Maybe Heisman Forgot It's "Near Beer" Now

Jack Heisman, football coach at Penn, handed the candidates a "hot in dismissing them for the summer season. Coach Heisman addressed seventy-five gridiron athletes late yesterday afternoon on the subject of keeping in condition for the football season.

He gave them some valuable pointers on what to eat and drink and warned them against violent exercise. He advised them to play baseball and tennis, but not to indulge in too much running or rowing. "Avoid alcohol and tobacco." said

Heisman. "However, I am not opposed to a bottle of beer and cigar even during the football season, provided I know you indulge in them.

That made the boys gasp, but when you consider that the once popular brew is an unknown quantity it isn't so radical, and one eigar during the football season wouldn't hurt even a college under-

Phils' President Says Rumor I Unfounded, but Admits He's After Pitchers

The rumor that Irish Meusel, the Phils' hard hitting outfielder, would be traded to the Robins for a pitcher and another player, was partly spiked this morning by William F. Baker, the president of the club, in a conversation over the leng distance the versation over the long distance tele-phone from New York.

The first time I saw or heard that He has time I saw or heard that Meusel was to be traded," said Mr. Baker, "was in the newspapers. I sent clippings of the stories to Cravath. Perhaps he may know something about it, but as far as I know, there is no truth in the expects." in the reports. Cravath yesterday denied that he knew of such a trade.

"Brooklyn has been after us for an outfielder." Mr. Baker continued, "but they wanted Stengel, and, of course, we wouldn't trade him. We could use a we wouldn't trade him. We could use a
