

MAN DEAD, 5 HURT IN STRIKE RIOTS

Longshoremen Fires Wildly When Attacked by Union Pickets at Waterfront

MOB THREATENS LYNCHING

One man was killed and five persons, including three children, were wounded last night in riots resulting from the longshoremen's strike.

The first riot started when a negro longshoreman, who was attacked by several strikers, drew a revolver and fired at his assailants. The attack occurred at Front and Queen streets. After firing several shots the negro ran along Delaware avenue with several hundred men in pursuit.

As he ran he fired in all directions. He killed Stanley Tarylak, of 84 Catherine street, and wounded two children.

The second riot occurred at a meeting of striking longshoremen at Thirtieth and Water streets. Negro members of the I. W. O., according to the police, tried to break up the meeting.

In the general fight that followed a man and a little girl were shot.

Victims Will Recover

All of the wounded were taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital. Physicians said they would recover.

Those wounded are: Stanislaw, twelve years old, 223 South Front street; shot in the side.

Toryloski, Louis, three years old, same address, who has a flesh wound in the hip.

Rarrick, Joseph, 510 South Front street, shot in the leg.

Spector, Eva, eleven years old, 2019 North street, shot in the leg.

Gaines, Edward, twenty-five years old, 223 South Thirteenth street, shot in the knee.

Louis Townsend, a negro, of Spruce and Canal streets, was arrested last night for killing Tarylak.

Two other negroes also were arrested in connection with the fight. They are Joseph Haywood, Fifteenth and Bainbridge streets, and August Lockley, of Twelfth and Bainbridge streets. All were held without bail to await action of the coroner by Magistrate Mooney.

People in the neighborhood of the shooting that were so incensed by the shooting that several hundred tried to break into the Second and Christian streets police station and lynch the three prisoners.

Meeting Is Broken Up

About 100 longshoremen strikers attended the meeting at Thirtieth and Water streets. The meeting had been under way but a few minutes when the riot broke out.

People in the neighborhood of the shooting that were so incensed by the shooting that several hundred tried to break into the Second and Christian streets police station and lynch the three prisoners.

APPEALS TO WOMEN TO FIND STOLEN SON

Mrs. Coughlin Would Enlist All Other Mothers of U. S. in the Search

NO TRACE OF BLAKELY

Mrs. George H. Coughlin, of Norristown, today addressed a mother's appeal to mothers throughout the country, asking them to help in the search for her thirteen-month-old boy, who was kidnapped early on the morning of June 2.

"I appeal to every mother and child in the United States to help me find my baby," she wrote, reiterating her appeal of a few days ago.

"Surely some one will see and know my boy. If there is a strange baby in your neighborhood, please find out who he is and where he came from. If you may see my child, don't be afraid to send me information; harm will come to no one. All we want is our baby. Even those who took my boy must realize my anguish and feel certain that we will keep our promise not to attempt their arrest. If only they will give us proof that they have Blakely safe and well."

Blakely, Coughlin was described by his mother as thirteen months old, weighing thirty pounds, with blue eyes and light hair, large, "puffy" cheeks and the habit of displacing his right white teeth in continuous smiles.

Ten letters, several purporting to be from the kidnappers who stole the baby from his crib early on the morning of June 2, were received last night and this morning by the mother and the father. One letter stated that Blakely had been seen in a central Pennsylvania town. Another suggested that the parents consult a clairvoyant to learn where the baby is hidden.

A letter dated June 7, scrawled with pencil on stationery of the Hotel Savannah and postmarked Savannah, Ga., stated the writer had the child and would return it for a ransom of $6000. But the letter was unsigned and gave no hint as to how the parents were to convey the ransom. However, there was a note on the letter stating that the letter had possession of Blakely.

The half illiterate woman who wrote the Savannah letter took special pains to write her name to the mother. She wrote that the baby was well and happy.

Dorothy Sablosky, of 1115 West Main street, a Norristown high school girl, catered today her offer to serve as a go-between for the parents, to deliver a ransom to the kidnappers.

The father and mother are convinced that the child is still alive. They believe since Blakely was stolen is really from his kidnappers.

If an authentic offer of the child's return is made the parents will avail themselves of Miss Sablosky's offer, and deliver the ransom through her, in case the kidnappers insist on dealing with a woman.

MISS ELIZABETH R. WUNDERLE

Vice commander of Post No. 50, Yeomen (F), American Legion, is suggested for woman delegate to the legion national convention. Delegates to the national meeting will be elected in Allentown at the state cantonment next week.

WOMEN OF LEGION TO ASK DELEGATE

Yeomen (F) in Allentown Cantonment Will Seek Representation in National Body

Woman delegates to the second annual state cantonment of the American Legion in Allentown, June 18 and 19, will support one of their number for national delegate.

Miss Elizabeth R. Wunderle, vice commander of Yeomen (F) Post No. 50 has been mentioned prominently for the support of the post for this position, and her name may be placed before a conference at the City Club tomorrow night, when delegates from Philadelphia will discuss their participation in the Allentown meeting.

It is also stated that Miss Patricia E. Crosby, chairman of the entertainment committee of the county committee, representing Post No. 50, will suggest for alternate to the national convention in Cleveland next fall.

Philadelphia will be entitled to eleven or twelve national delegates, under the suggested plan of representation. It is entirely proper that one of this number should represent the women. For this reason and because of the activity of the women's post here it is anticipated that the choice of the post will receive the hearty backing of the seventy-eight local posts for this position.

The delegate to the state cantonment from Stephen Girard post will be Charles F. Stevens, adjutant, and the alternate, J. M. Hamilton, the organizer and post commander.

The following officers have been elected by the Frazier-Barnitz Post: Rudolph Haar, commander; Mr. Reichert, vice commander; Mr. Barnitz, adjutant; W. F. Daniels, finance officer; H. W. Watkins, county committee representative; John Wittmer, historian; and G. Zwick, chaplain. All are members of the post.

Shore Saloonists Warned

Atlantic City, June 10.—Brewery agents today warned surviving handful of shore saloonists that Volstead enforcement agents are preparing to make wholesale arrests in Atlantic City for the sale of any beverages containing more than 1 per cent of alcohol. Word was passed to the saloonists also that jail penalties are to replace fines in the event of further convictions. "Boozing" whisky of the worst brands is said to be selling at $12 a quart.

PALMER TO CONTROL DEMOCRATS TODAY

State Committee to Organize at Harrisburg—Bruce Sterling Is Slated

The Democratic state central committee will meet in Harrisburg today to reorganize for the fall campaign. It will be composed of members friendly to Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, and indications are that there will be no opposition to the selection of Bruce Sterling, of Uniontown, as state chairman.

Mr. Sterling had charge of Attorney General Palmer's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination in Pennsylvania, and he will succeed Lawrence Rupp, the present state chairman, who is the party's nominee for United States senator against Senator Penrose.

Today's meeting will be the first Democratic state political activity preparatory to the opening of the presidential campaign. A number of the national delegates will be on hand, it was expected last night.

On Monday the Democratic city committee will meet in its offices at Tenth and Walnut streets to reorganize. Edgar W. Lank, Democratic county commissioner, is expected to be re-elected Harrisburg. At present there is no opposition to Lank's re-election. It was said by Democratic political workers yesterday.

Since the May primaries did not result in any considerable showing of strength by the anti-Palmer faction in the Pennsylvania party, it was predicted yesterday that today's meeting in Harrisburg would be harmonious.

The Pennsylvania delegates to the San Francisco convention, which opens June 28, will leave here June 21 in a conference at Harrisburg and at Pittsburgh. It will be a solid train through to the Pacific coast.

EX-SOLDIER SHOTS AT GIRL

Gassed and Shell-Shocked Hero Held in $1000 Bail

Edward O'Neill, who served with the Eighteenth Artillery Regiment in France, where he was gassed and shell-shocked, fired four shots last night at Sophie Smith, seventeen years old, 2141 Park avenue, according to the police.

O'Neill is said to have been infatuated with the girl. She rejected his advances. The former soldier was held in $1000 bail for court this morning on a charge of attempted murder. He was arraigned before Magistrate Oswald in the Twentieth and Berks streets station.

The police say O'Neill crept to the kitchen window of the girl's home last night as she and members of her family were eating supper. He is said to have fired four shots at the girl. All missed.

O'Neill was caught by two patrolmen as he tried to escape through an alley. He is said to have become violent late last night, but was calmed after treatment at the Women's Homeopathic Hospital.

LAUNCHING AT HARRIMAN

Yaka Is Christened by Miss Josephine Alcorn at Merchant Yard

The steamship Yaka, constructed at the Merchant shipbuilding plant at Harriman, Pa., was launched at 10 o'clock this morning. Miss Josephine Alcorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Alcorn, 2103 Spring Garden street, was the sponsor. Miss Alcorn is a chief clerk in the office of the Emergency Fleet Corporation here.

The ship christened today is the twenty-ninth of forty of the type being constructed at the Harriman yard.

Among the Philadelphians who witnessed the launching were Miss E. P. Beers, E. C. Beers, J. R. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Almon, E. J. Kaighn, Miss Grace Layton, F. T. Malone and J. P. Robertson.

Mr. Alcorn was formerly city solicitor of this city and later became a public service commissioner.

HAZING ENDS AT HAVERFORD

Students Decide to Abolish Historic First-Night Rumpus

Hazing has been eliminated at Haverford College.

This action was taken today by the students at a meeting of their association, prior to commencement tomorrow. The plan which was ratified follows that drawn up by the class of 1921. It abolishes historic first-night hazing, bed-lumping on Walton field, bed-dumping and other forms of hazing in the freshmen's rooms and "deportation" of freshmen.

John R. Hoopes, 1921, president of the student association, in announcing the action of the body in reference to hazing, said the freshmen will still be subject to elaborate rules laid down for them, and that the annual one-night cakewalk and other forms of interclass contests will be continued. Twenty-first year men will be taken in hand by a committee of sophomores under the new arrangement.

The student body also pledged itself to aid in collecting subscriptions for the endowment fund campaign, beginning tomorrow and continuing during the entire commencement day program. Contrary to usual custom, no invitations have been issued for the commencement exercises. However, the president, Dr. W. W. Colford, extends a cordial invitation to all friends of Haverford to attend at 11 a. m. when Dr. W. H. P. Faucher, of the Pennsylvania State University, will participate in the events of the day.

"SPRING FASHION SHOW"

William Penn High Girls to Open Exhibition of Needlework Tomorrow

The annual "Spring fashion show" and exhibition of millinery and dresses made by the girl pupils of the William Penn High School, Fifteenth and Mount Vernon streets, will open tomorrow morning at assembly and remain on display during the day for the benefit of parents and other visitors at the school.

The garments and millinery were designed and made in the regular work of the art and home economics course, and some very creditable creations are said to be the result. Many of the designs are original and the styles distinctive, so that the exhibit can in reality be termed a "fashion show."

FLAG-DAY PROCLAMATION

Mayor Says This City Especially Should Observe June 14

A proclamation for the observance of Flag Day, Monday, June 14, was issued yesterday by Mayor Moore through his secretary, Durrell Shuster.

The proclamation calls upon citizens to display the national banner on that day. After referring to the fact that the flag was designed in Philadelphia, it proceeds:

"At its birthplace it is fitting that an example be set—an example of reverence and appreciation, which may be accepted everywhere as proof that Philadelphia has not drifted from her original moorings, but holds fast to the proud station she occupies historically as the home of the Declaration, the constitution and the flag."

NO CITY JOBS FOR VARE COMMITTEE

Mayor Threatened With "Fight" by Watson if He Will Not "Harmonize"

NEW CONTEST IS PLANNED

Mayor Moore will not recognize the Vares leadership in the Republican city committee, according to dispatches from Chicago. The Mayor takes the same position he has taken all along—one of not compromising with the Vares as contenders for city leadership.

The Mayor, in a chat at the convention city made it plain that membership in the city committee will not automatically bring about recognition from the city administration.

So far as the Mayor is concerned, the relations between himself and the Vares city committee will remain as they were before.

Both the administration and the Republican Alliance will lay the groundwork for the fight next year.

THREAT BY WATSON

"Harmony is up to the Mayor," said Chairman Watson. "If he comes back from Chicago and says he is satisfied with the result of the city committee elections, he can have all the Legislature, Council and everything he wants. If he does not feel that way, he can have a fight."

The Mayor's friends in Philadelphia confidently predicted that he would take the fight.

John Voorhes, secretary of the Republican Alliance, said the question of carrying the fight in the two contested wards to the courts had not been decided. He viewed the election yesterday in which the Vares retained control of the city committee as illegal.

Voorhes's statement also told of the rejection of the harmony proposition made to the Alliance by the Vares leadership.

The organization of the committee was illegal, said Voorhes, under the rules of the Republican city committee. In order to organize it is necessary for the successful candidates to have a majority of the regularly elected members of the committee, but while it is true that twenty-six votes were recorded for Thomas F. Watson, he failed to have a majority in view of the fact that Joseph Kelly of the Forty-sixth ward, and Harry A. Macheso, of the Forty-sixth ward, had no right to be seated, as their seats were contested.

CALLS ELECTION ILLEGAL

"Deducting these two votes, that were manifestly illegal, it is found Watson had but twenty-four votes, which is not a majority of the committee. The twenty-six members of the Republican Alliance present refused to vote after this, because of the illegality of the election."

"Charles R. Love, of the Sixth ward, drew.

Doctor Believes That Poison Was Taken in Mistake for Medicine. Mrs. Rose McCusker, twenty-five, of 2424 North Chudwick street, died suddenly at her home at 1:15 this morning.

Dr. William H. Crane, 2425 Germantown avenue, who arrived shortly after her death, made the statement that it looked to him like a case of acute acid poisoning. Mrs. McCusker had taken a dose of what she thought to be Epsom salts late in the evening.

Crown's Deputy Charles Sayers has the two boxes labeled "Epsom Salts" which were bought by Mrs. Sarah Sullin, the dead woman's sister, last evening, and from which Mrs. McCusker took the dose, and Dr. William L. Trinkle, coroner's physician, will make an investigation of the body and perform an autopsy on the body probably late this afternoon.

Sayers doubts that the substance taken by Mrs. McCusker was oxalic acid. Mrs. McCusker is survived by her husband, Edward, and two children.
