REROUTING OF CARS TO END CONGESTION

Auto Parking on Broad Street Will Also Be Abolished by City

PLANS EFFECTIVE AT ONCE

Radical traffic changes in the congested central section of the city will he ordered today by Public Service Commissioner Samuel M. Clement, Jr. The changes include the rerouting of many car lines and the ultimate creation of through lines for motortrucks and the elimination of parking from Broad street. The changes were decided upon yes terday at a conference between Superintendent of Police Mills, A. Howard Jones, assistant chief engineer of the commission, and R. H. Horton, traffic engineer of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co. .

The transit changes are to be made at once. A few minor track adjustments may hold up some changes for a short time, but the majority will be in effect this week.

The car lines that will be rerouted as soon as the changes in the tracks can be made are as follows:
Route 51, the Columbia avenue line

Route 51, the Columbia avenue line, which now runs down Eighth street to Chestaut, thence to Front and west in Walnut street to Ninth, will be diverted down Eighth street on the south-bound trip to Locust. The ears will go through Locust street to Ninth and up that street to Columbia avenue. The up that street to Columbia avenue. The journey to the Chestnut street ferries will thus be entirely eliminated.

Route 55, the Tenth-Eleventh street line, which now loops on Sansom street, will be diverted to Filbert street.

Routes 3 and 27, Twelfth-Thirteenth street lines, which also loop on Sansom street, will be rerouted over Filbert street in order to avoid the intersections over Market and Chestnut streets, which greatly retard the schedule of all cars operating over those streets.

Route 16, the Nineteenth-Twentieth Route 16, the Mineteenth-Twentieth street line, will be rerouted so that it will make its westbound journey from the City Hall over Filbert street instead of Market street, as is the case at present. The purpose of that recruiting is to steer clear of the intense jam at Fifteenth and Market streets. The reporting will be made next week.

Route 21. the Seventeenth and Congressman Vare said he understood.

Eighteenth street line, will also be di- the verted to Filbert street instead of runing over Market street.

In addition, a compromise is in sight whereby Arch street will be made a oneway street during the morning rush hour between 6 and 8 o clock, and during the the period from 4 to 6 o'clock. ning cast in Arch street will be operated in Race street and the westbound will entinge to run in Arch street. The asthound track on Arc bstreet will be sed for vehicular traffic. The trolley car changes are temporary and are the result of a comprehenstudy of the traffic situation ordered here by Commissioner Clement Sansom street will be ntilized for fast running West Phila-delphia trolleys that are now thrown into Walnut street during the evening The extra cars will be operated over Sansom, a comparatively traffic free street, on faster schedules than are possible on the Walnut street

Parking Changes Effective at Once

The parking changes will be made feetive within seven days by the Police Department. These prohibit the central Department. These prohibit the central street parking of automobiles on Broad street. In addition the curbstone parking will also be ordered abandoned except where a truck is unloading or where the automobile is parked along the street for a short time while the owner is transacting necessary busi-ness. That prohibition will apply to all of the city streets.
A study will then be made of the situation to determine to what streets the parked automobiles will be diverted so that eventually the Broad street traffic can be further relieved by the

OF DRYDOCK'S COST Man Who Carried Penrose Proxy at Republican Convention Told to Wait Half Hour, but He Refuses. Glad Harding Won

The man who carried Senator Penrose's proxy to the Republican National Convention, and cast the vote of the senior senator from Pennsylvania in favor of Senator Harding for the presidential nomination, was asked to wait half an hour this morning when he called to see Durrell Shuster, Mayor Moore's private secretary. He didn't wait. Whether a "diplomatic situation" will arise over the incident remains to be seen.

Postal Cards Offering $5000 Reward for Blakely Coughlin Sent Broadcast

POLICE RELEASE SUSPECT

Federal postal inspectors have been put on the trail of the kidnappers of Blakely Coughlin, of Norristown, and the man who blackmailed the father out of $12,000

Chief Postal Inspector George A Leonard, of the Philadelphia district directing the search, says it is the first time postal inspectors have been employed in a kidnapping case,

The initial move of the inspectors was to send out to every home in the Philadelphia-Norristown district a Philadelphia Norristown district a postal card showing a likeness of the nissing baby and giving a good de scription of Blakely, along with a re-ward offer of $5000.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coughlin, parents of the kidnapped baby, have all but given up hope of his safe re-turn. During the three weeks since he has been missing they held up ad-mirably, but lack of news of him and the fact that the father paid $12,000 to a man who did not return the child breaking through their fortitude. The man who got the "ransom" ommunicated by mail with the father, signing himself as "The Crank."

A suspect found in this city yester day, was released last night at Nor-ristown for lack of evidence. The man was a foreigner.

When the suspect was taken to Nor ristown yesterday at the direction of Sergeant Kautz, of the state police, the man's handwriting was compared with that on notes sent the baby's father by "The Crank." His fingerprints also His fingerprints also

FRAUD OF MILLIONS IN OIL IS CHARGED

Companies, 10 Brokerage Houses and 50 Individuals Indicted in New York

NATION-WIDE ROUND-UP

By the Associated Press New York, June 24 .- Four oil companies, ten brokerage houses and about fifty individuals have been indicted by the federal grand jury on a charge of using the mails to defraud investors out of millions of dollars, it was learned today when seals on the indictment ere ordered broken.

Federal agents in cities throughout the country are now engaged in round ing up the men indicted. They are charged with having made gross misrepresentations regarding oil properties and with paying dividends out of money obtained from the sale of stock.

The companies involved are the Ranger Oil Co., W. P. Williams Oil Co., Great Western Petroleum Corp. of and Crown Oil Co.

Brokerage concerns indicted were Stickney, Rawlinson and Collough, of of George Leiderman, a Chicago sales. Boston, and Curtis, Packer & Co., man, last week of $4200 in cash and nited Securities Co., H. Kent Holmes He will confer with Legion leaders in & Co., H. Morgan Pollok & Co., It is anticipated that Thompson, James & Co., Crossman, Sherman & Co., George A. Lamb & Co., E. M. Fuller & Co. and Green-baum, Bigelow & Greenbaum, nearly all of them with headquarters in this city.
Some of the brokerage houses had connections in Chicago and other cities. The round-up now being conducted is said to be the beginning of a nation-wide campaign against alleged oil stock swindlers, who are credited with hav-ing cleaned up millions of dollars within the last few months. The first batch of indictments were returned after a long investigation conducted by a special squad of postoffice inspectors under the direction of Assistant United States District Attorneys Jerome Simmons and Henry E. Kelly.

Individuals indicted comprise of Race streets station. Individuals indicted comprise officers and directors of the oil and brokerage ompanies and stock salesmen.

While one indictment mentions ex loitation of the Charles United Oil and Gas Co., that company, which has properties in Kansas and Oklahoma, is ot named as a defendant Postoffice Inspector Howard B. May hew, who, with Inspectors Clairchan. Schwab and Williamson, gathered the evidence on which today's indictments were based, explained that three of the defendants here accused of promoting the sale of Crown Oil stock were recenty indicted at Louisville, Ky., for alleged mail frauds in connection with another oil company
