Canonization of Joan of Arc by Pope

By the Associated Press
Rome, May 17.—Joan of Arc, the shepherd lass, who in 1420 was called from the peaceful fields of Domremy to lead the armies of France in victory against the English and Burgundy, yeaterday was exalted to sainthood. Thirty-thousand persons witnessed the rite in honor to the meek girl whose leadership founded modern France and whose life inspired the allied world during the dark hours of the great war just closed. Impressive ceremony and ancient ritual marked the addition of her name to the roll of the saints. After Pope Benedict had been enthroned in St. Peter's, dignitaries of the church advanced and voiced the claim that the pontiff should inscribe the name of Joan of Arc in the sacred list. Monsignor Galli replied for the pope, saying he must first invoke divine blessing on the event. Then chaplains intoned the litany of the saints. Then Pope Benedict, again seated on the throne, listened dict, again seated on the throne, listened to a second bequest on the part of the officials of the canonization. After prayer the pontiff remained in reverent silence for a space, and then rose the first notes of "Veni Creator Spiritus," were chanted for by the choir.

Then for a third time officials demanded that their supplications be granted, Mgr. Galli answering that, as the pope was convinced "this thing was pleasing to God, he had decided to pro-nounce the sentence of canonization."

Pope Places Name on Sacred List Then Pope Benedict announced to he Catholic world the solemn fact of he addition to the body of the saint of Joan of Arc, ordered in the name

Pope Benedict concluded his part of the of the new saint, and as he spoke a pic ture of Joan of Arch, which was placed behind the high altar, was unveiled. The impressive procession that marked the beginning of the ceremonies was then reformed and slowly wound its way back to the Vatican, passing through reverent, weeping throngs which again received the apostolic benediction. Great emotion was shown by descendants of the family of Joan of Arc, who had places in a tribune with members of the French Senate and Chamber of Depbany, Westminster House. 7 Milibank, London, S. W. 1.

Upon such deposits being made the Shareholder shall be deemed to have requested the Company to enter the holder of such Share Warrants on the Register and to issue the Certificates relating to the Shares which he is entitled to have salicited to him in accordance with the above Resolutions.

of Joan of Arc, ordered in the name of the Holy Trinity that her memory be held in pious devotion by the church, and called upon surrounding ecclesiastics to witness the fact. He at once directed the consistorial advocate to draw up the deed of announcement, and left the throne, intoning a "Te Deum." The bells of 8t. Peter's announced the happy event, and the bells of all the churches of Rome answered. The rite was concluded by celebration of mass by the Pope, the light from Benvenuto Cellini's historic cande-abra falling over the gorgeously vested ecclession. Good or Bad

NO credit man can be a good salesman unless he knows personally credit men in other lines of business situated in other localities.

A credit man must always look to the future for the repayment of his employer's money or do a C. O. D. business, which, of course, makes a credit department a luxury.

Credit references are of no value if you have no knowledge of or confidence in the informant.

There are today thousands of prosperous business enterprises which owe their success to what the National Association of Credit Men has done during the last twenty-five years to extend the personal acquaintanceship of their credit men.

They became acquainted through the conventions and work of the National Association of Credit Men, which is to hold its Twenty-fifth (Silver Jubilee) Convention at Atlantic City, June 1st to 5th, 1920.

A person who is worthy to have charge of a Credit Department must have as broad and actual (not theoretical) acquaintance as possible with all lines of business. Such broadvisioned knowledge can be obtained through the contacts and discussions at this convention.

He will learn, for instance, why quick transportation is vital to the credit end of business. He will see more clearly how antiquated and inadequate transportation facilities tie up millions of dollars of credit, making it utterly useless to the consignor or the consignee.

It will become more apparent to such a man that the modern transportation vehicle, the motor truck, delivering the short haul load from store-door to store-door, saves time, reduces outstanding book accounts and bank loans, and minimizes claims, to say nothing about increasing the number of satisfied customers.

Credit men, if you cannot do it in any other way, give up part of your vacation and spend your own money to attend the Convention of the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF CREDIT MEN TO BE HELD AT ATLANTIC CITY, June 1st to 5th, 1920.

This country right now needs real credit men.
