

EDWARDS'S GUESS WRONG, WETS FEAR

Washington, However, Believes With Him Supreme Court Will Decide Monday

CONGRESS IS APPREHENSIVE

Washington, May 12.—The wets of Washington are obliged to Governor Edwards, of New Jersey, for his cheering words, expressing his belief that the Supreme Court is going to hold the Volstead act unconstitutional, and indicating that he had something on which he based that belief; but they are inclined to think that the governor's hope is stronger than his judgment. The lawyers here, after scanning the decisions the court has made since the liquor question came before it in its various forms, look for a verdict in line with these. They think the decision will come on Monday, but their attitude is one of resignation, rather than hope. If there has been any real or pretended leak it did not spill on Washington.

Generally a verdict upholding the constitutionality of the law is looked for, together with the dismissal of the suits brought by New Jersey and Rhode Island. It is, however, expected by the lawyers that the court will divide, probably five to four, in the decision, but this is guesswork based on lawyers' estimate of the working of the minds of the various members of the court.

The outlook for a decision next Monday is based upon reported plans of Justice Brandeis to make an extended trip to Palestine soon. Representative Siegel, Republican, of New York, said this report was current in New York city. "It is generally being stated in New York," said he, "that Justice Brandeis is shortly leaving for Palestine, and that, therefore, if there will be any decision soon it will be coming down May 17. I think Governor Edwards is probably basing his opinion that the decision will come Monday on that."

A decision by the Supreme Court, such as Governor Edwards prophesies, would play havoc with the plans of Congress for an adjournment, inasmuch as the dry would not rest until they had another dry enforcement law on the statute books.

CHARGE GIRL STOLE $9000

Country Girl Bought Motorcars With "Fortune Left by Aunt"

Washington, Pa., May 12.—The climax to a pretty country girl's desire to shine as a social favorite came yesterday with the arrest and imprisonment in the county jail of Margaret Yoders, eighteen years old, charged with theft of more than $9000 from the wholesale grocery establishment of Joseph M. Spriggs's Sons, where she was employed as cashier.

Miss Yoders, who came to Washington from the country home of her father two years ago and entered a business college, was arrested upon her release from a hospital where she had been two months recovering from effects of poison. It is said she attempted suicide when her alleged peculations were discovered.

Members of the grocery firm say the thefts cover a period of about nine months, sums of from $2 to $2000 having been taken daily. The misappropriation was not discovered until experts began working making up the firm's income tax returns.

Gasolene Fifteen Cents!

IT ISN'T the gasolene you buy that's expensive; it is the gasolene you use.

Five dollars per gallon would be cheap if its use were confined to cleaning gold twenties.

But if that were its sole use, the oil companies would give it away, for the law of supply and demand assists in regulating prices.

We do not know what the future gasolene price will be—it's high enough now to suit us. But this we know—it will go higher unless we use less, and we cannot use less, excepting by more watchful motor car buying.

There are motor cars that do not average five miles to a gallon of gasolene. If that were regular instead of occasional, then gasolene would sell for a dollar a gallon—or else motor cars would be used less.

The New Overland—the car with the TRIPLEX springs—averages approximately twenty-five miles per gallon of gasolene. We believe it costs less to operate than any motor car manufactured at this time.

We kept a record of the first thousand miles of twenty-five new Overlands and found that the average was more than twenty-four miles to a gallon.

So that the gasolene for those cars cost less than half as much as for the cars that average twelve miles to the gallon (and that's a high average).

Which means that thirty-cent gasolene costs an Overland owner only fifteen cents.

And other savings are in proportion.

Stain Your Teeth

And See the Film Which Wrecks Them

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Stain your teeth, as your dentist does, with an iodine solution. You will see dark patches, probably. And those are film. There is more film which you don't see.

Film is that viscous coat which you feel with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush does not end it. The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve it. So much of it remains and may do a ceaseless damage.

There lies the cause of most tooth troubles. That is why so many brushed teeth discolor and decay. Tooth troubles are constantly increasing, and the reason lies in film.

Their Greatest Enemy

Film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth, to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus night and day, while you feel that teeth are kept clean, that film may be doing ceaseless, fearful damage.

These facts have long been known. Dental science has for years sought a way to fight film. But periodic cleaning in the dentist's chair seemed the only real remover.

Now science has discovered an efficient film combatant—one for daily use. Able authorities have proved it by convincing tests. Leading dentists all over America are now urging its adoption.

Now the method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent—a modern, scientific tooth paste. Its use has spread until millions of teeth show its benefits. And a 10-Day Tube, for home test, is being sent to anyone who asks.

We Apply a Digestant

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to day by day combat it.

Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. But science has found, after years of research, a harmless activating method. And now this efficient film combatant can be every day applied.

Quick, Visible Results

The results of Pepsodent are quick and apparent. You can see them in the mirror, you can feel them with your tongue. Millions have already made this test. Now you owe it to yourself and yours. Compare the new way with the old ways. Judge between them by the visible results. Then say which method your home should employ.

This ten-day test is a pleasant lesson which one never can forget.

Look in Ten Days

Note the Luster

We urge you to make this ten-day test. Millions have done it already.

On every hand you see to-day the glistening teeth which Pepsodent can bring. Make your own teeth like them, then decide if you always want them.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how the teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

This test will be a revelation. It will show you the folly of cleaning teeth in inefficient ways.
