. F. McDermitt, of the Trenton Post; William N. Hanna, of the Hoboken Post; Stanley J. Mummat, of the Renovo Post, and James O'Brien, of the general offices, Philadelphia Post.

Residents of Langhorne, Bucks county, have subscribed $12,500 for a memorial building which will be completed by May 1, and in which Jesse W. Soby Post 148 will have clubrooms. Frankford Post 211, Philadelphia, has purchased its own building, which will be occupied about May 1 and used as a home and recreation center for the post and G. A. R.

Post Leases Home

Stanley Dengler Post 286, Cressona, Schuylkill county, has leased a two-story building with fine grounds and large hall, where they hold weekly dances.

Twenty per cent of the membership of Hershey Post 386, Hershey, are Italians, many of whom have only a limited knowledge of English, but all are interested in the Legion.

Charles B. Gillespie Post 110, Freeport, Pa., reports that all claims for insurance, allotments, compensation and vocational training have been adjusted or are in process of adjustment. Practically all post members have retained their insurance.

The ladies' auxiliary to Slubbin-Duchsham Post, No. 95, meets the second and fourth Monday of each month in Southwark Library, Fifth and Filbert streets. All persons who are eligible are invited to become members. Rita Slubbin is commander.

"Fighting with the Princess Pats" will be the title of an illustrated lecture to be delivered tonight by Captain William H. Pemberton, at Witherpoon Hall, in conjunction with the Logan Post, No. 376. The lecture will be accompanied with colored slides that will be released for the first time by the Canadian Government. These slides will depict the actual fighting of this famous regiment.

The services of Miss London, the celebrated singer, have been secured, and she will be accompanied by Miss Mary Vogt, organist.

Captain Pemberton has volunteered his services, and the proceeds of the lecture will be devoted to the building fund of the Logan Post.

Dinner to Professor McDaniel

The United Graduate Clubs of the Latin department of the University of Pennsylvania will give a dinner in honor of Prof. Walton B. McDaniel this evening. Professor McDaniel has been appointed head of the American Classical School at Rome and will leave at an early date to take up his new duties.

Stenographers have the same right!

You naturally adjust a paper or book to your vision. You hold it before you and at a distance adapted to your sight. Stenographers have the same right.

It is ridiculous, inhuman, expensive and unnecessary for them to strain their eyes, twist their spines and drag themselves down physically and mentally in an effort to write letters.

It is ridiculous because reading out of focus and at the side is unnatural and inefficient.

It is inhuman because it unduly tires and weakens an operator. Constant reading and correct transcribing are her business. As high as 60% of her entire energy can be wasted through the strain of her eyes alone.

It is expensive because fatigue naturally cuts down the quality and volume of her work.

It is unnecessary because the Line-a-Time Method of Transcribing correctly fixes the place from which to read the next notes to be transcribed.

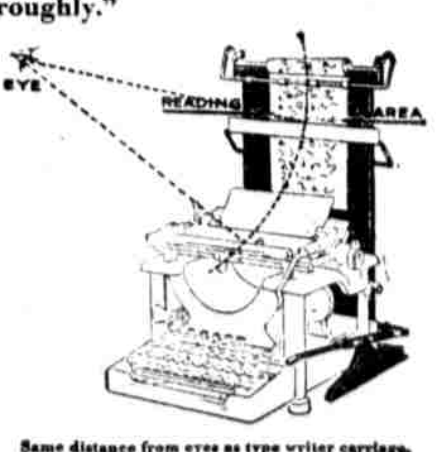

The Line-a-Time directly back of the typewriter, directly before the operator and in an upright position, raises notes into that fixed place just above a stationary bar so that those notes are at an unchangeable distance from the eye—the same distance as the typewriter carriage.

It therefore adjusts the notes to her vision as she would adjust them if her hands were free.
