

JUST PUBLISHED
 A Novel of Lightning Vividness and Tremendous Power
HIS FRIEND AND HIS WIFE
 By
COSMO HAMILTON
 This is the story of the effects upon the young married set of the wealthy Quaker Hill colony in Connecticut, which followed an infraction of the social code by Julian Osborne and Margaret Meredith.

Mr. Hamilton has written a powerful novel of present-day American life—the underlying theme being that no unrighteous act against the established social code can be committed without the price being paid as dearly by the innocent as by the guilty.

$1.75 net
 At all Booksellers

LITTLE, BROWN & COMPANY, Publishers, Boston

OTHER NOVELS BY COSMO HAMILTON
 Scandal Who Cares?
 The Blindness of Virtue
 The Miracle of Love
 The Door That Has No Key
 The Sins of the Children

WAR, MYTHS AND ECONOMICS IN THE NEW BOOKS
RECENT WAR BOOKS FROM ENGLISH AND TEUTON ANGLES
Origin of the Fighting Tanks—Work of Dover Patrol. Apologias by Tirpitz and Falkenhayn

"Days of Glory" is the sketch book of a veteran war correspondent at the front in the great war. The "vet" is none other than Frederick Villiers, whose career goes back to Tek-el-Keber, the Turkish atrocities in Serbia of forty years ago, Port Arthur and many another battle which is now almost forgotten except by the professional diplomatist and historian. His drawings are graphic, full of action and full of something more important—of human interest. The book opens with "A Salute to Frederick Villiers" by Philip Gibbs, one of the most noteworthy of the war correspondents developed by the recent world war.

Major Joseph Williams-Ellis and A. Williams-Ellis are the joint authors of "The Tank Corps," an authoritative and genuinely interesting account of the origin, the development, the strategic value and the actual accomplishments of this new engine of warfare, one of the original contributions of the recent war to military art and science. There is an introduction by General Sir Horace Curzon, G. B., D. S. O., who was the commander in the field of the British tank corps, from its formation to the armistice.

"The Dover Patrol" is a stirring narrative by its commander, Admiral Sir Reginald Bacon, K. C. B., K. C. V. O., D. S. O., of the notable sea-war-winning work accomplished by the British fleet protecting the transit from England to France and Belgium. In the skulking of the German grand fleet at its protected bases there was no chance for a display of sea warfare on a great and brilliant scale and the work of the Dover patrol was by the nature of events rather routine, except for the ferreting out of submarines and the protection of the coastline and the transports. But it was not lacking in its excitement and its thrills. Both the strategy employed and the adventures experienced are well told by the commander.

Admiral Sir Percy Scott, K. C. B., K. C. V. O., and Hon. L. L. D., of Cambridge University, has written a pleasant and interesting book, "Fifty Years in the Royal Navy," he sets down the recollections of a lifetime of sixty-five years, half a century of which was spent in the naval service of his country. He entered the navy when most of its ships were wind-propelled and he retired when modern science had revolutionized naval warfare and all the other paraphernalia of a great navy. His account of naval evolution is very instructive. Many important names of persons and places and the admiral's impressions and opinions are given in his recollections.

"The German General Staff and Its Decisions, 1914-1918" by General Erich von Falkenhayn, who was the German imperial minister of war in 1914, at the outbreak of hostilities and later the imperial chief of staff, tells from the inside the considerations which were motive and dominant in the strategy of the first two years of warfare from the German viewpoint. He reveals many secrets of opposition to his decisions at critical times and argues for the merit of his actions. Of course the volume has much special pleading and the general is by no means beyond being a self-apologist, but his book is one which must be read and weighed in formulating any definite opinion on the strategy of the first half of the war.

"My Memoirs" is the story of the world war as Grand Admiral von Tirpitz saw it. His story will remember him as the great proponent of the unrestricted submarine warfare, of the ruthlessness on the seas and of Prussianism to the highest degree on the land. Despite the fact that his book is an elaborate apology it contains a great deal of interesting matter. It is particularly valuable in setting forth the personalities which dominated the formation of German policy in the latter part of the war when war of position and attrition overshadowed the debacle of German arms and Prussianistic ambitions. He lays the downfall of Germany not to various military and economic factors, including the mastering presence of the Americans, but to the spread of radical and Bolshevistic ideas in Germany. The book is decidedly one for any reader who wishes to master the whole history of the war.

"FIFTY YEARS IN THE ROYAL NAVY." By Admiral Sir Reginald Bacon. New York: George H. Doran Co.

"THE GERMAN GENERAL STAFF." By General von Falkenhayn. New York: Dodd, Mead & Co.

"THE DOVER PATROL." By Admiral Bacon. New York: George H. Doran Co.

"THE TANK CORPS." By Major Williams-Ellis and A. Williams-Ellis. New York: George H. Doran Co.

"MY MEMOIRS." By Grand Admiral von Tirpitz. New York: Dodd, Mead & Co.

SHE SEEMS TO SMELL SOMETHING BURNING
 Mrs. Gerould Sniffs Superiorly in New Essays at Our Modes and Morals

Feathers are burning in the atmosphere of our cultural and social environment and Mrs. Katharine Fullerton Gerould has sensed the pungent smoke carrying a fine and healthy and "pointing" with superb direction and directness, she analyzes the aroma in the new collection of her essays, "Modes and Morals."

"Speaking out of tropes one feels that her affected viewpoints and intellectual superiority pierce a terre imparis some of the values Mrs. Gerould's keen insight into conditions that doubtless in some cases need rectification, her faculty of swift and sure sating up of trends and situations, her wide and varied knowledge, her breadth and depth of backgrounds for comparisons and contrasts. She is a valid thinker and a searching critic. But she does not always display a fine and healthy tolerance. She does not quite pontificate, but one feels at times that she does not deem her head an unplace for a triple tiara of some intellectual pythiness of Princeton. If Princeton boasts a pythonesse and the pythonesse were a triple tiara, certainly the combination would not be complete without Mrs. Gerould."

It is a pity, then, that Mrs. Gerould's manner incites resentment in some readers, possibly many readers, mainly because she sets in a place that many readers and some critics, not fans or faddists, think is proper for them, on the basis of their attainments, the younger school of British fictionists, Herford, Mackenzie, Onions and Campbell.

The book is generally stimulating even where one does not jibe with the author's opinion.

MODES AND MORALS. By Katharine Fullerton Gerould. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons.

Dean Graves on Religion
 The very suggestive and helpful book, "What Did Jesus Teach?" is the substance of the instruction given in a normal training class of students of the University of Pennsylvania by Frank P. Graves, dean of its School of Education. Beginning with a brief inquiry into the historical sources of the teachings of Jesus, he describes his methods, his ideal as set in a place that many readers and some critics, not fans or faddists, think is proper for them, on the basis of their attainments, the younger school of British fictionists, Herford, Mackenzie, Onions and Campbell.

The book is generally stimulating even where one does not jibe with the author's opinion.

DEAN GRAVES ON RELIGION. By Frank P. Graves. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons.

Once you've met her You'll never forget her

MARY MARIE
 "the sunbeam girl"
 By the author of "Just David"
ELEANOR H. PORTER
 Illus. by Helen M. Grose HOUGHTON MIFFLIN CO.
 $1.90 net at all bookstores 4 PARK ST., BOSTON

GOOD FICTION

THE REAL DIARY OF THE WORST FARMER
 Judge Henry A. Shutte

"Judge Shutte is peculiarly satisfying as a humorist. He recounts at a leisurely pace happenings that are delightfully ludicrous, and mingles with them a rich fund of humanity and a keen feeling for the poetry of life. THE REAL DIARY OF ER is a book heartily page to the last."—PROVIDENCE JOURNAL.

ILLUSTRATED BY HENRY A. SHUTTE. $1.25 net

---

SHIPS ACROSS THE SEA WANTED A HUSBAND
 Ralph D. Paine Samuel Hopkins Adams

"These stories are so real and vital, the hazards they detail are so thrilling, that those assured by the bright face of danger will yield themselves gladly to their spell."—MILWAUKEE SENTINEL.

ILLUSTRATED BY RALPH D. PAINE. $1.25 net

JACKSON'S VALUABLE "YEAR BOOK" OF CITY
 Compendious Manual of Philadelphia, in Second Edition, Informing and Accurate

"Jackson's Philadelphia Year Book" for 1920, the second year of its projected annual issuance, makes considerable strides over the pioneer edition, admirable as that was in fullness, accuracy and interest. The convenient alphabetical arrangement which was so praiseworthy a feature of the original edition is continued. The editor, Joseph Jackson, a member for many years of the editorial staff of the PUBLIC LEDGER, in view of the experience of his first year's research and compilation has effected many improvements in details, while the original character of his work is preserved. In fact, he has introduced many new entries which, for instance, made many new entries compact and readily accessible information.

The issue for 1920 is a larger volume than that for 1919. There are 260 pages and as much reading matter as in three average long novels. All the statistical articles have been prepared especially for use in this volume, including the trade with Latin America, the fire losses for 1919, the production of sugar in Philadelphia being only a few of the instances.

The text of the city's new charter is given in the appendix to the book. A re-visit to the principal features of the city's growth is provided in the forward, and is likely to prove inspiring to Philadelphians. Added this year are chronologies, both local, religious, etc. The business and political information is of interest to all who do business or vote in the city.

The work is amply supplied with statistical tables on many subjects, and these are of value for many reasons. These are of value for many reasons. These are of value for many reasons.

JACKSON'S PHILADELPHIA YEAR BOOK. By Joseph Jackson. Philadelphia: J. Jackson. Real Estate Trust Bldg.

German Spies
 James Hay, Jr., has exercised his imagination on the ways of German spies in America and has put the result in a book which he calls "The Melwood Mystery." The villain of the plot turns out to be a "German-American," who had been denouncing the government for its failure to discover the spies and punish them. The novel opens with the discovery of a young woman in her apartment unconscious from a stab in the breast. She is suspected of being a spy. The plot is occupied with the discovery of how she was injured and why. Jefferson Hastings, an uncommon type of detective, solves the mystery, and smooths the way for the lovers, without whom a tale is supposed to lack the essentials of popular success.

THE MELWOOD MYSTERY. By James Hay, Jr. New York: Dodd, Mead & Co.

Kindred of the Dust
 A story you will never forget

A NOVEL of the sort of people who grow only in the Great Northwest in this soul-searching story of Nan of the Sawdust Pile, the mother of a child, who cries for a father he will never know—of Donald McKaye, the young laird of Tyee, who is torn between the love he has for Nan and the love he bears his father—of the old Laird, the proud ruler of his rich little principality, who loves his son with such a fierce and hungry love that he would sooner see him dead than married to Nan.

By PETER B. KYNE
 a writer whose pen drips with the tears and sorrows and triumphs of his human and sympathetic set of folks as you will ever find. He's a wonderfully fine fellow, this Peter B. Kyne. He writes about men, for men—that's why women love his stories.

"Kindred of the Dust" is a novel with a problem as old as time itself and as new as the day that dawned with the coming of the new sun—as elemental as man, as great as humanity—a story of people you will love in a novel you will never forget.

Wherever books are sold . . . . . $1.75

Cosmopolitan Book Corporation
 "You simply can't go wrong on a Cosmopolitan Book"

IT IS UNPRECEDENTED that, month after month, two novels by the same author published a year apart should appear at the same time in the lists of new books most in demand in both the bookstores and the libraries. The fame of

VICENTE BLASCO IBANEZ
 grows steadily. Read

Woman Triumphant

By the Author of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," "Mare Nostrum," "Blood and Sand," "The Shadow of the Cathedral," "La Bodega," etc. $2.15 in any bookstore

E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 Fifth Ave., New York

Something New in Bird Books

WHAT BIRD IS THAT?
 BY FRANK M. CHAPMAN

Creator of Birds in The American Museum of Natural History, author of "Bird Life," "Our Winter Birds," etc.

NOVEL FEATURES
 Sizes of Birds. The illustrations show the birds in their natural colors, but also by means of group pictures the relative sizes of all the birds are clearly shown.

Seasonal Grouping. By means of the group pictures the birds are shown in the correct seasons when they appear.

Every Land Bird. East of the Rockies (301 in all) in pictures and a clear description given of its characteristics, habits, haunts, song, etc.

TWO EDITIONS
 Cloth, $1.25 net. Fabricoid, $1.75 net.

At all Bookstores. This is an Appleton Book.
D. APPLETON & COMPANY
 Publishers New York

THE TIN SOLDIER
 By Temple Bailey
 Liked by Everybody

At all bookstores $1.75
 PENN PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia

Headquarters For Engineering and Technical Books
Philadelphia Book Company
 17 South 9th Street

—OF "INVINCIBLE MINNIE," by Elisabeth Sanxay Holding, the Boston Transcript says: "Minnie is an achievement; she is the most extraordinary woman in recent American fiction. Minnie is 'invincible.' Yes, Minnie is real, in life, but she has not been made real in the American fiction of our day until Elisabeth Sanxay Holding created her for us in these pages. Minnie Defoe takes her place as the true American cousin, also the only American cousin, of Ann Veronica, Hilda Lessways, Sonia O'Rane and others among those British maidens we Americans have blessed and cursed, discussed and admired, and perhaps intensely admired, as the perfection and type of modern womanhood. But the greatest pride we can take is that she is 'our Minnie,' detestable, mysterious, wilful, pitiable in her weakness, yet magnificent in the use of her womanhood to overcome all the barriers that stand in the way of the things she desired."

At all Bookshops Net, $1.75 DORAN BOOKS

St. John Ervine's New Novel

THE FOOLISH LOVERS

Everyone who enjoyed "Changing Winds" and "Mrs. Martin's Man" will want to read this new novel by the same author. Keenly drawn, humorous, realistic, it is Ervine at his best—the finished work of one of the most brilliant of the present day novelists.

To Be Ready Next Week

THE FOOLISH LOVERS
 By St. John Ervine
 Author of "John Ferguson"
THE MACMILLAN COMPANY, Publishers, NEW YORK

Stevensonia
 George E. Brown has compiled an alphabetical reference guide to Stevensonia which will be useful to those who are interested in the subject and like a convenient reference volume. For example, more than five pages are devoted to "Treasure Islands" and the announcement that a copy of the first edition has sold for $35. Beginning with literature will find an unmythical and unmythical reference to the art of writing most profitable reading. It includes what he has said in his books, his essays and his letters.

A BOOK OF R. L. S. By George E. Brown. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. $2.50

NEW BOOKS
 Here are listed some books as seen to merit it. Here are listed some books as seen to merit it.

BRUCE
 By ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE
 Author of "Lad"

How Bruce came to "The Place," the thrill of his narrow escape from living death; the wonder and beauty of his devotion; they are revealed in this splendid story of what a collier can do. $2.00 at any bookstore.

E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 5th Ave., N.Y.

A romantic story of moonshiner life in the beautiful Tennessee mountains by a woman who knows of what she writes.

"The battles with the revenue officers, the feuds, the great storms that roll down the mountain valleys, the loyal devotion of the mountain people to each other, the quaint philosophy of the wandering preacher—all these make an intensely dramatic narrative, and in its portrayal of the primitive passions it is an especially successful piece of literary workmanship."—Boston Herald.

By MARIE E. HOFFMAN, of Germantown, Philadelphia. Price $1.75

MARSHALL JONES COMPANY
 212 Summer St. Boston

LEONARD MERRICK'S Worldlings
 One of the very best novels in years.
 Price $1.90
 E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 5th Ave., N.Y.

The Presbyterian Book Store
 Everything Desirable in Books
 WITHERSPOON BLDG.
 Walnut, Juniper and Sanson Sts.
 Elevator to 2nd Floor

You would expect something rather unusual in a novel that took the author ten years to write, wouldn't you? Well, you are not going to be disappointed when you read this book by Cynthia Lombardi.

"A Cry of Youth" is an unusual novel in every way. There is no use trying to sketch the plot of this splendid romance of a beautiful American girl and a young nobleman in their mountain retreat high up in the Apennines. It might mar for you too good a story. Let it suffice to say that it has all the warmth, the gorgeous coloring, the romantic atmosphere to be found in the best novels of Marjorie Crawford, Robert Hichens or Hall Caine. Ask your bookseller for

A CRY OF YOUTH
 By CYNTHIA LOMبارDI
 This is an Appleton Book
D. APPLETON & COMPANY PUBLISHERS NEW YORK

Mystery!

THE SECOND LATCHKEY
 by C. N. and A. M. Williamson
 The authors of "The Lion's Mouse" present a startlingly new mystery. $1.75

THE DARK MIRROR
 by Louis Joseph Vance
 A sensational stroke in mystery writing—a tale based on a psychic phenomenon. Better than "False Faces." $1.75. Doubleday, Page & Co., Publishers.

Hannah Bye
 By Harrison S. Morris

A clever picture of Quaker life in a present-day community. The life of Hannah Bye, a sweet but courageous Quakeress, is filled with strange happenings by contact with the "careless, sinful outside world."

At all bookstores $1.75 net

THE PENN PUBLISHING COMPANY PHILADELPHIA

LELIVRECONTE MPORAIN
 A magazine devoted to French literature.
 SCHOEENHOFF BOOK CO.
 15 Beacon St. Boston, Mass.

JACOBS FOR BOOKS
 1628 CHESTNUT STREET
 STATIONERY AND ENGRAVING

The Cresting Wave
 By Edwin Bateman Morris

The story of a man who made money a piggy bank was locked on as a big man. Then a girl called him a god—and he proved it. And he found what was wrong with himself and business America.

There is a love element, humor, a big shipwreck, and all in sprightly style.

At all bookstores. Jacket in Colors $1.75
THE PENN PUBLISHING COMPANY, PHILADELPHIA

Tamarisk Town
 A new novel by SHEILA KAYE-SMITH

"Tamarisk Town" is the creation of one man's strength and of his vision of a beautiful seaside resort among the Sussex tamarisks. Later another great passion comes into his life—for a woman who hates the town and is jealous of his absorption in it. The book is the story of the struggle of these conflicting forces told with a mastery of simplicity which makes it distinguished. $2.50 at all bookstores.
 E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 Fifth Ave., New York