JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Talks of the Chew Wedding in Key West. She Hears Rumors of a New Engagement and Tells of Tonight's Moving Picture Show

WEREN'T you surprised yesterday to hear that young Dave Chew had been married on Saturday down in Key West? His engagement to Elizabeth Graham, of Chester, daughter of the Thomas Grahams, was announced about two months ago, and there was talk of a wedding in the fall. But I hear that young Dave, who has been stationed in Havana for some time, received orders to go to Sagua la Grande within a few weeks; and, it appears, once he goes there he can not get back to the States for some time. So it was decided very hurriedly to have the wedding on Saturday and Elizabeth and her father and mother and sister Sarah went down to Key West, where David met them. The wedding was in the Episcopal church there.

Mr. and Mrs. Chew, Sr., did not go down. They had only lately returned from spending the winter there, you know. David, Jr., is a brother of Evelyn Chew, who married Lieutenant Stephenson; that is, he was a lieutenant when she married him. He may be a general now, so quickly did our young men advance during the war. Evelyn was one of the belles of the season the year she came out and she is very happily married, I understand.

Mr. David S. B. Chew is a son of Mrs. Samuel Chew of Radnor, and a brother of the late Samuel Chew and of Oswald Chew.

I THINK the invitation showing of Georges Carpentier's picture this evening at the Bellevue-Stratford will be fine, to say the least.

You know it is being given under the auspices of the American Legion, and it sounds very interesting to me. The film is called the "Wonder Man," and the story is a photodrama of American society. Of course, Carpentier is the hero, and I understand there is a prizefight therein showing the famous Georges and his famous hits.

Among those who have accepted boxes for the performance are Mrs. George Fales Baker, Mrs. Theron I. Crane, Mrs. William S. Belding, Mrs. E. Burd Grubb, Mrs. Allen Stockton, Mrs. Fred Perry Powers, Mrs. Otis Skinner, Mrs. George H. Lorimer, Mrs. Walter Waring Hopkinson, Mrs. William L. Austin, Mrs. Eugene S. Dorey, Mrs. Charles F. Bochman, Mrs. S. P. Snowden Mitchell, Mrs. Fred English, Mrs. Norton Downs, Mrs. Blanche Bellak, Mrs. Samuel Ehrenberg and numerous others. I think 'twill be interesting.

IT SEEMS to me that if the world isn't getting married it's getting engaged; it certainly never just stays quiet and does nothing in the way of social things, does it, any more than anything else? It's simply wonderful how almost every day you hear of a new alliance. But recently I heard of one that will be an utter surprise to you when it comes out, because you do not know the man nor have you heard that he is attentive. He does not live here, you see, and they met in the summer time, so, although he has been on to Philadelphia, somehow of other no one is on. They deny it as yet, but, of course, they are engaged, and it is an awfully nice alliance, believe I.

NANCY WYNNE.
