

ITALIAN CABINET UP TO CATHOLICS

Socialist Party Refuses to Participate in Government.

Neither in Majority

NITTI MAY TRY IT AGAIN

Rome, May 13.—The crisis precipitated by the resignation of the Nitti cabinet is considered most difficult to solve because the chamber is divided chiefly into two groups, Socialists and Catholics, neither of which is strong enough to constitute a majority, while an agreement between them is impossible on a common program.

In addition, the Socialists absolutely refuse to participate in a government. Otherwise Signor Giolitti, with his own followers, together with a portion of the deputies who supported Premier Nitti, might have a considerable majority. Some of the deputies suggest a cabinet formed by Signor Meda, leader of the Catholics, with Signor Donomi, the present minister of war, who succeeded the late Leonida Bisolati-Bergamaschi, as leader of the reformist Socialists.

Other deputies prefer that Signor Nitti again be entrusted with the task of forming a cabinet, because, they say, there is no man who controls the opposition. In case Nitti assumes the task, it is believed he will ask moderate Socialists, like Deputy Turati, leader of the intriguants, Deputy Treves and Deputy Modigliani to enter the cabinet, and, if they refuse, that he will form a new administration with Catholics, giving them some important portfolios, especially the portfolio of instruction, as the radical reform school system is one of the fundamental points on their program.

Another group of politicians express the belief that it will be impossible for any cabinet to remain in power long with the Chamber formed as at present, and, therefore, the possibility that general elections will follow in the near future.

London, May 13.—Since the reassembly of the Chamber the Italian government's position has been a difficult one, says Reuters's Rome correspondent, owing to the Catholic Popular party, numbering 100, having joined the Opposition. While a large majority supported Premier Nitti's foreign policy, the Opposition took up a strong line on the subject of the government's internal policy, and Premier Nitti's fall has come through his refusal to consent to an immediate discussion of the telegraph and postal strike.

In declining this debate Signor Nitti observed it was strange that in such a short time the government had lost the confidence of the majority. He could not understand how the Catholic Popular party and Socialists could reach an agreement on general questions and the budget, and as the Popular party was a government party it ought to assume the responsibility in going into power.

ITALY TO EVACUATE ALBANIA

London, May 13.—(By A. P.)—According to a news agency report, Italy is preparing to evacuate the whole of Albania except the Avlona district, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome today.

This report bears upon the Adriatic question settlement which has been under negotiation between Italy and Jug-Slavia, differences existing between the two countries over the Albanian boundary line and occupation of territory.

SHIP SUNK IN COLLISION

Schooner Goes Down After Colliding With Steamship—Crew Saved

New York, May 13.—(By A. P.)—The American schooner Florence Thurlow, from Boston, was wrecked in a collision last night about seventy-five miles southeast of Sandy Hook with the steamship Laramie, which reported the accident by wireless. The crew of fourteen men were rescued.

The schooner settled in the water with her hull protruding, causing a message to navigation, the message said. The steamship sailed from New York last night for Tampa, while the schooner was bound north from the West Indies.

The Florence Thurlow, which was in charge of Captain Wasson, is a four-masted, 191 feet long, and has a gross tonnage of 1042. She was built in 1906.

WOULD SEE SON DIE

Mother Pleads for Permission to Be With Slayer Till Last

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 13. Promising to hear up bravely through the ordeal, Mrs. Charles Cantine, mother of Chester Cantine, who will be electrocuted at Sing Sing prison tonight for the murder of Carl Danziger, a grocer, of this city, has appealed to Warden Lawes, of Sing Sing, for the privilege of remaining with her son until after he has paid the penalty of the crime. Mrs. Cantine, with tears streaming down her face, said:

"I have appealed to Governor Smith for clemency, as I have told him it is a crime to send a man with the brain of a twelve-year-old boy to the chair. If it will not intercede then I have promised Chester I will stand by him, and if the warden will allow me, I will go with him as his mother, to be the one who is with him at the last."

He was supported by the American soprano, Spanish singer, who took the role of Lady Harriet. Caruso is to receive $10,000 for each appearance here.

Adolfo Brocchi, manager of the opera company, stated that the receipts for the opening engagement would total $47,000.

Kaiser's Moving Delayed

The Hague, May 13.—Moving day for the former German emperor has been postponed owing to a slight delay in the work at Doorn House. It is possible that Wilhelm may shift from his present quarters on Saturday. The local brass band of Amersfoort played at the ex-Kaiser's dinner party Tuesday.

SAILOR MAY BE SLAYER

Hoboken Man, Friend of Rueckert's Valet, Missing Since Murder

Hoboken, N. J., May 12.—(By A. P.)—Evidence said to connect a former sailor, whose home is in Hoboken, with the mysterious murder of Fritz E. Rueckert, wealthy white metal manufacturer, in his apartment here Sunday, was obtained yesterday by police.

The investigators learned that the man was absent from his home Saturday night, and did not return until after the hour of the murder. He left later after telling his family he was going to Ohio in search of work. Police said the description tallied closely with that of the man who purchased the revolver with which Rueckert was shot.

The man under suspicion was an acquaintance of August Holten, valet of Rueckert, and the two had been together frequently. Holten told the police they met Friday evening, but were not together Saturday night, and that he had not seen the man since. Holten had told the other of his employer's wealth, he said, and the police believe the story aroused the man's cupidity to the point of planning and committing the murder.

Funeral services for Rueckert were held last night with several thousand persons present. The service was conducted both in English and German by the Rev. A. Engleder, pastor of a German Lutheran church.

DIVORCE WITNESS DIES

Assaulted by Defendant, It is Said, Man's Skull Was Fractured

Atlantic City, May 13.—John Giffens, of Farmington, N. J., died in the City Hospital last night as the result of an alleged attack made upon him a week ago by Harry Clark, of Camden, in this city. Giffens' head struck the pavement and he received a fractured skull. He was hurried to the City Hospital where he was hovering between life and death until last night. Clark was arrested at the time and in now in jail.

Clark's wife sued him for divorce. The case was tried before Vice Chancellor Leaning in the court rooms in the Law Building. Giffens gave testimony in favor of the wife, and, when court adjourned, Giffens, it is alleged, was attacked by Clark as he emerged from the building. The following day when the case was resumed, Vice Chancellor Leaning asked Clark for permission to withdraw from the case, but agreed to continue when Clark announced that he would withdraw his defense. A few minutes later Mrs. Clark was granted a decree of divorce.

New York, May 13.—Miss Marie Doran, author and playwright, was discovered by her landlady in James Y. yesterday afternoon. The house was sold by her landlady and although given a month to find another, she was unable to do so.

Her mother, Mrs. Frances Doran, seventy, has been taken care of by neighbors, but Miss Doran said she would be forced to spend the night in the street guarding her belongings.

The author was writing a motion picture scenario when City Marshal Thomas McGuire and two auto loads of assistants arrived and carried out her furniture.

RUMANIANS FEAR HUNGARIAN ATTACK

Troops and Barbed-Wire Entanglements Are Placed Along Frontiers

TREASY IS CALLED BLUNDER

By the Associated Press

Budapest, May 13.—Czecho-Slovak and Rumanian forces are closely guarding their frontiers which were established by the Paris Peace Conference. Both countries fear attacks by Hungarians, and, in consequence, barbed-wire entanglements have been established along the borders.

Some satisfaction with the terms of peace is expressed in university circles in this city, because it is believed the treaty will restore to Hungary battle flags, manuscripts, works of art and historic jewels which were long ago taken from Budapest and have since been retained in Vienna.

Acceptance of the treaty is expected here unless extreme Nationalist councils prevail. The action of the government in preventing a great demonstration by the League of Territorial Integrity, and the tearing down of posters bearing the inscription, "Damned be the hand that signs the treaty," indicate that the treaty will probably be accepted. In addition, military patrols have been strengthened to prevent disorders.

Count Julius Andrássy, former minister of foreign affairs, addressed the council of ministers on the question of the treaty yesterday, saying:

"The treaty crucifies the nation and is the greatest blunder the Allies could commit because it entails the greatest danger to the peace of central Europe. However, we must bow before superior force, coupled with intellectual impotence."

"We have until next Friday to sign the peace treaty; also it is likely we shall do so," said Count Apponyi, who is home abroad, exhausted by his labors. "In me you see one of a defeated army. I have done my duty, but got no concessions of any importance, and not one iota of help from Americans, who might have used their moral influence in our favor despite the fact they did not participate in the League of Nations."

Schools throughout the country continue to use the old map of Hungary and teachers are telling their pupils that the provinces lopped off by the peace treaty are only temporarily lost.

MINT MAY WORK OVERTIME

Demand for all denominations of coin continues to be heavy, and has necessitated the operation of the Philadelphia Mint in excess of the usual eight-hour day. An additional appropriation has been asked from Congress to enable the Mint to resume operations on a twenty-four-hour basis. The demand for silver coins is especially heavy and the Mint is unable to catch up with the demand, showing red ink figures every day. Because of the demand for silver coins the Mint has slowed up in the coinage of gold which was resumed late in April. The Mint has facilities for coining about $300,000 in gold per day, but little more than half of this amount is being coined at the present time.

Find Out About This Thing

—and be glad like the others who have already found out.

John Hare, famous English actor, in the last lines of his comedy, "A Pair of Spectacles," utters a truth which never fails to impress the audience. The audience slaps its knee and ejaculates, "By George, that's so!"

These are Hare's words as the curtain goes down: "It is better to trust and be deceived than to doubt and be mistaken."

If all the world believed that, and performed accordingly, it would be a better world—wouldn't it, Reader?

Before you get half way down this column (if you don't look out) you'll find yourself saying to yourself: "I wonder if I ought to answer this Announcement. I wonder if these people are straight. There's so much bunk going around. Maybe this is some of it."

Right there is where you ought to take a hitch in your common sense, muster your good will and friendliness, and say: "This sounds interesting. Perhaps it's a good thing for me to find out about. Anyway, it won't do any harm to send my name and address as requested and SEE for myself just what the proposition is."

Then you reach for your fountain pen—or call your stenographer—send your name and address, and presently you get the information—by mail—and you're glad.

YOU'RE GLAD because you learn how (and why) one of the leading manufacturers has arranged to let you participate in profits through the years to come;

YOU'RE GLAD to know that actual sales contracts for cars to the retail value of approximately nine millions are now on the Company's books, and that the entire factory product is sold for the fiscal years of 1920 and 1921;

YOU'RE GLAD because you may share in the profits of this business on a plan that has been made safe and sure and easy;

YOU'RE GLAD because you find that this door of opportunity is not closed against you—even though you have only a little money in hand that you want to turn over safely and profitably.

YOU'RE GLAD—finally—that you ever read this Announcement and answered it, requesting particulars.

THEREFORE—proceed this way: Simply send your name and address. You will receive (by mail) some vital and interesting news that will prove greatly to your financial advantage. Also a certain Picture Book relating to this business—all without cost or obligation on your part.
