RUSH FOR THE SEASHORE STARTS

Thousands early today formed the vanguard of the crowds that are to desert Philadelphia for a Fourth holiday at the seashore. Market street, close to the ferries, was filled by one continual stream. The jam is expected to reach a climax later in the day when the half holiday relieves thousands of other workers

ELWELL PROVOKED MURDER, IS THEORY

Mrs. Wilmerding Tells of His Tantalizing Tendency "to Lead Girls On"

'MISS WILSON" IDENTIFIED

New York, July 3 .- Mrs. Josephine Lewis Peet Wilmerding, the divorces whose name is now conspicuous in the Elwell tragedy, advanced a startling theory yesterday to the authorities to account for the mysterious murder of the whist wizard. Disclaiming any direct knowledge of the crime or the incidents leading to it, Mrs. Wilmer ding said :

"Joe Elwell was a cold, calculating kind of a man, but withal attractive and a pleasant companion. But there was a tantalizing way about him. He was inclined to lead girls on, so to was inclined to lead girls on, so to speak.

"If a woman killed him she was provoked to do it by Elwell himself. He was that kind of man, if you understand me. A high-strung, emotional girl might be excited in a case like that and do almost anything. But really I am only conjecturing. Yet I don't think Miss ———, whose name has been mentioned, would fall for Joe Elwell to that extent.

British Statesman Said to Have

SECRET DOCUMENT FOUND

By the Associated Press London, July 3 .- Newspapers friendly to the Bolsheviki give much prominence to an alleged secret document published in the newspaper Prayda, of Moscow, on June 18, which is said to expose Winston Spencer Churchill's "intrigues" with the Russian imperialists in support of General Denikin. This document, it is said, was found at Omsk after the retreat of Admiral Kolchak.

Bearing the date of May 6, 1919, it purports to be a confidential message from General Golovine, the czarist commander, to the former foreign minister. Sazonoff, and tells of the former's conversations with Mr. Churchill and other British officials. It was brought from Moscow by the British labor delegates who paid a visit to Russia this spring.

The Herald, organ of labor, claims the document proves Mr. Churchill "tricked the country into making war upon Russia, concealing from his colleagues and the country the fact that he was making terms with czarist generals." It charges that the British secretary of state for war used the decision to send volunteer soldiers to Archangel to assist in the evacuation of British troops from northern Russia as a pre-text for anti-Bolshevik military operations in concert with Admiral Kolchak and General Denikin. The newspaper motortruck accidents last night.
