

DIVIDED ON CHOICE OF NORTHEAST HEAD

Some Favor Conservative, Others Aggressive, to Succeed Late Dr. A. J. Morrison

DR. G. D. STRADLING LOOMS

Division in sentiment is said to exist among the faculty and alumni of the Northeast High School as to a successor to the late Dr. Andrew J. Morrison as principal.

While it is considered probable that choice of a head for the school will not be made until a meeting of the Board of Education on July 13, there has been much speculation as to the possibilities for the post.

The sentiment of the faculty and alumni, it is expected, will play an important part in influencing the choice of the board. Feeling on this point has developed a sharp difference of opinion among two factions in the school faculty and alumni as to the type of man desired to head the school.

The older element is said to favor a man of the traditional type, a conservative man who will adhere closely to the methods which have guided the school during the last decade or so. The younger men want a man with new ideas, an aggressive type, not afraid to put on trial new ideas and methods.

Expression of opinion seems to favor Dr. George F. Stradling, former professor of chemistry at the school, who retired after many years' service to join the American forces overseas. After the war he returned to the school.

Doctor Stradling, it is pointed out, is popular with both elements in the school and combines the conservatism of the older men with the progressive spirit of the younger educators.

Professor Wesley W. Stevenson, acting head of the department of mathematics, is also mentioned for the post.

In case the decision of the attorney general of Pennsylvania upholds the act of the Legislature retiring educators at the age of seventy, which would force Dr. Robert Ellis Thompson to relinquish his position as president of the Central High School, a successor would probably be chosen by the board at their July meeting. Calvin O. Althaus, Dr. Henry F. Keller, principal of the Germantown High School, and Dr. George Hays have been mentioned as likely choices.

CAMDEN WILL JOIN GAS RISE PROTEST

"We Will Fight This Application for Higher Rates to Limit," Says Mayor Ellis

TWO HURT IN FACTORIES

One Scalded by Boiling Dye, Other Fell Three Stories

Two workmen are in a serious condition at the Frankford Hospital as a result of accidents in industrial plants in the northeastern section of the city.

Jacob Littet, thirty-one years old, of 1310 North Orianna street, was scalded by upsetting a tub of boiling dye over himself at the Service Dye Manufacturing Co., Adams and Rhawn streets. The accident occurred when he slipped while carrying the tub of dye. He was burned from head to foot.

Harry Mattis, of 2116 East Williams street, received his injuries when he fell three stories to the cellar of a newly erected factory building he was working on at Margareta and Bermda streets. He sustained a fractured skull.

ENTERTAIN 450 KIDDIES

Christian Volunteers Take Tender-join Children for Outing in Park

The Christian Volunteers' Church were host to 450 children from tenderloin and alum districts at Willow Grove Park today. The boys and girls left the headquarters of the church, 903 Vine street, and went to the park in special cars. Refreshments were provided free for all of the children and the mothers who accompanied them. The children were also given the opportunity to try out the different park amusements. Music was furnished by the St. Francis Boys' Band, of St. Francis Xavier's school, 2321 Green street.

Advertisement for 'Ye Watchman With His Bell' featuring an illustration of a watchman and text describing the product and its benefits.

Advertisement for GUARANTEE TRUST AND SAFE DEPOSIT CO. with details about services and contact information.

THE NEW JERSEY PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION. "We will fight this application to the limit," asserted Mayor Ellis, of Camden. "The people are burdened to excess now and we will have nothing undone to have the Public Utilities Commission deny the application."

Camden is going to join other New Jersey communities in fighting the application for increase in rates made yesterday by the Public Service Gas Co. The present rate for gas is $1.15 per 1000 cubic feet. The new rate requested is $1.55. The application was made to the commission at Trenton.

Large advertisement for Benguyer Summer Dresses, featuring the brand name, address (1214 Walnut Street), and promotional text about 'Interesting Specials' and 'Pre-Holiday Values'.

Boy, 3, Dies From Scalds. Walter Kelly, three years old, 2007 South Bouvier street, died in St. Agnes' Hospital at noon today as the result of scalds which he received while playing in his home.

Deaths. AMEELEY—At the Masonic Home, June 29, FREDERICK AMEELEY, aged 85. Relatives and friends are invited to attend funeral, Thursday, July 1, 10 a. m., from late residence, Barram ave., west of Oak Lane, Primor, Pa. Services at Collingdale Baptist Church 2 p. m. Int. private.

Foreign Fields. THE making of investigations and reports in foreign fields requires an organization specially trained, to adapt itself to conditions in foreign countries and to successfully cope with the conditions incidental to language, customs and temperament.

Advertisement for Ford, Bacon & Davis Engineers, located at 115 Broadway, New Orleans, New York, and San Francisco. The ad highlights their expertise in foreign fields and their commitment to providing exceptional facilities for investigation, valuation, and engineering work.

Deaths. BRINES—June 29, 1920, JOHN H. BRINES, aged 68. Relatives and friends are invited to attend funeral, Thursday, July 1, 10 a. m., from late residence, 1110 N. 22d st. Services at St. Michael's Church 10 a. m. Int. private.

Deaths. CAMPBELL—June 29, 1920, ELIZABETH CAMPBELL, aged 78. Relatives and friends are invited to attend funeral, Thursday, July 1, 10 a. m., from late residence, 1110 N. 22d st. Services at St. Michael's Church 10 a. m. Int. private.

Deaths. CHARD—Suddenly, June 27, ADOLPH CHARD, aged 49. Relatives and friends are invited to attend funeral, Thursday, July 1, 10 a. m., from late residence, 2048 S. Garnet st. Int. private.

Deaths. COLEMAN—June 29, MARY, widow of John Coleman, died at her residence, 1110 N. 22d st. Services at St. Michael's Church 10 a. m. Int. private.

Deaths. CRONIN—June 29, ANNA, widow of late William Cronin, died at her residence, 2424 Cedar st. Services at St. Michael's Church 10 a. m. Int. private.

Deaths. DEAN—June 29, JOHN, husband of Anna V. Davenport, died at his residence, 19 S. Center st. Services at St. Michael's Church 10 a. m. Int. private.

Deaths. DEAN—June 29, CATHERINE M., daughter of the late Edward and Eliza Dean, died at her residence, 1408 S. 15th st. Services at St. Michael's Church 10 a. m. Int. private.

Deaths. DEAN—June 29, CLAUDE H. DEAN, aged 37 years, at his home in Tropic, Cal. Int. private.

Deaths. DEAN—June 29, JAMES, husband of Rose Foster (nee Kelly), died at his residence, 1914 1/2 St. Germain, Mt. Airy. Services at St. Vincent's Church 8 a. m. Int. private.

Deaths. DEAN—June 29, ANDREW, husband of Jane Haines, aged 74. Relatives and friends are invited to attend funeral, Thursday, July 1, 10 a. m., from late residence, 1804 Erie st. Int. private.

Deaths. DEAN—June 29, FANNIE R. HARPEL, daughter of the late Charles S. and Rebecca E. Harpel, died at her residence, 216 E. 29th st. Services at St. Michael's Church 10 a. m. Int. private.

Large advertisement for the Lexington Motor Car, featuring the slogan '$5000.00 Open Challenge' and 'CHALLENGED any motor car of any make with 4, 6, 8 or 12 cylinders, selling at any price, to a competition on the following points— Gasoline Economy, Acceleration or "Get Away", Fast Speed on High Gear, Tire Mileage Economy, Slow Speed on High Gear, Slow High-Gear Power on Hills, Fast High-Gear Power on Hills'.

Large advertisement for Cadillac Motor Cars, featuring the slogan 'THE TRUTH THAT EMBODIES ALL TRUTH' and 'substantial, goes on, just as before, without interruption.' The ad includes a list of Cadillac models and their features.