

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Talks of the Flower Market, the Sculpture Exhibit and Other Matters—Miss Carvalho to Return to France—A Sweet Story

IT SEEMS to me it's nothing but out-of-doors affairs these days! And certainly a weather could not be more beautiful now than the warmer days we have at last. Tomorrow there will be the pony show, next week the flower market at the Rittenhouse Square, and after that the Horse Show and May Market in Germantown, while out on the Reading there will be the Abington Fete "Once in a Blue Moon" on the 1st day of June.

Mind you, I have no idea that these are the only affairs pending. They are simply the only ones I have heard of so far as the Rittenhouse Square flower market, for no one has told it to me. I know the market will be pretty very busy, and so is Mrs. Andrew Wright Crawford and ever so many others, but I do not know yet. I surely will tell it to you the next time. So that's a step in the right direction.

YET the meantime, have you heard about the exhibition of sculpture appropriate for gardens and parks which is to be given at the Art Alliance Building, in Rittenhouse Square? The exhibition is to open with a private view tomorrow afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock, and will last through the month of June 11.

The reception committee includes Mrs. De Witt Cuyler, Mrs. Arthur Lee, Mrs. John Frederick Lewis, Mrs. Robert L. Montgomery, Mrs. John S. Newbold, Mrs. Bill Kirk Price, Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson, Mrs. York Site, Mrs. Edward Westbury, Mrs. Charlemagne Tower, Miss Violet Oakley, Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer, Mrs. George Woodward and Mrs. Charlton Yarnall.

I SAW Mrs. Stanley Flagg, Jr., yesterday wearing a stunning costume of black combined with white and white with black. The costume consisted of a long, flowing cape with wide bands of black and white, and the skirt of the frock has a very wide border of the same. Her costume is finished about the same. Her hat carried of exquisite lace and her small upturned hat is of black Neapolitan straw.

I HEAR that Isabelle Carvalho is going back to France this week or next if her boat has not been put off, as has everyone else. She is a niece of Mrs. Edward Westbury and of Mrs. Horace Brock, and has been spending the winter here, having come over from her home at Chateau Villandry to make arrangements for her relatives. She has been staying with Miss Coleman, at 1830 Rittenhouse square, since early in the winter and has been having a splendid time.

There is a younger sister who is about due to come out next year. I heard the other day that she would probably be coming here in the summer. I understand it is not settled as yet. Isabelle has been visiting in Washington for a few days. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Leon Joachim Carlin.

MARION is seven years of age and has been given to demonstration in the number of kisses of Mrs. Horace Brock and Mother are concerned. The other night as she was getting ready to go to bed she approached her father and said "Daddy, I'm going to give you twelve kisses." "Goodness, Marion! what an earth shall I do with so many kisses," returned her affectionate father. "I don't believe I need that many." "I spoke small Polly who is five; 'Daddy,' said she, 'I don't give you less kisses, do I? But when I do give you one kiss, it's more kiss, isn't it?'" And Daddy on recounting the tale, remarked "I'll say it is."
