

LENINE RECOGNIZES SIBERIAN REPUBLIC

Strongest Man of Far Eastern Democracy Is Former Chicago Lawyer

PORT TAKEN FROM TURKEY

By the Associated Press
Moscow, May 18.—Recognition of the far eastern democratic republic of Siberia has been decided upon by the Russian soviet government, despite opposition on the part of certain of the ministry. A note to this effect was sent last Sunday to M. Krasnosholokoff, minister of foreign affairs of the new republic. Diplomatic relations between the soviet government and the far eastern republic will be opened immediately.

Negotiations between the far eastern republic and Japan will continue, but as many questions at issue also concern soviet Russia, it is probable the negotiations will take the form of a triple conference in which the Moscow government will participate.

M. Krasnosholokoff is regarded as the strongest man in the far eastern republic, and was formerly a lawyer of Chicago. He was identified with the American labor movement for several years, and recently has been president of the executive committee at Khabarovsk. He was the first to advocate a coalition of parties and the establishment of a soviet democratic government in Siberia as being best suited to the country's needs and the international situation.

It is expected that negotiations with Japan will hinge around the status of the East Manchurian Railway. The Russian soviet government will probably insist that it retain an interest in this road. It is indicated the rights of foreign shareholders will be fully protected, as the far eastern republic recognizes private ownership.

Meanwhile, peace negotiations between the Russian soviet government and Latvia have become involved over boundary questions. British trades union delegates, arriving here yesterday, were met by a military guard of honor. Representatives of the central executive committee of the Moscow soviet, all-Russian trades unions, factory committees and other organizations constituted the committee of welcome. A large meeting in honor of the visitors will be held at the opera house today.

75 HELD IN MOSCOW AS ZIONIST PLOTTERS

Moscow, May 18.—(By A. P.)—Seventy-five delegates and alternates to the all-Russia Zionist congress, which met here late in April, have been arrested, the extraordinary commission announced yesterday. Extraordinary secrecy attending the congress and the fact that a large proportion of those present were not Zionists led to the arrests.

Investigation, it is alleged, resulted in the discovery of compromising documents, many of foreign origin, revealing close contact with entente countries.

POLISH FORCES FLUNG BACK

Moscow Government Reports Successes in Vicinity of Kiev

London, May 18.—(By A. P.)—Successes against the Poles in the fighting on the northern part of the front are reported in an official message from Moscow, dated yesterday. The Poles were forced back over the Beresina at one point. The statement says: "In the Kiev region on the left bank of the Dnieper, fighting is proceeding fourteen miles northeast and southeast of Kiev. In the Slobid and Mosir directions our troops, having started a counter-advance in the vicinity of the railway, flung back the enemy to the right bank of the Beresina."

"In the region of Cherkassy our advancing troops captured a number of villages on the right bank of the Dnieper, from twenty-four to twenty-seven miles northwest of Cherkassy." Bolsheviks have appeared at Astara and crossed the Persian frontier, says a dispatch to the Times from Téhéran, dated May 17. The dispatch adds that the Bolsheviks said they had no quarrel with Persia, but that the British troops must be withdrawn.

REBELS PURSUE CARRANZA

By the Associated Press

Juarez, Mex., May 18.—With 3500 troops, General P. Elias Calles, revolutionary provisional minister of war, will leave here tomorrow for Mexico City, General Calles announced.

His forces were to consist of 1500 troops of cavalry under General Miguel Pina and 1000 infantrymen, led by Colonel Jesus Aguirre.

According to reports received by the minister of war, President Carranza fled on horseback from Tetele, Puebla, toward the plains of Vera Cruz. General Arnulfo Gomez has been sent to intercept and capture the fugitives, it is said. General Obregon was reported last at San Luis Potosi.

Two hundred men who have for some time been in rebellion against the Carranza government have presented themselves to the liberal constitutionalist commander at Boniquillas, Coahuila, and pledged themselves to the cause of the revolution. According to Luis Montes de Oca, revolutionary consular representative at El Paso, the rebels brought with them 300 horses and considerable war material, according to Senor Montes de Oca.

Washington, May 18.—Pablo Gonzalez's withdrawal from the contest for the presidency of Mexico reported to the State Department was regarded here as the best indication that leaders of the de facto government desired to eliminate the danger of a rising from political rivalry. Further evidence of co-ordinate action was seen in the announcement that Manuel Palaez, to

FAMOUS TOREADOR KILLED

Millionaire Bullfighter Gallito Dies

Madrid, May 18.—The noted toreador, Gallito, whose real name was Joseleto Gomez, was killed Sunday night at Place de Talavera as he was about to dispatch the fifth bull of the evening.

Gallito jumped into the ring to save another toreador, Sanchez Mejias, who was in a dangerous situation while fighting the bull. The animal turned furiously on the newcomer, caught him in the stomach with his horns and tossed him. Doctors were immediately telegraphed for from Madrid. They arrived within a few hours, but too late. Gallito, only twenty-three years old, had been in the bull ring ever since he was fourteen. He was engaged to be married and his fiancée was present when he was tossed by the bull. He leaves a fortune of 8,000,000 pesetas ($1,600,000), earned in the bull ring. The dead toreador was born in Seville of a famous family of bull-fighters.

MEN AND BUSINESS

By RICHARD SPILLANE

In a fine burst of patriotic fervor everybody who could do so planted a "war garden" a few years ago. This was in response to the appeal to feed our Allies. If we didn't feed them the war might be lost. There is no more need for "war gardens" this year. The war this year is on a food shortage that is more serious than you know and on prices that threaten to be higher than any you have seen. We made a lot of grotesque mistakes in our war gardening. We bought rakes and spades and seed and other things enough for a young farm and, in addition to spending unwisely, we worked nobly for a time and then, our enthusiasm waning, neglected our job. That is not peculiar to the amateur farmer or the amateur in anything else. Bring out the old spades and other implements you bought and, when you were disgusted, put away. If you have any bit of ground you can cultivate get busy. If you have no land try to get in on a community garden. Capitalize your experience of a few years ago. Because the result then was disappointing is no reason why you shouldn't try again. You probably learned more than you appreciate.

Plant something. Plant onions, tomatoes, parsley, beets, celery, radishes, turnips, beans and such. Don't quit. You can raise a lot of stuff on a little patch of ground. The trick, farms are in a bad way for labor. If city and town folk do not strive to safeguard themselves they are likely to see prices higher than they have known before. There is a little old saying that the Lord helps those who help themselves. Dig. Sow. Reap.

The killing of Gallito caused more emotion in Spain than the death of a monarch or a pope.

Why you are interested in an American merchant marine

PATRIOTIC Americans agree that a merchant marine is necessary to the Nation's welfare in peace and vital to its safety in war.

For decades before the war our flag was rarely met at sea.

America could not meet the competition of foreign ships, more cheaply operated and often fostered by government aid.

We have a great merchant fleet.
We must keep it.

But we must maintain American standards both in the shipyard and on the sea.

The Seaman's Act of 1915 improved conditions on board American ships and awakened a new interest in seafaring. Legislation now pending in Congress aims to perpetuate our war-built merchant marine.

American labor is vitally interested—

Because busy shipyards employ tens of thousands of men (350,000 during the war); there are as many outside of but dependent on the shipyards; ships employ thousands more;

Because our shipyards and ships cannot exist—much less pay high wages—unless wise shipping laws are enacted;

Because more ships mean more foreign trade, which spells more work for American labor. What department store would deliver its goods in its competitor's motor vans?

This legislation declares that the policy of the United States is "to do whatever may be necessary to develop and encourage" a merchant marine.

This policy merits the support of every American.
