EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER-PHILADELPHIA, THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1920

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Tells of the Adriance-Deans Wedding on June

12-She Sees Strange Styles at the Devon Horse Show

Mr.-and Mrs. James Wallace are now in their new home at the Greenway, Thirty-fourth and Charles street, Bal-timore. Effore their marriage in April Mrs. Wallace was Miss Dorothy Hal-lowell, daughter of Mr, and Mrs. Wil-liam Hallowell of the Wellington. Mrs. Wallace entertained at lunchcor at the Bellevue-Stratford yesterday, followed by a matinee party in homor of Miss Grace Christine Geiger, of Overbrook, and her bridal party, whose marriage to Mr. Jonathan Seltzer Wilford, of Merion, will take place June 8. thick not, rumors out at the Horse Show vesterday that another Philadel-phia. New York alliance was scheduled for June 12, but it may not be, one never can tell. A bride has the privilege of changing her mind about her wedding date before she has announced it, so, as I said, it may not be, but keep your ears open, and watch the mails for invitations. will take place June 8.

A luncheon will be given by the grad-uating class of Muss Hill's School on Wednesday, June 2, at the Bellevne-Stratford, chaperoned by Miss Lillian Jones and Miss Agges Bell Austin, the school's principals, NEVER saw such short dresses as There are this year! I had thought that reports which, have reached us about greater saneness in dress were perhaps true, but, believe me. I have seldom seen such strange get-ups as those at the Show yesterday. This harem yell business is so funny. ALONG THE MAIN LINE

This harem veil business is so furny You see, you put on your bat and then you take a thick chiffon yeil and double it in four to look like a thick bandage, then you pass it across your face and fasten it at the back brim of your hat, fasten it at the back brim of your hat, leaving about two inches of veil beyond the fastening. Then you kind of lift your eyebrow a bit and the veil gradu-ally slips down from your eyes and in

Miss Elizabeth, Craig, of New Alexue and white plaids, Every one was looking for Mrs. andria, Pa., is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. B. W. Miller, at her home at Wister street and Thorps lane. Alexander Brown, but she was not there. I heard Mr. Penn Smith telling some one that she was ill—had an atwas not pying their home at 179 Manheim street Mr. and Mrs. John T. Mudd are occutack of ptomaine poisoning. I hope she'll be better and able to come to a

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Robertson will spend the week-end with Mrs. J. C. Foy part of the affair, for she worked wfully hard over it. at Ventnor. They had two cunning pigs for sale and two goats, and the loveliest hats and lingerie and all sorts of odds and ends. As for the eats, they were won-day evening.

derful. And the ice-cream cones were a joy, especially when the sun became Mrs. Lewis Sweiger, of Seymour an Greene streets, entertained at cards at her home yesterday afternoon. The suests numbered thirty. rather warm, as it did late in the after-

Mrs. Alberta Morris Borzner, of 163 TEE Molly had a new pair of shoes

O'NE of the near future weddings tions for a tea on Thursday afternoon, June 3, from 4 until 6 o'clock. well as Philadelphia is that of Eleanor Miss Agnes Rowland Levis, of 6624 Owhich is interesting New York as well as Phindelphia is that of Elemor Deans, daughter of Mrs. John Sterling Deans, of Phoenixville, and Bill Adriance, of New York. The wedding will be very pretty and will take place in the beautiful Valley Forge Memorial Church on the 12th of June. Elizabeth Deans, the bride's sister, is to be maid of honor at the marriage and Mrs. John C. Bell, Jr., who you remember was Sarah Baker, is to be maidor of liboor. Elennor Gamble, of Haverford, Doro-thy Adriance, a sister of the bride groom Mrs. Augustine S. Janeway and Sally Magil will be bridesmaids. And

There in wide, perhericital party of the prime o

MISS BERTHA MILTON WHITH

The engagement of Miss White, of 3626 Walnut street, and Mr. Myron Stephen Powers, of Springfield. Mass., has been recently announced family, of 130 West Mount Airy avenu-will leave this week-end to spend th summer at Wildwood.

NORTH PHILADELPHIA

Dr. Andrew J. Sceler, of this city, mounces the marriage of his daughter. Missi Mildred Marshall Seeler, to Mr. Maurice Hitchen, of Boston, yesterday in the Spring Garden Methodist Episcopal Church, by the Rev. Linn Bowman, After June 15 Mr, and Mrs. Hitchen will be at home at 2 Commonwealth Chambers, 1802 Massachusetts avenue, Cam-

ALONG THE MAIN LINE A surprise shower and housewarming was given to Mrs. John S. Leniz, Jr., of Old Lancaster road, Haverford, on Sat-urday evening by the following relatives and friends: Mrs. John S. Leniz, Mrs. John W. Janney, Miss Virginia N. Leniz, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar R. Boswell, Miss Gertrude Bardenhuer, Miss Margaret Bardenhuer, Miss Eleanor Bardenhuer, Mrs. E. H. Mefford, Miss Bertha Swan, Miss Eva Desmond, Miss Gertrude Hen-essey, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Levis, Miss Catharine Ziebarth, Mr. William Walter, Mr. Samuel T. Ross, Mr. James Hood, Mr. Leo Bardenhuer and Mr. U. S. Schwartz. bridge, Mass. Miss Anna Shields was the May hostcase of the card club of which she is a member. Miss Margaret Wolfe, Miss Jean Ledwith, Mrs. Henry Brachhold, Miss Olive Lees, Mrs. Lester Dicken-sheets, Miss Beutah Teitsworth, Miss Elsa Woolsifer and Miss Mary De Witt were the guests.<sup>4</sup>

The show, and I wonieved if it wonth as the same woney it's rather a shock.
The show, and I wonieved if it wonth as the same show, and I wonieved if it wonth as the same show, and I wonieved if it wonth as the same show, and I wonieved if it wonth as the same show, and I wonieved if it wonth the show.
Never R saw anything so wonderfur the wonth the show, with the show, and I wonieved if it wonth the show.
Never R saw anything so wonderfur the shows, which had beer wones the the show, white plaids.
Never R saw anything so wonderfur the wone of the shows, which had beer wones with he show it was not the right size. It was up that was not the right size. It was up the wone of the shows, which had beer wones wones wone wones wone wones wones wones wones wones wones won

Wedding of Dr. Tyson's Daughter at St. Stephen's Church. Campbell-Crozer Nuptials

WEST PHILADE PHIA Mrs. L. Howard Weatherby, of 3919 Chestnut street, will give a luncheon on Saturday in honor of her daughter, Miss Carol Smith. The marriage of Miss Frances Tyson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. Mellor Ty-son, and Dr. John B. Carson, son of Mr, and Mrs. Hampion L. Carson, took blace yesterday at 3:30 o'clock, in St. Stephen's Church, Tenth near Chestnut

Miss Grace Cathart was maid of honor

Miss Grace Carhart was maid of honor and the bridesmaids included Miss Rachel Fitter. Miss Helen Hope Wilson. Mrs. Arthur E. Billings and Miss Eliza-beth W. Fackard. Little Miss Sarah Carson and Miss Hope Randolph, nieces of the bride-groom, were flower girls. Mr. Evan Ran-dolph was beat man and the usbers in-cluded Mr. Joseph Carson, brother of the bridegroom; Mr. John A. Baker, of Connecticut; Dr. Peter McCall Keating. Dr. Arthur F. Billings. Dr. Hunter W. Searlett, of this city, and Dr. Frank H. Pinckney, of Morristown. A reception followed at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Tyson, 1506 Spruce street.

CAMPBELL-CROZER

CAMPBELL—CROZER A home wedding will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Miss Eliz-abeth Warden Crozer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frice Crozer, of Upland, Pa., will be married to Mr. William Henry Campbell, of Los Angeles, Calif., the Rev. Dr. Milton G. Evans, president of Crozer Theological Seminary. offici-ating. The bride, who will be attired in a white satin and tulle gown, trimmed will duckess lace, with court train and will carry lillies of the valley, will be attended by Mrs. Robert Dennison Jones, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Zoltan de Hor-vath, of Upland, as matrons of honor, and Miss Doris Fenton, of Philadelphia, as maid of honor, wearing gowns of white organdie and filet lace, and white satin straw hats trimmed with blossoms and French satin streamers. Their flowand French satin streamers. white dilac eas. The bride's niece, Miss Jane Dieh

SYRUP

TRANKLIN SYRUP

A cane sugar

syrup made by the re-finers of

Franklin

Package

The Franklin Sugar

Refining Company

A Franklin Cone Sugar

Sugars.

Lober, of Wynnewood, will be brides, maid. She will wear a white chilfon gown and hat and will carry a spray of white flowers. Three other small nieces will act as flower girls, dreased in white organdie frocks and carry baskets of dalales with ribbon. They will be Miss Mary Radey Acter, Miss Elizabeth Crozer Acker wid Miss Josephine Crozer Ludlow. Mr. Robert Dennison Jones, of Los Angeles, will be best man. There will be no ushers. A large reception will follow the ceremony. After their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Campbel will live at Wyndhurst, Up-land, Pa. WEST PHILADE PHIA

SOUTH PHILADELPHIA

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Joaline, of the Reed Apartments, will open their summer home in Atlantic City, where they will remain for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Quigly are re-ceiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on Tuesday. May 18. Mrs. Quigly will be remembered as Miss Alice Splane. Miss Katherine Naglee Mortimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mor-timer, of 499 South Forty-second street, has returned from New York, where she has spent a year doing occupational therapy at the United States Govern-ment hospital. States Island, and also, at Colonia, N. J. Miss Henrietta Singer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Singer, of 512 South Fourth street, will be the guest of friends in Washington over the week-

Mrs. Frank H. Whiting, of Forty-second and Pine street, has closed her whiter home and is visiting relatives in Norfolk, Va. Mr, and Mrs. Albert Sterling ener-tained at a shower Sunday evening at

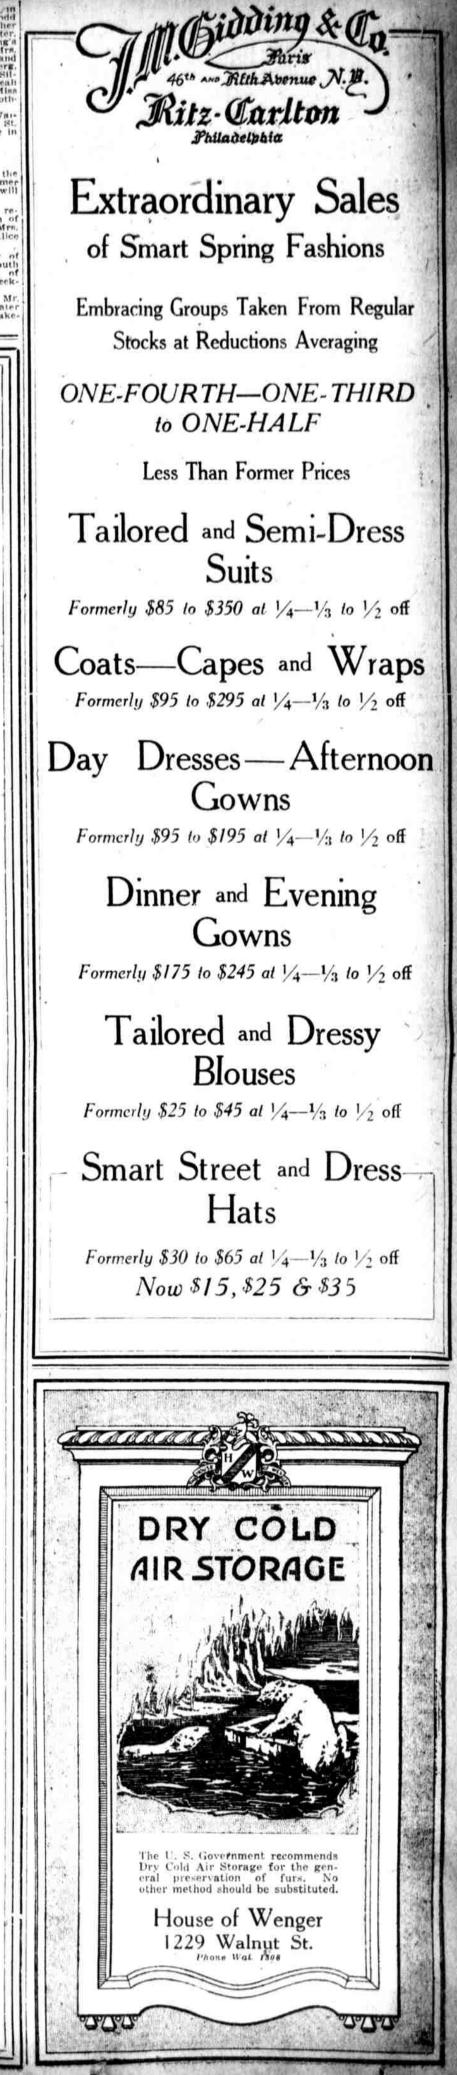

READ ABOUT THE LITTLE SHOL FING JOURNEYS OF PAULETTE AND BECOME ACQUAINTED WITH THE SMALLER BEST SHOPS IS TO FIND AND APPRECIATE BEAUTIFUL AND UN-USUAL ARTICLES OF EVERY KIND, SINCERE IN QUALITY, IN PERFECT TASTE AND OFTEN DELIGHTFULLY REASONABLE IN PRICE.

Most of you are familiar with that inviting little shop whose slogan is "Exclusive Fashions Reasonably Priced." There you usually find just the ravishing thing you want at a price as low as is consistent with such excellent quality and latest mode. I never saw a prettier array of garments for late spring and summer 'as that shop (it is Benguyer's, 1214 Walnut street) has now on exhibition, and that is why I am particularly glad to be able to tell you that their entire new stock is reduced 20% until further notice. There are fetching gowns for all occasions, graceful wraps, snappy suits, blouses, sports skirts, unusual sweaters and exclusive millinery. It is a great opportunity for saving and for obtaining lovely things which perhaps are ordinarily a little more expensive than the purses of some women can usually afford.

Dance frocks that are distinctively summer affairs are difficult to find, but Giddings (frequently called The Paris Shop of America), established in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, Broad and Walnut, have such a model that is perfection. Picture a Watteau inspiration which Marie Antoinette, in her famous play-dairving, might have worn. It is of white taffeta striped in a faint French blue and pompadoured in pink posies. And then the adorable bodiceactually a pointed basque back and front, over a bouffant skirt panniered a-top of a petticoat (the petticoat is detachable, I believe) of tea - color organdie beautifully embroidered. The sleeves are very short and roundly puffed and the deep, round neck has a frill of the mellow organdic. The climax is a trailing spray of decidedly French old-red and deep blue roses accompanied by streamers of French blue velvet—all tucked just below one of the fetching panniers.

To many bookshops have I wandered in search of a particular volume to invariably find it at Campion's, 1313 Walnut street. That is why I particularly enjoy telling you about the shop. Not only is it possible to get current fiction there when most other shops either have not received or have exhausted their editions, but it is a very Mecca for seekers of rare books. Take, for example, a wonderful set (very difficult to find) of those fascinating memoirs of the French Court, written by Martha Walker freer. There are 19 volumes, bound in half including 4 vols, devoted to Anne of Austria, 2 vols, of Marguerite D'Angouleme, 2 vols. of Jeanne D'Albret, 2 vols. of Elizabeth De Valois, 2 vols. of The Last Decade, vols, of Henry 111, 2 of Henry IV, 2 of Henry IV and Marie de Medici. Oh, there is a royal array. The set is priced at $150.

to which an

Louis Stone & Co., 1306 Walnut street, are offering a group of women's garments at $56 each, reduced from prices whose range was $95 to $150. There are frocks of georgette, satin, lace, tricolette and tricotine, not to speak of a large number of navy tricotine suits, all reduced from the same range of prices. Also a number of capes and dolmans, about 40 I think; now priced at $38, are to be had at this same shop. Their original prices were much higher. I must tell you, too, about another group of garments priced as low as $25 each This includes tan tricotine suits, and satin and taffeta frocks of various kinds. Of course, they are all very much reduced.

Squirrel is a fur particularly desirable for summerin weight, color and general appearance. Sieferts, located at 1426 Walnut, noted for their reliable pelts, have a most complete assortment of squirrel especially designed for wear during the warmer months. There are stoles, choker scarfs, collarettes and shoulder capes, all with distinctive little touches of the 1920 season. The squirrel pieces range from $35 to $55 for small choker scarfs to long shoulder scarfs priced from $67.50 to $200, prices depending upon the size and color of the pieces. Mole, too, is an exquisite fur for warm weather. At this same shop I saw an indescribably graceful cape of gray tricolette banded, belted and collared and even vested in silvery mole. It is inconceivable that a beau-tiful garment of this kind can be had for $275.00. Other beautiful mole pieces are likewise reasonably priced.

I am particularly anxious to bring to the attention of Philadelphia women that sanitary and particular shop for fastidious people, conducted by Denney & Denney, Inc., at 1513 Walnut Street. It is delightfully spacious and exquisitely clean, and as you are going through the various processes to make you beautiful, which are indispensable to good grooming, you gaze out upon a garden!

But what I started to tell you about is the permanent waving which is there done at its best and safest by an improved method. Do you know anything about the new wave? At this establishment it requires from two to four hours and costs from $18 to $40, according to the number of curls. The wave lasts six months, or much longer, depending upon the hair. It is such a natural wave that moisture but improves it. Permanently waved hair takes a wonderful water wave. The permanent wave will be a joy to you during the summer months. But do make your appointments carly. During May and early June you will get old prices, so I advise you to make your appointments carly.

Those Chertak hats at the exclusive house of Wenger, 1229 Walnut, are particularly lovely just at this There are stunning creations for present wearing time. and models ravishing for midsummer. I was no less than enthralled by an unusual model of jade (the hue so supremely smart this season) batavia wreathed in large wild honeysuckle of a ruddy yellow. The hat is quite large, and one can imagine its cool appearance and the comfort of its shady brim on a hot summer day.

You are doubtless acquainted with the reputation of the House of Wenger for superlative pelts, and it is decidedly of interest to Philadelphia to learn that Wenger furs now ordered for the winter season will be discounted to insure patrons a considerable saving,

WEEK OF Saulette MAY TWENTY-FOURTH