STATE WILL AUDIT

Than as Filed

PRINCETON IS BENEFITED ERIC F. WOOD GAVE $11,650

Pittsburgh, June 18 .- The state of Pennsylvania will make an independent audit of the Henry Clay Frick estate because, it is said, the inventory filed with the register of wills here, which places the value of the personal property at $77,500,000, is $25,000,000

erty at $77,500,000, is $25,000,000 short of the actual value. If, as the state charges, the actual value of the personal estate is $25,000, 000 more than given in the inventory, or approximately $102,000,000, the charitable beneficiaries of the large free charitable. table beneficiaries of the late financier will receive almost to the penny the amount originally reported as having been given them. Princeton will receive $15,000,000, instead of about one-third that amount, while other colleges and institutions will receive their be-and institutions will receive their bequests in proportion.

It was learned that Carl F. Overholt one of the beneficiaries in the will, and said to be a nephew of the late Mr. Frick, is one of the auditors who filed the inventory. The other is William H. Morrison. Overholt, according to the terms of the will, is to receive $50. 'in addition to his share of a child of my sister."

The value of the Frick real estate has not been made public here. The action not been made public here. The action of the state in entering the controversy over the value of the Frick personal estate was not a surprise here. The statement of President Hibben, of Princeton, to the effect that Princeton's gift would be much less than reported was a main determining factor in the state's decision.
