

HARDING SPEAKS FOR PHONOGRAPH

Republican Nominee Sounds Call for Americanism in First Campaign "Address" COOLIDGE MAKES RECORD

By the Associated Press Washington, June 30.—The first address to be made by the two Republican candidates since their nomination, made for phonograph records to be used for campaign purposes, were made public last night at Senator Harding's office.

HARDING "CANNING" FIRST SPEECH

Republican presidential nominee is shown dictating a stirring address on "Americanism" for a phonograph record. The record will be sent all over the United States during the campaign.

"To stabilize America first. "To prosper America first. "To think of America first. "To exalt America first. "To live for and revere America first. "Let the internationalist dream and the Bolshevik destroy. God pity him for whom no minister will ever be."

Address of Coolidge Mr. Coolidge made the following address: "The first duty of a government is to be true to itself. It does not mean perfection. It means a plan to strive for perfection. It means loyalty to ideals. The ideals of America were set out in the Declaration of Independence and adopted in the constitution. They did not represent perfection attained, but perfection planned. The fundamental principle was freedom. The fathers knew this was not yet apprehended. They formed a government firm in the faith that it was ever to press toward this high mark."

"In selfishness, in greed, in lust for gain it turned aside. Enslaving others, it became itself enslaved. Bondage in fact, and in a big conception of our obligations to liberty, justice and civilization. I, and more than I, like to think of Columbus's helping hand to new republics which are seeking the blessings portrayed in our example, but have a confidence in America that requires no council of foreign powers to point the way of American duty. We wish to counsel, co-operate and contribute, but we arrogate to ourselves the keeping of the American continent and every concept of our moral obligation. It is fine to idealize, but it is impractical to make sure our own house is in perfect order before we attempt a miracle of world stabilization."

"Call it the seal of patriotism if you will. I think it an inspiration to patriotic devotion— "To safeguard America first."
