GIMBEL BROTHERS

MARKET CHESTNUT 11 EIGHTH NINTH FOR SATURDAY

Philadelphia, Friday, June 11, 1920

The business grows by your favor—you know where quality goods cost least.

Gimbels $10,000,000 Adjustment Sale Is a Plan to Cure the Ills of Inflated Prices by Resolute Action—To Give Play to the Country's Productive Powers for Which Theorists Have Idly Prayed Adjusted consumption of goods is necessary if we are to have greatly increased production without wage cutting. To simply make a lot of goods would be to bring about such conditions as have prevailed in times of depression.

Moderated prices that will enable the entire population to buy freely will continue prosperity and give it a new fullness of meaning.

The man who has worn his clothes to almost-tatters because he had to, or chose to do so as a fling at price raisers, has neither been personally comfortable nor a real live unit in the scheme of national welfare.

Now, he can return to normal conditions. No victory has been won yet. At most we have set our faces to the right. But be courageous—and keep on helping; helping yourself and helping all consumers.

In any movement there are camp followers—strong on the hurrah, but listless as to real work; hopeful of sharing advantage by simply standing in the chorus.

When one strikes oil, twenty holes are started to catch the money of those who see nothing short of wealth in any oil venture. The store that has been proved really helpful is the store to hold to now. You can save by spending, or pretty nearly squander your money.
