MIERE you surprised at the Fred Strawbridge and Emily Clothier engagement? I really wasn't, because I had heard rumors of it once or twice. Emily is a mighty nice girl and had a fad heard rumors of the series of the series

The members of the Strawbridge tam-fly seem to believe in marrying young. You remember Anna married Jack Clag-horne, or, rather, was engaged to him, before she came out, and Fred grad-uated last year from Penn. hout announcing their engagement without announcing their engagements. In other words, I saw the Algernon Clapps yesterday in their car on Chestmat street. And little Mrs. Clapp certainly did look pretty. She was wearing frock of soft gray material which ioned grass cloth in texture, and the rounded end skirt was trimmed with errow dark blue voile ruffles set in up d down the seams. Bands of dark lue, edged with gray, trimmed the edice and short sleeves. Her hat was large-brimmed model of the gray maerial, and there was a small vine of clored flewers trailed over the brim.

DVERYRODY started to get excited I the other night when we went into ut don't worry, it's only for July and lugust. They will start again, and the on Saturday, too, and Mrs. this year, will do so again. And, chaperoned. It was a decidedly good idea to get a lady to chaperone the dances every evening, and inces every evening, and one who lows who is who and what is what. NANCY WYNNE.
