

AXI DRIVER'S BODY IS FOUND IN POND

Police Believe Providence, R. I., Chauffeur, Missing a Week, Murdered and Robbed

CUTS AND BRUISES ON HEAD

Providence, R. I., May 3.—The body of Oliver L. Eklund, Providence taxi-driver who disappeared a week ago, was found last evening in a shallow pond near the old Taunton Fair Grounds.

The man was last seen taking two men from this city to Taunton, Mass. It was found face down in about thirty inches of water, twenty feet from the shore, by two Taunton Boy Scouts, and was identified shortly after it was brought ashore by Irving Eklund, of this city, a brother, whose machine Oliver Eklund borrowed last Sunday to make the trip to Taunton. The body was fully clothed, even to overcoat and gloves. Only the cap, which had previously been found in the car, was lacking.

The small pond in which the body was found is about a quarter of a mile from the point on the rocky woods road where two keys and some money from Eklund's pockets were found last Tuesday. It is about directly to the east from the place where Dr. James J. Conroy, a Taunton dentist, reported that last Sunday evening he saw a man stumbling through the bushes along the roadway, holding his head in his hands.

A hurried examination of the body, made by Medical Examiner Charles A. Atwood, of Taunton, showed that Eklund had been struck on the back of the head with a blunt instrument. The blow, Doctor Atwood thought, had not been sufficient to kill Eklund. His head is that the taxi driver was struck and thrown out of his machine and dazed, stumbled through the underbrush into the pond and drowned.

District Attorney Joseph T. Kenney, of New Bedford, Mass., ordered Doctor Atwood to start an autopsy last night. The autopsy is expected to show the seriousness of the head wound and to determine whether or not Eklund's death was due directly to drowning. The body, Doctor Atwood said, had apparently been in the water for about a week. There was also a cut under the right eye and another wound above the eye. The pockets of Eklund's clothes were all turned inside out. His watch and money were missing.

The Rain on the Roof.

IN ONE respect, says a critic, tin makes the worst of all roofs. Can you guess what this dreadful defect is?

It makes the most noise in a heavy rain-storm! No one can sleep through it. Tin makes a bad roof because the hardest rain can't get through it, and makes a great racket in trying!

This answer takes the first prize. This reminds us of the small boy who criticized his mother's pie because it was so good that he couldn't stop eating until it gave him a pain!

Still, it is good to know the worst that can be said against tin roofing.

There's nothing like tin—but you want the best tin. Ask any roofer. If he says NU-DURA-TIN, you're safe.

$500,000 FIRE IN U. S. CAMP

Firebug Blamed for Blaze in Ordnance Warehouse in Texas
San Antonio, Tex., May 3.—Fire, stated by military authorities to have been of incendiary origin, did damage estimated at $500,000 in an ordnance department warehouse at Camp Travis, near here, yesterday. Rifles, machine guns, automatic rifles and revolvers, trench knives of various types, all new equipment, valued at $700,000, were stored in the building, but much was safely removed.

With the approach of May Day a warning to guard against possible plots to destroy the camp was passed among officers, firemen and military police. Major General James C. Harbord, commander of the camp and of the Second Division, stationed here, announced he would appoint a board of inquiry to investigate the conflagration.

Alabama, 184; Tennessee, 103; Georgia, 160. Prohibition officers in Alabama made sixty-five of these seizures; in Tennessee they are credited with fifty-two, and in Georgia seventy-three. The remaining seizures were made by revenue agents and civil officers.

Bishops Caution Church Against Losing Leadership in World Movements

LAWLESSNESS CONDEMNED

Des Moines, May 3.—Declarations against "lawlessness, confusion and anarchy" and devotion to orderly government were expressed at the Methodist Episcopal quadrennial conference in the address of the thirty-four bishops, delivered by Bishop William F. McDowell, of Washington. Principles for which the church should stand were set forth in the address.

The address of the bishops was the only event on the program before the conference yesterday. Business sessions were resumed this morning.

A reactionary spirit in the church will cause it to lose its leadership in the world.

"forward moving world." Bishop McDowell declared. "Foundations are disturbed. Economic, social and industrial conditions are volcanic. They go far beneath mere questions of wages, hours and profits," the bishop said. "They reach the very basis of organized life, the basis of government itself, everywhere free institutions are threatened."

"The church as a whole, and in its parts, has been and is under heavy fire," the address says. "It has been charged with failure to prevent war. It is charged with impotence in the current unrest and disorder. It is declared to be out of touch with modern industry, modern thought and dominant modern life. It is charged with being the champion of the obsolete, with the failure to interpret Christ to personal and social life with power and fullness, with the failure to make the world's ideals or to supply the world's motives."

In its bill of particulars, the address says: "Of course, the church will stand in unflinching, uncompromising denunciation of all violations of law, against all murderous child labor, all foul sweatshops, all unsafe mines, all deadly tenements, all starvation wages, all excessive hours for those who toil, all profligate luxuries, all standard of wage and life below the living standard, all unfairness and harshness of conditions, all brutal exactions, whether of the employer or union; all overlords, whether of capital or labor; all godless profiteering, whether in food, clothing, profits or wages; against all inhumanity, injustice and blighting inequality, against all class-minded men who demand special privileges or exceptions on behalf of their class. "We do not now abate one jot or tittle of our hostility to liquor's in-discriminate crime against the world," he said when discussing prohibition. "We have not the slightest intention of yielding any part of the victory we have gained. We do not propose to compromise with mild forms of intoxicants."
