NEW JERSEY RATTLESNAKES AMONG LATEST ZOO ARRIVALS

TO START TONIGHT Species Believed Extinct Found Near Philadelphia—Summer Weather Attracts Record Crowd Seeking Acquaintance With New Specimens

With the first real summer day, thousands of persons gathered at the Zoo yesterday and marveled at the extraordinary collections there. It was the record attendance day of the season, and it rivaled some of the heaviest days of last season. The importation of animals and birds at this early date virtually doubles that of any former Coincident with the action taken by the state of New Jersey relative to the Volstead act, great dens of banded rattlesnakes have been found in that state and not twenty-five miles from Philadelphia. Through the generosity of the discoverer, George Scoville, of Philadelphia, the Zoo received two remarkable specimens. One of the specimens of the and presentation have been numerous. Y OU simply must include at least one dress of that lovely shimmering "Kumsi-Kumsa" silk in your summer wardrobe. saw a most attractive one at the Blum Store, 1310 Chestnut Street. Front and back panels and the lower section of the skirt were of a lovely shade of turquoise and the waist and upper part of the skirt were of white "Kumsi-Kumsa." Another white "Kumsi-Kumsa." Another dress which I liked was of rosecolored "Roshanara" crepe. The waist was most attractively beaded, and the skirt was pleated. A dress which would be most becoming to the woman who is inclined to be a bit stout, was of white Shantung. It was a tunic dress and was trimmed most effectively with I aiding in white. These are but a few of the attractive dresses to be found at the Blum Store.

TOU really have no idea until Y you've tried fixing up your house for the summer just how attractive and cool it can be made. Rugs are one of the most important items in summer furnishing. Those pretty cretonne-bordered rugs at Fritz & La Rue's, 1615 Chestnut Street, are really summery and the Street, are really summery and the hand-braided rugs look particularly well on a dark highly-polished floor. You spend a great deal of time on the veranda in summer, and if you have a breakfast-porch I can think of nothing more attractive for its floor-covering than the grass rug in a certain shade of dull blue which I saw at Fritz & La Rue's. The Kobe block rugs are also very good for the porch, and the Belgian rush rugs are very practical and durable.

Van Sciver Values Hit High Prices Their Hardest Blow

Enormous Sales of Furniture to Discriminating Customers Who Have Compared Prices and Qualities Elsewhere, is the Greatest Proof of the Unequalled Values That Are Attracting Hundreds to the Great Van Sciver Store.

Large numbers of customers who have taken our advice, not to buy Furniture until they proved to their own satisfaction by comparison where the best opportunities were offered, are leaving their orders with us, because they say we are giving the best values.

Keeping the quality up and the prices down is a sound principle that not only made this Store popular and prosperous, but also made it great. Greater than any other Store of its kind in the country. Greatest in its enormous economic facilities for the purchase, manufacture and sale of Furniture and Home Furnishings. A leadership fairly won, and easily maintained by the quality of our stocks and the rarity of our values.

Stocks and materials, for instance, contracted for at the lower quotations of six to twelve months ago, are now going out to customers at the proportionate savings effected in their manufacture and purchase.

This Charming Queen Anne Suite, Ten Pieces, $550.00. Sold Separately if Desired The Queen Anne Period, to which the designer had recourse in producing this handsome Dining Room Suite has resulted in the creation of an exceedingly graceful and charming group. While simplicity is the keynote of the design, the rich roundings of edges and careful execution of the smaller and more refined details have been artistically adhered to, characteristics only found in the masterpieces of this Period. The delicate tracery work of the atretchers adds a quaint charm to this fine Suite. In Mahogany or Wainut.
