

LEGION POSTS HERE TO USE U. S. RIFLES

Will Accept Offer of War Department for Memorial Day Programs

Issuance of rifles by the War Department to posts of the American Legion for ceremonial purposes and for use on Memorial Day has been authorized by act of Congress, and the seventy-eight posts in Philadelphia county have been urged to take advantage of this situation.

On numerous occasions appeals have been made to county headquarters, 1011 Chestnut street, for funeral escorts, so that comrades might be buried with fitting military honors. It is now possible for posts to obtain rifles and arrange their own escorts. The posts will undoubtedly take advantage of this method provided by Congress for securing the rifles.

It is intimated in a bulletin from National Commander Francis L. Fisher that it may be necessary to enact further legislation in order that an adequate supply of rifles may become available.

The Bulletin

The bulletin is addressed to state headquarters and reads:

"In reply to your inquiry relative to the possibility of procuring rifles for ceremonial purposes in time for use on Memorial Day, will say that national headquarters are doing everything in their power to make final arrangements governing the distribution of these rifles that will eliminate as much work as possible for the department adjutants, posts and also for the government officers. While admitting that the whole matter is being somewhat delayed at the same time I might say for your personal information that the present act providing for the issuance of these rifles is proving altogether inadequate for the purpose for which it was passed. In view of this fact our national legislative committee is now considering presenting before Congress a second act that will more efficiently provide in every way for the demands of our organization in this respect. I therefore ask you to instruct your several posts that they must meanwhile continue to extend to national headquarters every consideration in that they are doing everything in their power for the good of the members at large."

Invitations were issued today for a reception to be given by State Enclosed Post No. 142 in Mercantile Hall, Broad and Master streets, Tuesday evening, May 25, in honor of Colonel A. J. Gaston, U. S. A., who is in command of the United States army recruiting station at 1345 Arch street, and in honor of the old State Enclosed. This post gave a reception some months ago, with more than 1000 guests.

To Recommend a Program

A special committee has been appointed by the department commander to recommend a program of post activities and procedure. This committee includes A. Nevin Detrick, Post No. 3, chairman; William A. Marsh, Post No. 39; Miss Elizabeth R. Winderle, Yeomen (F) Post No. 50; Charles M. Jones, Post No. 224; Luther G. Klose, Post No. 10; William H. Cleaver, Jr., Joseph Fayett Balk, Post No. 195; and Dr. Ward Brinton, Harry E. Ingersoll, Post No. 174.

HOOPER FIRM IN VIEWS

Still Favors Ratification of Treaty With Certain Reservations

Herbert Hoover favors ratification of the League of Nations, with reservations and minor changes in the proposed preamble. His attitude on that important measure is set forth clearly in a telegram just made public by Charles J. Hepburn, chairman of the Hoover Republican committee of Pennsylvania.

The original telegram was sent to President Wilson in November of last year. In it Mr. Hoover urged Mr. Wilson to accept the pact as amended, with the minor changes in the preamble inserted.

THRILLS AND LAUGHS GALORE AS 16000 SEE CIRCUS OPENING

Stars of All Worlds of Entertainment Flash Simultaneously. Equestrian Family and Slack-Wire Artist Among Features—Clowns Funnier Than Ever

One thrill after another, with plenty of laughs for good measure. That is about the quickest way of describing the circus now in our midst.

A pace which will be hard to follow has been set by the Ringling Brothers' and Barnum & Bailey combined show at Nineteenth street and Hunting Park avenue.

More than 16,000 persons attended yesterday's performance, and the applause and laughter which swept through the big white tent tell better than adjectives just what they thought about it.

The big show is a review of the acrobatic, gymnastic and equestrian achievements of man and woman for the last fifty years.

Death-Defying Feats

It is right up to the minute, too, in the way of daring and death-defying feats.

One of the most thrilling acts is that of Miss Leitzel, who, while suspended at dizzy heights, performs all sorts of remarkable feats on a dangling rope. At times, too, she works without the protection of a net under her. In this instance the old circus slogan, "no slip means death," would be more than true.

Miss Bird Millman, who is just as much at home on the slack wire as the average person is on the sidewalk, is another of the big stars. Her amazing feats brought no end of applause.

And then there were May Wirth and other members of her famous family of equestrians. As barrel-rider they are no doubt pacemakers in the sawdust ring. Their number goes like clockwork and is artistically presented. With jugglers, acrobats, equilibrists and skillful animal actors greeting the eye at every turn, and something new every minute, the circus this year is veritably young America's Utopia. Yes, and old America, and even middle-aged America enjoyed it hugely, too.

As to the clowns—well, they reflect the latest thing in comedy of the day. They presented Sir Oliver Outja, a thrilling aerial battle, new kinks in the world of fashion and exhibits showing their own ideas about the high cost of living.

Saves miles of footsteps every day—

Think of 16,000 to 24,000 cards! That's a pretty large number.

Then think of a combination desk and card file which puts all of those thousands of cards within arm's reach—right where the eye most naturally looks for them. That's the L. B. card record desk.

The beauty of it is that the operator works seated. She does not have to get up and down a thousand times a day. All the data she wants is right there in front of her—instantly available—always findable.

Come in and let us show you how you can use this combination desk and card file in your own business.

Don't Guess!

You must know the right oil for your car.

Improperly lubricated, you cannot get out of it all the maker intended. Quality you must have—but proper type is of equal importance. It means that your car will last longer, have greater resale value and be subject to far less repairs. Be sure of your lubrication.

Motorists who simply ask for "oil" get oil, of course. It keeps the bearings and parts slippery and moving some fashion, of course, but beyond that no one knows. What is the result? Carbon, scored cylinders, stuck valves, burned-out bearings, quick depreciation!

Motorists who ask for

are assured scientific lubrication. Sunoco keeps the engine running smoothly—with the least possible wear and tear. The right oil of the right type insures perfect piston ring seal, therefore maximum power. No need to worry about carbon troubles, scored cylinders, stuck valves, burned-out bearings, etc. It reduces up-keep and depreciation.

Prove it! Have the Sunoco dealer drain and clean your crank case and fill it with Sunoco of the right type. You will be amazed at the improvement.

Sunoco is made in six distinct types to meet the lubricating requirements of all cars. Can be had in any quantity; the one and five gallon sealed cans and handy drums are convenient for home garages.
