

MEXICAN REBELS HEM IN CARRANZA

Fugitive President Will Be Given Opportunity to Leave Country

WARSHIPS AT VERA CRUZ

By the Associated Press
El Paso, Tex., May 14.—(By A. P.)—Definite announcement by General Alvaro Obregón that President Carranza was still at liberty, but was being closely surrounded by revolutionary forces surrounding him at Rioverde, Puebla, was the outstanding subject of interest in revolutionary circles today.

According to a message direct from Obregón by Roberto Pesqueira, revolutionary financial agent, Carranza will be given an opportunity to leave the country in safety.

With the expected arrival today of General P. Elias Galles, commander of the revolutionary forces of the northwest, another development of the new political upheaval was expected. In a few days 10,000 insurgent troops are to begin their southward sweep to Mexico City, if announced plans are followed.

In the meanwhile El Paso banks are being confronted with the problem of deciding the disposition of funds deposited by erstwhile Carranza officials who since have either withdrawn from public office or have openly joined the revolution. An effort is being made by Carlos Felix Diaz, new customs collector at Juarez, to recover $20,000 said to belong to the Mexican government and alleged to have been deposited in an El Paso bank by J. Felipe Valle, the former Carranza customs collector.

Vera Cruz, May 14.—(By A. P.)—Rebel attacks against the position held by President Carranza near San Marcos, state of Puebla, have been successful at some points, but the struggle still is going on. Two more trains remaining in possession of the president have been taken, according to advices. A detachment of his men is attempting to cut its way out toward the north and it is expected the main body of the Carranza troops will make an effort to follow.

In the meantime new rebel reinforcements are being rushed to the scene of the struggle, which extends over a front of approximately three miles. No further news has been received from Mexico City as to the situation there. Tampico reports the Mexico City wireless station is being used only for transmission of official messages.

V. A. Body, British vice consul for this city, is with President Carranza. Efforts are being made by British and American authorities here to reach him. They have requested through Naval Commander Hiram Toledo, of the Mexican fleet here, that Naval Lieutenant Hades will go on a special train to San Marcos, where he will make an effort to get in touch with Carranza's officers and bring out Mr. Body.

British and French warships made their appearance here today for the first time since the outbreak of the revolution, the vessels which arrived being the French cruiser Descazes and the British cruiser Glasgow. The number of American warships at anchor in the harbor was increased to four by the arrival of the protected cruiser Dolphin from Tampico.

Calxico, Calif., May 14.—(By A. P.)—Governor Esteban Cantu, of Lower California, last night sent to the American commander of Camp Reason here a request that he "take heed of threatening conditions and rumors so that Calxico might have protection in case trouble came."

FAILS TO KILL GRAND VIZIER

Constantinople Policeman's Shot Hits Damad Ferid's Attendant

London, May 14.—(By A. P.)—Another attempt was made to assassinate Damad Ferid, Turkish grand vizier, on Tuesday, according to a Constantinople dispatch. The attack occurred at the grand vizier's residence and was made by a policeman, who fired upon Damad Ferid, but only wounded the latter's armed attendant. The grand vizier's assailant was arrested.

Mustapha Kemal, leader of Turkish nationalist forces in Asia Minor, was condemned to death at an extraordinary court-martial held in Constantinople on Wednesday, according to a dispatch from the Turkish capital. Others sentenced to imprisonment were Ali Fudai Pasha, former commander of the Twentieth Turkish Army Corps, and Alfred Rustem Bey, former Turkish ambassador to the United States.

COUNTY LIMERICK BUILDINGS BURNED

Armed Bands in Various Parts of Ireland Continue Wednesday's Raids

MORE TROOPS MAY BE USED

By the Associated Press
Dublin, May 14.—Several additional attacks on government property and other incidents occurred in various parts of Ireland last night, but up to noon today the reports indicated that the continued activity of armed bands was on a par with the scale of Wednesday night's demonstration. The police barracks, courthouse and postoffice at Bruce, County Limerick, were burned, while a motor van containing provisions for the police was burned near Sherrin. Armed and masked men raided a motor garage in Dublin, overpowered the caretaker and took away an automobile.

The plan of General Sir Nevill Macready, commander of the government forces in Ireland, looking for closer cooperation between the police and the military in an effort to suppress the disorders, involves the establishment of military posts in isolated districts where the police barracks had to be abandoned because of attacks upon them.

The opinion of the British authorities seems to be that the disorder in Ireland, which they regard as acts of rebellion, call for the use of soldiers instead of the police. In line with this view, the military are already doing the patrol work which hitherto had been left for the most part to the police.

The proposal to establish military posts is resented by many of the Irish

London, May 14.—(By A. P.)—The London headquarters of the Union of Siberian Co-operatives has received word that Gregory Krassin, Bolshevik minister of trade and commerce, has granted permission to the union for the organization of a trade expedition which will proceed from England through the Kara sea to the mouths of the Obi and Yenisei rivers for the purpose of reopening trade on a bartering basis with Siberia. American and British traders will be represented in the expedition. It is expected the expedition will get under way early in August.

We speak of the "atmosphere" of a home, or a hotel, or a store. We say we like it, or we don't like it, yet we find it hard to give an accurate definition of this word. However, we may safely say that that "atmosphere" which we appreciate in the Chestnut Street Shops is compounded of refinement, dignity and the courtesy of the sales-people in these stores.

CHERRIES from California—those large, perfect, dark-red ones—are arriving in ever-increasing quantities at Henry R. Hollowell & Son's, Broad Street below Chestnut. Everybody seems so enthusiastic over their arrival, for they are the first spring fruit to arrive from California, and are simply delicious. Both the red and the white cherries are put up in one, two, five or ten pound boxes. They look most attractive, too, in Hollowell's Gift Baskets of Fruit, where they peep forth temptingly between the delicate green of a Beurre d'Anjou Pear and the vivid red of a Delicious Apple. Have you seen these delightfully springlike Gift Baskets of Fruit? They are hand-painted, you know, and make most attractive gifts.

PHILADELPHIA, they say, is a polka-dot town when it comes to neckwear, and one could well believe it after a glimpse at the wonderful assortment of polka-dot scarfs at the store of Macdonald & Campbell, 133-136 Chestnut Street. The polka-dot foulards are particularly well liked and the crepes de chine with embroidered dots are wonderfully good-looking. There are figured crepes in excellent colorings—some in Persian designs that are truly exquisite, and some in hand-loomed grenadines are very fine and always in excellent taste, and the soft French and Swiss silks make very attractive ties. The English Meters, which many women have found just the thing for sports wear, come in various bright colors.

YOU'VE often intended to try one of those Pyrex baking dishes that every one is talking about, but somehow you've put off buying it from day to day. Once you try it, I warn you, you will become quite as much of a Pyrex enthusiast as I am. Really, if I were outfitting a kitchen, Pyrex oven dishes would head my list of purchases. The ease with which they can be cleaned is something to be considered in these days of serviless houses. Pyrex never chips, and is guaranteed against leakage from oven heat. Then, too, it looks so well on the table that one feels it is worthy of association with one's finest linens and silver. You will find Pyrex glassware at the store of J. Franklin Miller, 1612 Chestnut Street.

IT WAS a smart-looking sports suit in an elusive shade of lavender that drew me into the store of A. G. Spalding & Brothers, 1210 Chestnut Street, one day this week. There was a certain jaunty air in its cut that marked it as different from that avalanche of sports apparel with which we have been overwhelmed of late, and the color was exquisite—one wonders why no one else had thought of using this shade in a sports suit before. I soon discovered that this note of individuality is characteristic of all the articles in this department at Spalding's. Their suits of English tweed are really nobby, with their narrow belts and patch pockets. Some have the pressed leather buttons, and almost all are imported. I saw a suit of wool jersey with tweed collar that I liked very much.

In Response to Oak Hall's Call 5000 Suits Go On Sale at Prices Way Below the Market

There has been a break in the wholesale clothing markets due to lack of demand since Easter.

Manufacturers must have money. Therefore they must move stocks in which their money is tied up. Knowing this and knowing the great old store at Sixth & Market Streets to be the city's greatest clothing outlet we sent out a call to the manufacturers to bring to us their best, all-wool Suits. From time to time we will send out other calls—but that is getting ahead of our story. As the result of our first call here are—

- 5000 Suits at figures that will break the back-bone of high prices!
- Group Number One—$40 Suits for $23.50
- Group Number Two—$45 Suits for $26.50
- Group Number Three—$50 Suits for $29.50
- Group Number Four—$55 Suits for $34.50
- Group Number Five—$75 Suits for $39.50

Let us make certain facts clear—we might have offered 10,000 suits had we not insisted that Oak Hall's Standard of quality be observed in the selection of this great quantity of clothing. These five groups contain only the finest products of the best manufacturers. Worsteds, flannels, serges, woollens. Built of all-wool fabrics. Guaranteed by Wanamaker & Brown.

The importance of this offer cannot be overestimated because we or anyone else cannot tell how long this situation in this manufacturers' field will continue. It may be only temporary, and these 5000 suits will go like "a house-a-fire." Men will buy two or three at a time, taking no chance on the future.
