

STITUTION IS REFUSED

Wife and Alleged Debaucher Would Pay $3000
New York, June 4.—An offer of $3000 as part payment for the alleged debt of $2000 he had collected for the woman was refused by the district attorney yesterday from the mother and wife of Abraham J. Zirim, an insurance broker, who was arrested for grand larceny.

Zirim had been a volunteer worker for the organization, which is headed by Judge Otto A. Rosalsky. When the judge heard of the charge against Zirim, he insisted the man should be punished to the limit.

"I'm Going to Stay—We're Sending the Clothes to the Laundry"

That is the story of how one woman succeeded in keeping her maid. More and more every day, women who keep hired help are finding reluctance on the part of the maid to consider washing as a natural part of her duties. Do not let your maid get dissatisfied—good help is hard to secure. Settle the washing question by taking advantage of Family Laundry Service.

Family Laundry Service cares for the entire family wash. The clothes are washed under the most sanitary conditions in pure soap suds. When the clothes come back the greater percentage of them are ready to be worn or put away. There is very little ironing to do because the hardest pieces, the bed linen, napery and most of the big pieces, are already nicely ironed, and with Family Laundry Service are returned lily-white in cleanliness, as follows:

All flat pieces, including bed linen, table linen and towels, washed, smoothly ironed, evenly folded and ready for use.

Wearing apparel, all underclothing, dresses, children's garments, etc., carefully washed and dried (and starched where necessary) ready to be dampened and ironed.

Many undergarments may be worn without ironing, due to the method of drying. This will save a great deal of your work in finishing that portion of your wash.

The hardship of home laundering is done away with in modern laundries by systematic methods, correct organization, proper apportioning of labor and the aid of appliances that do better work than hands and with less effort. The conditions which make laundries good places to work make them also the place to have your laundering done.

Preparations for all well-regulated vacations include a shopping tour along Chestnut Street. The Chestnut Street Shops are offering the most interesting suggestions for vacationers. Some of them you will find in this column, which, however, contains but a few hints as to the possibilities which a personally conducted shopping tour will reveal.

CALIFORNIA Cantaloupes from the Imperial Valley—that region that seems to have been specially set apart by Nature for the cultivation of this delicious fruit—have arrived at the store of Henry R. Hallowell & Son, Broad Street below Chestnut. They have a wonderfully fine flavor, and, served with ice cream, make a really delightful dessert. The new arrivals of California Cherries are larger even than the last shipment. And Jersey Strawberries are exceptionally good right now. All of these delicious fruits can be shipped to any summer resort within 1000 miles by Hallowell's special parcel post service, by which perfect delivery is guaranteed.

CORRECT riding togs are not the least important consideration to the man who would be well dressed on every occasion. The man who is the least bit fastidious as to his clothes demands the right fabric and the most approved models. These he will find at the store of MacDonald & Campbell, 1334-36 Chestnut Street. Riding suits of exceeding smartness come in tweeds and chevots. Separate breeches come in fustian, whipcord, covert, Bedford cord, worsted and chevots and polo breeches from Burberry, of London, in white cotton moleskin. They are correctly tailored and good looking. Really, it would seem that there is little necessity for having such things made to order when one considers the extensive stock carried by MacDonald & Campbell.

HAVE you seen the "silk shirt window" at the store of Jacob Reed's Sons, 1424-26 Chestnut Street? If you have, you'll agree with me that it is most attractive and that further investigation is warranted. Really, I was astonished to know that it is possible to obtain silk shirts bearing the evidences of fine workmanship that these do at such reasonable prices. One model which I liked was of a heavy quality of silk broadcloth. It was striped in rose and gray, and others showed lavender, green, blue and corn-cob stripes in most effective combinations. A jersey silk of very fine quality, which looked as if it would wear particularly well, had cluster stripes of brown on a tan-and-white ground. Many of the jersey silk shirts had satin stripes.

WHEN I came upon a marvelously beautiful tea service of Royal Staffordshire at the store of Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company the other day, my first thought was, "What a delightful wedding gift!" It is of bone china, and the design depicts in exquisite colors an old Chinese legend. The tea service includes six plates, six cups and saucers, tea pot, sugar and creamer and cake plate. The cups are of an odd and interesting shape. A tea service is a most practical gift for one can be certain that it will find its niche of usefulness in the new home. This particular one which I have described will far outlive the lover of the unusual. There are many other interesting things in the china department which suggest themselves as appropriate wedding gifts.

THERE is one sure way of getting rid of moths I've discovered, and when I visited the store of J. Franklin Miller, 1612 Chestnut Street, I was initiated into the "Death to the Destroyer of Huzh-Priced Clothing Society." The means really very simple. You install "No-Moth" in your clothes closet, thus turning it into a moth-proof cedar chest. The apparatus consists of a jar of highly concentrated suspended over a cup of some porous material. The liquid drips into this material and through a process of evaporation fills the closet with a delightful perfume of cedar, lavender or eucalyptus. "No-Moth" is used by many furriers and by department stores to protect their stocks of woollens and furs.

FOR the small apartment there are few more practical pieces of furniture than the day bed. It offers so many possibilities in the way of decoration and takes up very little space. I saw some particularly interesting versions of this general article at the store of H. D. Dougherty & Company, 1632 Chestnut Street. The frames were of wood and metal. There were several very good models in mahogany. Their graceful lines and the fine workmanship which characterizes them make them really worth-while acquisitions. When I tell you that they are furnished with Dougherty's faultless curled-hair mattresses and box springs, I am sure you will realize how comfortable they are. You may have them upholstered to harmonize with any decorative scheme.

DELICIOUSLY flavored with pure fruit juices are the Fruit Cuts at the stores of Edouard D. Kruse Company, 100 South Eleventh Street and 4903 Baltimore Avenue. It is really quite interesting to watch the facial expression of the person who tastes one of these candies for the first time. That expression of delighted surprise when they first taste the lime or orange that really is lime and orange, is most amusing, not to say enlightening. Each piece is wrapped in waxed paper and the box looks altogether dainty. Another of Kruse's candies which every one likes is their Butter Cream, flavored with either chocolate or vanilla. Then, there are fresh pineapple and cherry candies covered with chocolate that are truly delicious. If you haven't already tried Kruse's candies, let me assure you that you have a treat in store for you.
