Mr. Markham Said It
Mr. Markham, please accept my keen congratulation.
For the truth which you exploited in the fellow with the hoe.
Not the smallest doubt have I, sir, that you topped the situation.
In depicting all the anguish which you said he met before.

On his back—so you attested—
Earth's most massive burdens rested,
And his face was empty, very—so at least I think you wrote;
And you doped him as a brother—
To the one—his face was empty, very—
Line of dope that's half so truthful
From the pen of rival poet.

Only yesterday I gathered a suggestion
From a man who had been thinking
That my garden needed hoeing, so I
Lit upon the job;
And for twenty-seven minutes at this
Non-poetic labor
I managed and combed the landscape
—till I sank down with a sob.

For my neck was nigh to breaking,
And my spinal cord was aching,
And my face was empty, very—
Of the latter there's no doubt—
For while vengeance I was wreaking
On the weeds, it started leaking,
And before the job was finished
Twenty gallons had run out.

SCRAPS ABOUT SCRAPPERS

FRANK LOUGHREY has come back. The Manganon mauler has returned to that billy district after mauling throughout the West for a period of about 10 months. Frank went west last July, and he spent most of his time in the state of Arizona where he met several real tough guys—several times. For instance, Loughrey took on a bird by the name of Young Palmer, the bout ending in a ten-round draw. They were re-matched and another even break resulted. Next a mean mitt-welder, Russell Chambers, was Loughrey's vis-a-vis, this match also ending in a draw. A return match between Loughrey and Chambers ended in Loughrey's favor and a third contest, shortly after finished in a draw. Frank went as far west as Los Angeles where he took part in several four-round encounters. Recently Loughrey received a "lurvy-ry" from his brother, Tom, to return here. Tom decided to become a light manager, and, as he believes in "start-up" money, he is out on the road, his brother Frank. Now Frank is back, he is training daily and in about two weeks, Tom says, Frank will be ready for the best of the welterweights and any of the middleweights. After several matches at local clubs, Frank thinks he would be fit for a fling at Mike O'Dowd.

A banter bout between Marty Kane and Martin Judge, eight rounds, is the headliner at the Garden tomorrow night. Other eight-rounders will be between Tommy Hudson and Lew Stinger, and Indian Hudson and K. O. Johnny Hunter. Also, Willie Gallagher vs. Tommy Dwyer and Young Griffin vs. Young Corbett.

Willie Gannon will break into the wind-up class in the Garden tomorrow night. He will meet Philadelphia Joe Wellins in the first of a triple eight-round series, and the other two long bouts being George Ward vs. Spike McFadden and Tony Daniels vs. Eddie Farnet. The three Kie Wagner vs. Johnny Morgan and Harry (Kid) Ernie vs. Williams.

Eddie Fitzsimmons, the New York southpaw will box in the place of Willie Jackson at the Ice Palace on the night of June 2. Jackson is informed promoter George Fowling that his hand, injured recently against Johnny Dundee, was out of commission. Fitz's opponent will be Pal Moran, of New Orleans.

Pal Moran is now under the management of Joe Voland, of New York. Voland is mounting out a busy campaign for the New York lightweight and the will endeavor to bring the Italian line for a championship match. Before boxing Eddie Fitzsimmons here Moran will take on Johnny Dundee at Lawrence, Mass., Monday afternoon.

Harry (Kid) Brown found himself into a ten-round decision contest with Fred Jacks, an Englishman, at New Bedford, Mass., Saturday afternoon by his old manager, Johnny Kilbana here on Monday night. The Kid, only nineteen years of age, looks like one of the best boxers of his weight in the country. He weighed 128 pounds before stepping

Jap Tennis Player Stars on Paris Courts

Paris, May 27.—Zeon Schmitzu, the Japanese tennis player, holder of the championship of Japan and India, is proving the sensation of the world hard court tennis tournament being played here. The Oriental racket wielder reached the semi-final round yesterday by eliminating Nicholas Mishu, the Rumanian star, in a five-set match which the latter defaulted due to exhaustion.

Mishu won the first and third sets, while Schmitzu took the second and fourth. The fifth and deciding set was long-drawn out and the Rumanian finally was forced to default owing to his inability to continue the grueling game. All the English players had been previously eliminated and there were no American entrants.

Bingles and Bungles

Zeus! Two falls in a row out of the camp.
Not so bad! What?
Only one game behind the Browns.
Martin, Moore, Nagler and Perry.
If they can win we'll all be merry.
But if they lose then we'll see Mack.
Hit the bottom with a crack.
Let's hope they win. Counte gives us a four-game leap away from last place.
Tilly Walker lost ground in his race with Babe Ruth. Tilly has six and the Babe eight.
Jimmy Dokes did enough to Williams and Payne to win the bally ball game for the A's.
Four runs, two singles, a double and seven correct fielding plays led to a win in an afternoon. That's Jimmy Dokes.
Walker and Duggs were the other sluggers who contributed three hits. One of Joseph's clouts was a homer.
Phillips open with the Dodgers today. Hope they dodge defeat.
Red Sox went into first place by taking the out-of-season game last night in a slugfest.
The Indians dropped out of first place when Washington thrashed them in a slugfest, 15-5.
The Cards fell on Rine, Fisher and Elmer, three of Moran's aches, for seventeen hits and won, 10-5.
