Both, Winners Last Night, Jackson Posts Forfeit Loom Up Logical Contenders for Featherweight Crown - Root K. O.ed

FRANK FLOYD WINS

By LOUIS H. JAFFE A BRACE of the several frisky feather—
A weight aspirants for the crown of the gray-haired and foxy veteran, Johnny Kilbane, looms up brilliantly today on the fistic horizon as logical contenders for the Clevelander's title, while another is effaced from the pugilistic picture of that division, following last night's ring encounters at the Philadelphia Ice Palane. It was the second adelphia Ice Palane. It was the second to the number of seats in the spacious arena, saw the bouts.

Artie Root, who was in line for a erack at his fellow townsman's laurels, was knocked out of such a match when he was knocked out by Johnny Murray, of New York, while the latter put himself out in front prominently as a danself ou A BRACE of the several frisky feather-

Andy went along last night for six ounds outpointing the title-holder in is final fracas on the program. The set two rounds were even because first two rounds were even because neither of the glovemen put on any action. In the second round Referee Frank Floyd warned the principals to fight, or he "would chase them from the ring." and this threat evidently inspired Chancy. The Baltimore lad opened the Change, I have with a hard right cross to third frame with a hard right cross to Kilbane's mouth, which shook up Johnny and also started the blood from

Johnny and also started the blood from between the champ's lips.

The third session belonged to Chaney by a wide margin, so did the fourth and the fifth and also the sixth, mostly because the Baltimore boy was doing most of the fighting while Kilbane did most of the holding. Referee Floyd again warned Kilbane "to fight," and also about heeling, in the third round, but Johns only smiled.

about heeling, in the third round, but Johnny only smiled.

After permitting Chaney to do almost all of the punching, amid jeers, hoots and cat-calls by the fans, for the first six rounds, Kilbane finally decided to make it a two-man affair in the seventh and also the eighth. In these two periods Kilbane proved without a doubt that he still could fight. He punched Chaney so hard and so often that it looked one-sided, but Chaney's early advantage en-titled him to the decision, or some-

Murray Can Hit

for Bout With Tendler

Willie Jackson posted a $1000 check last night with Leon L. Rains as a forfeit for weight, 135 pounds, ringside, for his bout with Lew Tendler at the Phillies' Ball Park July 12. It is to be an eight-round contest. Jackson has been guaran-early in the round, and when Artie got up another hook felled him. Once more Root picked himself off the canvas and when he was floored for the third time, Floyd called hostilities off.

Both Murray and Chaney are legitimate featherweights in accordance with the new scale of the international boxing rules which state that 126 pounds is the weight for that division. Chaney weighed in at 124 pounds and Murray tipped the beam at 125. Kilbane's weight was announced as 124%. Root weighed 125.

It wasn't on the program but weighed 125.

It wasn't on the program, but Referee Floyd won a decision when it was announced that Sam Lewis would officiate in the bout between Kilbane and Chaney. Floyd forgot to leave the ring, saying he didn't have to. He was the official club referee, he said, both Matchmaker John Hanlon and Promoter Pawling upheld him and, after a short and bloodless controversy, Floyd remained in the ring as the party of the third part.

Britton Is Winner

Another titleholder demonstrated his wares, when Jack Britton, welterweight boss, proved conclusively that Young Joe Borrell, 145 pounds, would never become the champion. Britton, at the same weight, won each and every one of the scheduled eight rounds, doing it niftly and nicely. All Borrell proved was that he could "take it." and he did, Britton administering a fine assortment of jabs, hooks and jolts. ment of jabs, hooks and jolts. Harry Greb, of Pittsburgh, weighed 166 pounds, and then dealt out a lacing to Indian Chief Clay Turner, 173 pounds. Greb dropped the redskin for the count of nine in the first round, and it looked like curtains, but Turner weathered the storm of soaks for that round, and also seven succeeding sessions, although every one there marveled how he did it. Greb walloped Turner with everything but the water bottle. Still Clay was there on his feet when Joe Cervino hit the gong for the finish of the fray.

Another bout on the bill brought to-gether Eddie Fitzsimmons, weighing a liberal 135 pounds and Pal Moran, who looked less than 130. Before the con-test Fitz was figured a knockout win-ner, but before it was all over the southpaw had to be contented with the verdict by not so wide a margin. In the early rounds it was a case of a left-handed socker trying to beat a right-handed hitter to the punch. Beth connected with some stiff jolts, but neither seald some a knockdown. In the lest That Murray should be taken sericusily as a probable successor to Kilbane's throne was proved by his ability as a puncher. After outpointing Root for four rounds, Johnny's terrific left hook became evident in the fifth. One of these blows dropped Root for the count

HE THREW GAME Wife Delighted When Slugger

Chicago Baseball Club Avers Player Confessed He Caused Team to Lose

Cincinnati, O., June 3.-Lee C. Magee, Cincinnati, professional ball player, confessed to William L. Veeck, president of the Chicago National League Ball Club, Chicago, on February 10.

1920, that he bet against the Cincinnati Reds in July, 1919, when a member of the Red (team, and made "intentional wild throws" and "otherwise" played to cause his team to lose to Boston.

This is alleged in an amended answer filed in the United States District Court here by the Chicago club to Magee's suit for $9500, alleged to be due as damages for the refusal of the Chicago club to permit him to play with the Chicago team this year.

The amended answer was filed as a result of the ruling of United States

The amended answer was filed as a result of the ruling of United States District Judge John W. Peck last Saturday sustaining, in part, Magee's motion to require the Chicago club to set forth with definiteness and detail its allegations concerning his alleged dishonest ball playing.

The name of Hal Chase, former Cincinnati first beseman, also is mentioned in the answer of the club, it being averred that Magee told Veeck that he had conspired with Chase to bet against the Reds. These matters are set out by the club as its third defense to Maby the club as its third defense to Ma-

The Chicago club asks the court to dismiss Magee's suit. The case is as-signed for hearing June 7.

Lipton Departs for U. S. Lendon, June 3.—Crowds of well-wishers sang 'For He's a Joly Good Fellow' as Sir Thomas Lipton departed by train for Liverpool to embark on the steamship Ceitle for New York to attend the international yacht races in which his Shamrock IV will endeavor to win the America's Cup from the American defender Resolute or Vanitie.

Hank Gowdy Is Fined $100 Because He Gets Married

Hank Gowdy has been fined $100 by Manager Stallings as a penalty for his recent dive into the matrimonial sea. The fine was imposed because Hank took an extra day recently in order to give his sweetheart his name. He notifed Stallings that he would like an extra day at that time. When Gowdy received his pay check in Boston yesterday he found the $100

"BABE" 'AND "HON" RUTH IGNORE BASEBALL AT HOME

Slams Qut Fifteenth Homer

New York, June 3.

Life is not all roses and home runs for Babe Ruth. He has other things for Babe Ruth. He has other things to think about, the most important of which are beeksteaks and "Hon." Yes "Hon" is "The Mrs.", but to Babe she is just "Hon," first, last and all the time. Incidentally, Babe is "Hon" to "Hon," which makes it unanimous. New York fans went in baseball deliriums yesterday when the costly beauty of the Polo Grounds amashed out a trio of home runs, making his total fifteen for the season, but not one of them was of home runs, making his total fifteen for the season, but not one of them was as pleased as "Hon."

"Hon" is always on the job when the Yanks are playing at the Polo Grounds. She never misses a game.

"Oh, 'Hon' loves baseball! It's life to him. That is, it's half his life. He says there's two sides to his head. One of them's for baseball and one is for me. I didn't question him about his heart, because I've never known any want on that score. I'm sure I any want on that score. I'm sure I have my share and I love baseball and have my share and I love baseball and him enough to want to divide, anyway.

"I'm up here every day at this ball park. Honestly, it takes most of my time. I laugh lots of times and tell "Hon' I work up here about as hard as he does, I get so excited. And when it's all over we're both worn out and starved. He must have his steak and potatoes and then a ride out on some cool, fresh-smelling road.

"Yes, we're going to take an apartment on the Drive and I'm going to broil the steak and fry the potatoes.

"Ours isn't a baseball home life. 'Hon' says it will make a man crazy to bring his job home and live it all during diener and the evening and the next morning at breakfast. We talk about everything except baseball.

everything except baseball.
"I don't think any two people who love each other can ever see too much of each other. I've been married six years and been right at 'Hon's' elbow nearly ever since. But I don't think he's tired of me and I adore him.

"'Hon' can't endure smears and stains, but neither can I. He's as factilines about his things as a girl stains, but neither can I. He's as fastidious about his things as a girl, but he's never fussy. I couldn't stand a fussy or a moody man. If 'Hon' is temperamental he keeps it all to himself and is always just the same gentle, thoughtful, wonderful 'Hon' to me. 'When he is through playing ball my 'Hon' and I are going to buy a farm, and raise cows and dogs and chickens. We love them. Neither of us cares for the city life, with its lights and theatres and stuffy brick canyons of streets. Last winter we went to California and had worlds of fun. You know 'Hon' loves golf and fishing and football and tennis. But he cares nothing at all for the indoor sports and I am glad."

"BABE" RUTH AND "HON"

Five Leading Battlers in Each of Major Leagues

AMERICAN LEAGUE

S. P. H. A. Plays Madison The South Philadelphia Hebrew Associa-tion which defeated Marshall E. Smith and other clubs in this section, will play the Madison team at Thirty-fourth and Reed streets today at 4 o'clock. Tomorrow, Lin-coln University will play at the same while on Saturday the Hobolten (N. J.) Club will oppose Madison.

HANLEY CONFIDENT KINNEY HAS WEEK

Piani in Sprint Match at Drome Tonight

Navy Crews Anxious to Make Trip to Antwerp—Baseball Team Elects Captain

Annapolis, Md., June 3.—Annapolis will be the big center of interest in college rowing for the next two months on account of the preparations which the account of the preparations which the Naval Academy crew will make to enter the Olympic elimination races on Lake Quinsigamond, July 24, and, if successful there, the Olympic championship at Antwerp.

The plans have been generally outlined. Twenty oarsmen, composing the first and second crews, with four substitutes, will be excused from the annual cruise for the rowing. After a leave of a week or ten days, they will return to Annapolis and work under Coach Glendon until a few days before July 24. If successful in the trials, they will go direct to Newport and take a United States vessel for Belgium. They will be in charge of Lieutenant Commander J. R. Morrison, rowing representative of the Navy Athletic Association.

Harlow M. Pine of Minuscate and the Naviore and the Navy Athletic Association.

Association.
Harlow M. Pino. of Minnesota, second baseman on the Naval Academy nine which defeated the representatives of the Military Academy so decisively last Saturday, has been elected captain for next season, succeeding Edward J. Milner, of Philadelphia, the brilliant

COLUMBIA WINS AGAIN

Repeat Victory Over Penn Nine,

The Penn nine got back in town today after losing its second match of the season to Columbia in the commencement day in New York yesterday.
The final score was 6 to 2.

Meany scattered Pennsylvania's hits and also scored the first run when his three-base hit was followed by a sacrifice fly.

Jan.

St. Monlea's Cathelle ConShamroek F. C., away, first-class games
Shamroek F. C., away, first-class games
To Saturday and Sunday John J. Fox. 2432
South Fifth street. Dickinson 5249
Fasara's Philadelphia Prefessionals, away, first-class games.
T. L. Fagan, 2044 Emily street.
St. John's C. C., away, first-class games for Saturday and Sunday John J. Fox. 2432
South Fifth street. John's C. C., away, first-class games
Fasara's Philadelphia Prefessionals, away,
first-class games
The first class games
Fasara's Philadelphia Prefessionals, away, first-class games
Fasara's Philadelph

Pacific Coast Titleholder Races Will Be Barred From Major Leagues Unless He Reports Before Sunday

Another Italian champion may be domed to defeat by an American at the Point Breeze Veledrome tonight. In the opening races of the season Monday, George Clapman, the local phenom, and tonight Orlando Piani, who wears the European sprint crown, will meet a dangerous rival in Willis Hanley, the Pacific Coast flash.

Unless Wally Kinney returns to Connie Mack this week, the southpaw will be barred forever from organized baseball and at the same time an attempt will be made by the Athletics' leader to prevent him from playing with the Franklin, Pa., club, according to the lean leader today. Kinney jumped the A's to play with the independent team. Discussing the Kinney case today. Discussing the Kinney case today.

A's to play with the independent team. Discussing the Kinney case today. Mack said:

Hauley has cleaned up all the good sprint men in the West and believes he will be able to hand a defeat to Piani when they battle in the best of three one-mile heats.

Colombatto has asked for another chance at Chapman and will get it in the William Penn invitation fifty-mile grind. Opposed to these two speed demons will be George Wiley, who, with Clarence Carmen, took victories from the best in Europe this last winter, and Leon Vanderstuft, the Belgian champion.

Besides these races there will be two amateur events. The races will start promptly at 8:30.

TITLE IN OLYMPICS

AIM OF MIDDIE CREW

Navy Crews Anxious to Make

A's to play with the independent team. Discussing the Kinney case today. Mack said:

"Kinney has one more chance to return to our club. I have decided to give him this opportunity, because some of Kinney's friends told me that Wally acted on the spur of the moment, and was foolish enough to take advice from outsiders, who did not realize the seriousness of the step he was taking.

"I will welcome Kinney back, but he must return in the proper spirit, ready to accept whatever penalty I may impose upon him for leaving my club. No, I have not suspended him as yet. I will give him a chance to come back before the close of this week.

"If Kinney fails to take advantage of this opportunity and return. I will see to it that he remains out of the ranks of organized baseball. I also intend to bring injunction proceedings against him, and expect to win my point and prevent him from even playing with the Franklin team.

"I saw Ban Johnson the other day. The president of the American League has mapped out a campaign against players who have jumped organized has mapped out a campaign against players who have jumped organized baseball. I will say that it will be to the interests of any player to return to his club within the next few days before they are barred from organized baseball.

"I think Kinney will see the folly of his step in jumping to the Franklin team and return. In fact, I can't figure why any ball player would be so rootish as not to take advantage of this chance to get back. A week or ten days from now will be too late."

Amateur Sports

THE Philadelphia Navy Yard is to be I represented on the diamond during the remainder of the season. A number of former big league stars are to be included in the line-up. The first game for the yard team will be played on June 19, with the National Park aggregation as the opposition. June 6 is an open date on the Navy Yard nine's schedule. The team is to be a traveling organization, playing Saturday and schedule. The team is to be a traveling organization, playing Saturday and Sunday games, which are desired with such nines as Stetson, Marshall E. Smith, Hilldale, North Phillies, Disston, Quaker City Rubber, etc. Lorenze L. Kochler, 293 Northeast boulevard, or phene Wyoning 2724 or phone Wyoming 2724.

McKinley A. C., first-class, home team has June 12 and 10 open.—J Boyle, McKinley, Pa. Mount Carmel B. C., hence or away, twelve-thirteen-year-old teams, George Bleyler, 2318 South Third street.

East Germantown Cubs, at home, fifteen-sixteen-year-old teams for weekday and Saturday afternoons. John Kr Dasney, Church lane and Twentieth street.

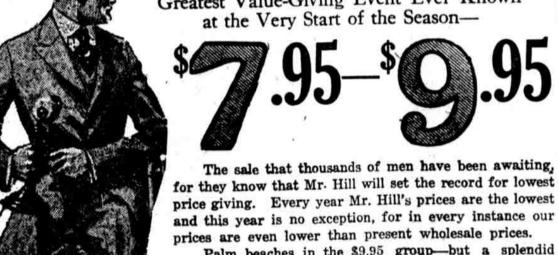

East Germantown, away, first-class clubs, John K. Dakney, Church lane and Twentieth street.

Largest Men's and Boys' Largest Men's and Boys' Clothing Store in Phila. Store Orders

1019-1021 Market Street Mr. Hill's Annual Sale Men's Summer Cool Cloth and Palm Beach Suits

At Positive Savings of $5.00, $10.00 and More

Greatest Value-Giving Event Ever Known at the Very Start of the Season-for they know that Mr. Hill will set the record for lowest price giving. Every year Mr. Hill's prices are the lowest and this year is no exception, for in every instance our prices are even lower than present wholesale prices. Palm beaches in the $9.95 group—but a splendid range of cool cloths, summer flannels, aeropore cloths and other well-known summer fabrics. Largest wariety of patterns and colorings. And-best of all, all sizes.

Better Grade $25 Palm Beach $ 14.95 and Mohair Silk Suits, at

The Great Underselling Sale Men's All Wool Suits

Brings Savings of $10.00, $15.00 and More!

An Unprecedented Price Smashing That Will Convince Every Man No Store Can Undersell The Hill Co.

Men's $28.50 & Men's $32.50 & Men's $40.00 & Men's $45.00 & $50.00 Suits $42.50 Suits $35.00 Suits $30.00 Suits

This is the sale that is breaking all records for value giving. Our own fine stocks -representative of every well known maker in this country is embraced at these big savings. All fine flannels, worsted mixtures, cheviots, homespuns and cassimeres in English form fitting, double breasted and two and three button conservative styles. A size for every man-whether tall, short, slim, stout or regular.

-Hill Co.—1019-1021 Market St.=

His Royal Highness Crowned This Customer

AST Saturday an old customer came into my store, picked out a 71/4 straight-brim straw, tried it on, took a peek in the mirror, thought it looked good, decided to keep it, and gave the salesman $3.45.

A Silent Salesman

This man knew his size, and he knew where to find it. He knew what he wanted, and he got it. He knew there was only one price, and he paid it. There were no questions asked, no comments made. It was Self-Service with a Silent Salesman - and the customer was the salesman.

But when the sale was completed, the silence was broken. In making a final inspection of this straw hat, he noticed on the lining the words:

"Made in England"

He asked the salesman in a joking sort of way whether it was a Sample or a Mistake - whether it was born in Old England or New England-and said he thought only the high-priced fellows sold genuine English hats.

Now, the fact is, I've been buying some English hats for the last fifteen years, but I have never said anything about it. I didn't think it was important enough to write home about. I didn't buy English hats to get an imported flavor. I like baseball better than cricket. I think good American hats are just as good as English hats. The only reason this hat was marked "Made in England" was because the Government required it.

Ireland to Iceland

I went to England to get good merchandise at a fair price. I would have gone from Ireland to Iceland, if I had to, to get what I wanted. I went to Old England rather than let a New England Manufacturing Profiteer freeze me out, or freeze me up.

Baltimore is the center of the straw hat industry in this country, and after I had given the factories in Baltimore all they wanted to take at the price I was willing to pay, I still had an order of about 20,000 dozen that I wanted to place. I thought I knew where to place it, and I went there.

This particular factory had made thousands of dozens for me in the past fifteen years. But this year they wanted the same rate for 10,000 dozen as they would for one dozen. Every other year they were mighty glad to get my order to keep their organization together and the wheels turning during their dull period.

Profiteering in Straws

As the demand for straw hats was greater than the production, they thought they'd take advantage of a shortage in straws this season and would make more money by selling to a lot of little fellows at a long profit, rather than take a large order at a small margin.

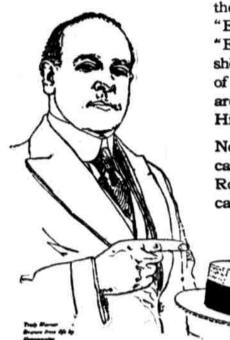

Of course, I couldn't do business on that basis, and I guess they couldn't. That factory is out of business today. That's why I bought more than 200,000 English hats last year for this summer.

When the cables announced my buyer was filling up the English factories, the next boat that left New York looked like a Hat Buyers' Convention. I guess every big buyer that could pack his grip in time sailed for England.

But it was too late. They couldn't beat the boat. I kept the cables warm while they were on the water. My buyer was placing orders while they were playing pinochle. When they arrived, prices went up, sterling went down, raw materials were scarce. and money was tight.

100,000 "English Sailors" Arrive

Well, the answer is, I've got more than 100,000 "English Sailors" in my stores now and the "reserves" are coming in on every boat.

These English straw bonnets are styled to the Queen's taste and are just the same "English Boaters", "English Sailors" and "English Sennets" that the Piccadilly shops show in the window with the Royal Coat of Arms, and a statement explaining they are doing business "By Special Warrant of His Majesty the King".

Now, if you want a little Royal Luxury, you can enjoy it with the compliments of his Royal Majesty without a Luxury tax, because they're all one price-$3.45.

quarters For F 1307 Market Street