

DREAMLAND ADVENTURES

"ISLE OF PLAY" By DADDY

By DADDY
In last week's story Peggy, Billy, Billy Sam, Lonesome Bear and Johnny Bull were carried to Persia by a magic rug, which obeyed the order of Raban, the guardian of the rug.

CHAPTER I
The Greedy Don't Fly
ASTARA, the daughter of Raban the Greedy, sang in joy. Had she not been saved by Peggy, Billy, Billy Sam, Lonesome Bear and Johnny Bull from the robber, El Murfa? What she free, now to wed her handsome young lover, Prince Bashur? No wonder she was glad.

And Prince Bashur was happy, too. He danced as the fair Astara sang, and Peggy and Billy danced with him, while Peggy Sam, Lonesome Bear, and Johnny Bull sat close by and watched them.

"Let us be married right away," cried Prince Bashur to the Greedy. "I will give you a hundred gold pieces."
"Are you not wealthy now?" he asked the prince.

"No," answered Prince Bashur. "I have no money with which to pay and feed the servants."
"Are you poor prince," murmured Astara, taking him gently by the hand. "I love you and I do not care whether you are rich or poor."

The face of Raban the Greedy grew dark in a heavy frown. "I want my daughter to marry a rich man. The Greedy, El Murfa, when he came wooing the prince.

And now that I have started, I think I shall make all of today's adventures about household appliances. In accordance with which I will next tell you of the new way to mend pots and pans.

Now, Peter is very skillful with his hands. When I regard the best kitchen knife he is building for us now, I wonder whether Peter should not have been a happy, whistling carpenter in a little country town, coming home to me at night very grumpy and messy, but awfully happy and contented!

Well, anyhow, what I really mean to say is that if there were a leak in a pan when Peter is around, he would unquestionably solder it. Why, it brought to my attention, I should doubtless try to find a piece of gum to cover the hole, and pray that it would hold.

There is the other household appliance—a contrivance for poaching eggs and keeping them from floating all over the water. This is perforated in the bottom to allow water to drain out and has a high round brim that keeps the egg in its proper place and molds it to a good round shape.

side and then away we will sail for America," said Billy, unrolling the rug and to assist themselves upon it. "Fly away home, sweet rug," said Peggy, and all hung on tight. But the rug never stirred. It just lay on the ground like any ordinary carpet. They didn't know how to work the charm, which was the guardian of the rug, had caused it to fly away across the seas to Persia.

Lebanon, Pa., June 7.—When George Steltz, founder of Lebanon, donated the plot of ground on which the First Reformed Church here stands, he did it on condition of the payment of a red rose annually in June to his descendants forever. If demanded, payment was made by the pastor, the Rev. W. D. Hoppel yesterday at the rose day service to Miss Florence W. Mish, of this city, of the seventh generation in line from the donor of the church grounds.
