for a two-platoon system was expressed today by Councilman Joseph Forsyth, a member of Camden Council's fire committee. This committee supervises the fire department.

"I would like to see the men get the two-platoon system," Mr. Forsyth declared. "But Council is under a handicap for the reason that this question was put to a vote of the people three years ago. The public turned down the proposition nearly 3 to 1."

"The reason for the public's attitude was that increased taxes would result from the two-platoon system. More men would have to be employed to man the fire companies on twelve-hour shifts," Chief Peter Carter, of the fire department, declared he would like to see Camden's firefighters get a two-platoon system.

"About seventy more men would be required for the system as it stands. It would cost taxpayers from $80,000 to $90,000 a year additional."

"The men are well treated here, however. New men get $1200 a year, with a bonus of $300 and an additional $50 a year for uniforms. After four years' service the firemen are paid $1500 a year with a $300 bonus."

"The men have every fifth day off and are given a two weeks' vacation with pay. There is the pension provision to consider also."

"These advantages must be considered when looking at the question. On the other hand, I would like to see

Seen in the Chestnut St. Shops

For the last-minute things that you'll need before leaving town for the week-end—whether it be a new summer frock, a Gift-Basket of Fruit for your hostess or an ice-cream freezer for your summer cottage kitchen—you can do no better than to visit the Chestnut Street Shops. You will find that they are prepared to meet your needs and to give you cheerful and courteous service.

TO MEN who are considering the purchase of outing trousers—and their names are legion at this time of year—I would commend the offerings of MacDonald & Campbell, 1334-36 Chestnut Street. They have good-looking white flannels and white serges and the striped flannels which so many men like and which look well with their separate Norfolk coats. Then, there are serviceable gray flannels and tan khakis. In the lighter-weight materials there are white gabardines, white cotton ducks, white linen crashees and white khakis. The white crashees are well liked. To some men prefer knickerbockers for sport wear, and MacDonald & Campbell are showing these in wash materials, as well as in the light-weight woolsens.

EXQUISITE in color and altogether luscious are the gorgeous fruits in Hallowsell's Gift-Baskets. The baskets themselves are attractively hand-painted in colors which rival the gayest of Nature's own, and artistically arranged in them are huge California Cherries, Red Cheeks Apples, beautifully colored and as delicious as they look; Florida Honey Peaches, which are as sweet as their name implies; delicious California Apricots and other luscious fruits. These Gift-Baskets of Fruit make delightful gifts for a week-end hostess and are appropriate for occasions where a gift of more permanence would be out of place. Henry R. Hallowsell & Son, Broad Street below Chestnut, guarantee safe delivery to any point within 1000 miles of Philadelphia.

TO FEEL really comfortable in his hot-weather clothes, a man must feel well-dressed. Jacob Reed's Sons, 1424-26 Chestnut Street, sensing the demand for well-tailored summer clothing, are showing this season suits of Palm Beach cloth, mohairs, Brezeweaves and other tropical weight materials made in the same styles and exhibiting the same degree of excellence in workmanship as their regular models in heavier materials. These suits have that well-tailored look that characterizes all of Jacob Reed's suits—a certain air of conservative smartness which sets them apart from the ordinary summer suit, and the best proof of the high regard in which they are held is the fact that they are worn by the best-dressed men in town.

PHILADELPHIANS are fortunate, indeed, when it comes to stores, for the distinctive store in every line seems to be located on Chestnut Street. When you think of leather goods the name of Bains comes immediately to mind, for it is synonymous with all that is newest and best in the leather line. This store is as well known to people in other states of the Union as to Pennsylvanians, for Bains trunks and bags have traveled the world over. Go first to the store of Geo. B. Bains & Son, Inc., 1028 Chestnut Street, if you want anything in the leather line, and even if you shop around you will eventually return there. Just now they have some good-looking articles of shark skin. A cigarette case of this leather makes a most acceptable graduation gift for the man who smokes.

THE wedding ring is a dainty thing nowadays, and the bride whose wedding ring comes from the store of Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company is indeed fortunate, for their rings are truly marvelous examples of the jeweler's art. I am thinking particularly of a lovely platinum band set all around with diamonds. Its designer must have had in mind the sentiment that "a thing of beauty is a joy forever," for it is destined to give its wearer as much pleasure in years to come as upon the day it is first placed upon her finger. It is a worthy complement to her engagement ring, which, in all probability, contains a Polished Girdle Diamond—that most beautiful of stones, which, you know, is exclusive with the house of Bailey, Banks & Biddle.

TRAVELING suits of Alpine Wool in heather mixtures and in plain colors are practical and serviceable. I saw some in most attractive styles at the Blum Store, 1310 Chestnut Street. One model showed an interesting cross-tucked treatment on the pocket. Another good-looking model in tan had a tuxedo collar of blue angora striped with tan. Suits of Shantung, which sheds the dust easily and does not wrinkle, are also good for traveling and sports wear. One model at the Blum Store had a tuxedo collar, narrow belt and box-plaited pockets. It was the kind of suit that looks well on both stout and slender figures. Another Shantung suit—an e-ton-jacket model—had an accordion-plaited skirt and its jacket was trimmed with rows of buttons.

YOU have no idea what wonders you can accomplish in the way of furnishing your veranda by simply laying a new rug on the floor. It really helps more than anything else to give that homey, comfortable, hospitable look. And for your summer home, whether it be a large house along the Main Line or a cottage at the shore, a comfortable, well-furnished veranda is an absolute necessity, for the chances are that you will spend more time there than in any other room in the house. Frits & La Rue, 1615 Chestnut Street, have some of the most interesting summer rugs I have seen. The block rush and fiber rugs are particularly good-looking, and both wear exceptionally well. The hand-woven Belgian rush rugs are well liked, too.

NEVER have pumps been so graceful and good looking as they are this season. Take that pump of white kid with straps crossed Oriental-wise at the instep. I saw it at the second-floor shop of Del Mar & Company, 1211 Chestnut Street. Could anything be daintier for wear with sheer summer dresses? For wear with your street frocks of linen you will find the trim-looking oxfords of white canvas, and with your satin or taffeta afternoon dress the black satin pumps or the pumps of dull black kid with instep straps will look particularly well. The one-eyed ties of white canvas are particularly good-looking and very practical, for they can be worn with summer afternoon dresses as well as with morning frocks.

the men work in twelve-hour shifts. They would have more time with their families. They would have more time to get enjoyment out of life.

"I believe the two-platoon system will come in time, but I hardly think the taxpayers are ready for it yet."
