

MRS. WILSON ENTERTAINS AT INEXPENSIVE SUPPER

With $1 for Shopping, a Wholesome, Appetizing Meal, Easily Prepared, Was Set Before the Guests

By MRS. M. A. WILSON

TOWARD the last of the week, my food budget was down to its last dollar, and, while on the morning I would again have my weekly allowance, I regretted to debit my needs to the new budget account.

MY MENU

- Deviled Eggs Potato Salad Hot Biscuits and Butter Apricot Shortcake Tea One-half cup of raisins Two bunches of scallions Seven eggs One quart of new potatoes Head of lettuce One-half pound of apricots

Total $1.00

I had the flour, seasoning, butter and the usual stores in the house, so I opened the bundle of scallions and washed them thoroughly, and then removed about three inches of the green ends. Place the scallions in the celery dish and cover with cracked ice.

Hard-boil the eggs and then cool and remove the shells and rub the white eggs with a fine sieve into a bowl. Now add:

- One tablespoon of finely grated onion One teaspoon of salt One-half teaspoon of paprika One-quarter teaspoon of mustard Two tablespoons of salad dressing Two tablespoons of grated cheese

Mold into balls the size of an egg and then set on a plate in the icebox until needed. Now wash the potatoes and place in a saucepan. Cover with boiling water and then cook until tender. Take care not to break. Drain and then remove the skins and cut into slices. Place in a bowl and add the prepared scallion tops and:

- One teaspoon of salt One-half teaspoon of paprika One cup of cream

Toss gently to mix and then set in the icebox to chill.

Biscuits for Five Place five cups of sifted flour in a mixing bowl and add:

- Five level tablespoons of baking powder One and one-half teaspoons of salt Six cups of water

Work the dough, while in the bowl, until smooth and an elastic ball. This usually takes about three minutes. Knead the dough as for bread and then turn on a pastry board or clean flat towel and pat out three squares which thick. Cut and place in a baking sheet and brush the tops of the biscuits with shortening. Bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes. Do not add any flour when patting out, either on the board or on the towel.

Apricot Shortcake Wash the apricots and then place in a saucepan, with just enough water to cover. Let simmer slowly until soft and then sweeten if necessary, while preparing the apricots bake and cool the cake. Place in a mixing bowl. Add:

- One half cup of sugar One egg Five tablespoons of shortening Ten cups of sifted flour Five level tablespoons of baking powder Three quarters cup of water

Beat to mix thoroughly and then mix deep layer cake mix with baking powder and form to mixture. Spread evenly and cover with the prepared mixture. Place in a bowl.

Six tablespoons of flour Four tablespoons of butter Ten tablespoons of shortening One teaspoon of vanilla Rub between the tips of the fingers to make light and crumbly and then spread on the cake. Bake for thirty minutes in a moderate oven for thirty minutes.

Mrs. Wilson Answers Queries Dear Mrs. Wilson Will you please state what granadine strips are made from and the name of the beautiful color and orange. E. L.

This color and recipe for the manufacture of granadine is secret and is fully protected by copyright and may not be published.

Dear Mrs. Wilson—Would you kindly give me a good recipe for a cream and orange pop? A FRIEND Your freezing mixture is not fault proof as far as oranges, using either a paper or bowl. I use three measures of ice and one measure of milk or one orange slice.

Dear Mrs. Wilson—Please do me the favor to tell me how to make a good frosting for a cake. I have tried to make one but it does not keep. Please let me know how to do it. A FRIEND

Yes, I understand and one half more in double recipe.

The Question Corner Today's Inquiries 1. How can a substitution be made in a good looking underwear? 2. Describe a society centerpiece for the May day table. 3. How should the taking and returning of a pillow be disposed? 4. What is the best silk for a dress and how can it be used to restore its whiteness? 5. What should a ring holder look like in the ideal? 6. What color in gloves is popular for street wear?

Yesterday's Answers 1. Miss Carmel Aguilera a student at the University of Illinois, is the daughter of a Filipino who was formerly famous as a rebel chieftain. 2. Black, white, brown and navy blue are the correct colors for street wear in silk stockings. 3. An electric iron turned upside down on its stand makes a convenient ironing board. 4. Rings should be polished instead of being rubbed when they are stored away for the summer. 5. Cushion shoes can be grown in the city garden which has only a small space. 6. Corduroy should be hung on the line, dripping without being wrung out. It should be brushed, not trodden, when dry.

utes. Cool and then remove from the pan and split. Fill with the prepared apricots and top with fruit whip, which is made by using:

- Left-over white of egg One-half glass of home-made jelly Beat the mixture with a Dover egg beater until it holds its shape.

How to Serve This Meal

Average the table in the usual manner, and where there is no usual serve the meal on a platter. Arrange the deviled eggs each in tiny crisp lettuce leaves, with a dash of paprika on top and moist a liberal helping of the potato salad. On a bread and butter plate fold a napkin into a pocket and place in this four hot biscuits. Place a liberal dollop of butter in the little old-fashioned chip or plate and serve the shortcake on a dessert plate. Brew a generous serving of good tea, and then sit down and enjoy this repast, knowing that it affords ample nutrition, even for a hearty worker.

Next week—Entertaining company on a $2 dinner.

The Woman's Exchange

Stain From Oil Stove To the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam: An oil stove was tipped on its side in my kitchen and the oil spilled on the floor. I was very much distressed to find that the oil had stained the floor. I have tried many ways to remove it but have not been successful. Will you kindly tell me through your much appreciated column if you know of some way to remove it? M. E. H.

Write to Her To the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam: I would like to know where your grandmother is located. The last time I heard of her she was located in Argentine Republic. That was in the year of 1910, in Buenos Aires. J. P.

Some of the Best Books To the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam: I wonder if you could help me in the matter of books to read. I am a young married woman with a few hours each day at my disposal for reading. I have many a library and have been reading a great deal through it and am in the habit of reading a book or two each day. I would like to know of some of the best books which are available in the market of good literature. I am a student of the University of Illinois and am in the habit of reading a great deal of good fiction. I have read many of the best authors and I am sure that you will be able to help me in the matter of books to read. I have not been able to find any of the books which I am looking for. Do Not Cultivate This Friendship To the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam: I am a young lady in my teens and am fond of dancing. Several nights ago a young gentleman who had been in the habit of calling on me regularly, invited me to a large public dance. On the night of the dance I received a message that he would be unable to come until later and that he had provided a partner. The young gentleman never came. I am sure that you will be able to help me in the matter of friends to cultivate. I have not been able to find any of the friends which I am looking for. OF CARTRIDGE SILK

An attractive blouse in wear over a white skirt for morning wear in the summer. A touch of color is gained by the oribid ribbon run through a wide heading at the neck. The large hat is trimmed with fruit in the same color. The wide band of silk at the hips is an attractive and becoming feature of the blouse.

Please Tell Me What to Do

By CYNTHIA

"Broken-Hearted Girl" My dear out of all friendship immediately with the man. It is hard for you, of course, but the man is entirely unfeeling. Never allow anyone to answer to such terms as he proposes, order him out of your home if you have no father or brother to kick him out.

"Dimples" Your sweet plain would be to do nothing. The young man is disgusted with the continued working at your home. Let him take a room elsewhere. He will find you there and if he really loves you will still want to marry you. Do not let him know all the time you are there. He will find you there and if he really loves you will still want to marry you. Do not let him know all the time you are there.

Answers "Just Plain John" Dear Cynthia—Please print these few lines in your column to "Just Plain John." It would be a very hard proposition to slip my name under your door and besides I am afraid Cynthia would not approve of making acquaintance in that way. But "Just Plain John" you can find many "Just Plain Marys" if you look in the right places. Here's wishing you luck anyway. "JUST PLAIN MARY."

He's an Englishman Dear Cynthia—I love a man who, although he is English, has many good traits. He has not the characteristics of most Englishmen, but I am afraid they will come out in later life. Would not my existence then be intolerable? Since I love him dearly, would it be wise to give him up? BETTY.

Adventures With a Purse

HATPINS are beginning to come into their own once more. Only the other night I saw an extremely well-dressed woman wearing a chic turban of some dark material devoid of trimming except for a vivid tain of some queerly shaped stone. One shop has pairs of lovely deep green hatpins. The stones are slightly twisted in appearance and are over an inch in length. Placed at a becoming angle in a dark hat, they would make a vivid splash of color. The price of the pair is seventy-five cents.

The shampoo, which is the subject of this adventure, leaves the hair glossy and "alive," looking with a sheen and brilliancy much to be desired. But it will do more. It leaves in the hair a faint elusive scent of lavender—old English lavender. It comes in granulated form, easily soluble, and the bottle, costing sixty-eight cents, should last for many shampoos, for one uses only a scant quantity at a time.

In the Bedroom Do not wash a brass bed. Simply wipe away all dust and remove any finger marks by rubbing lightly with a piece of chamois very lightly dampened. Obsolete spots can be removed with a slight application of prepared chalk.

A Precaution Before you use new iron pen pans or frying pans grease them well and put them in the oven to dry out slowly. The fat fills up the pores and prevents rusting.

Auntie's Skirts First four lines by Robert Louis Stevenson, balance by me. Whenever Auntie moves around, Her dresses make a curious sound. They trail behind her up the floor, And trundle after through the door.

Now this, of course, was long ago. When Auntie's skirts were wide and low. They trail no longer up the floor, Nor trundle after through the door. That skirt of Auntie's now is found, Some fifteen inches off the ground. The sight of it, we think, might stun Her nephew, R. L. Stevenson.

MAKING FUN OF PEOPLE IN TONES THAT THEY CAN HEAR

Is a Regular Practice With Some Girls Who Are Old Enough to Know Better—They Should Have Been Taught When They Were Younger

THE suburban car was crowded with the usual morning commuters. A number of people were standing in the aisle, and all the seats were taken. Almost all, in one place on that long seat—you know that "long seat"—there were three girls, somewhere in their twenties. They were having a long and extensive giggle, which seemed to be part of their regular morning routine. There would have been room for one more person beside them, but they were sitting in comfortable attitudes, taking up more than their share of space.
