Philadelphia Manufacturers' Baseball League, one of the city's ploantown B. C.—F. Mitchell, W. Kespatter, and Gibbstown has an opportunity to oust Woodbury from the lead, provided the latter loses at Paulsboro while Gibbstown plays and wine from Swedesboro.

This is an off day in the Philadelphia Sub-urban and Delaware County Suburban League, although several of the teams have arranged to play off pogtponed matches. The Delaware County Suburban managers de-cided that it would be useless to play off postponed games in the first half, as it would make no change in the standing and Rockdale was awarded the pennant.

Hohlfeld looms large in the Industrial Amateur League since it handed the first defeat of the season to the Lupton nine. With Campbell pitching, the club is really dangerous and President Hohlfeld looks for another victory when his team plays American Pulley this afternoon.

The Norristown Professionals have been doing anything but setting the world after this season. Now they have found the reason. A shake-up in the club has been announced. Sld Agnew will replace Dick Snaudins in the outfield, Pasquelaro, the Strawbridge & Clothier first baseman, will hold down the initial sack and Riley, of Upland, will be behind the bat. All these changes because they play Hilldale in the next game.

changes because they play Hilldale in the next game.

After a lay-off of one week the Manufacturers' League will resume. The big game of the schedule is the contest booked at Houston Field, Twenty-ninth and Clearfield streets, between Hale & Kilburn and Niles Crane. Manager Cook, of Hale & Kilburn has strengthened his club about 50 per cent in the last two weeks and expects to defeat the Crane club, which has only lost one game. The management of the Southwark Foundry announces that in connection with the game with Naval Aircraft there also will be an athletic meet, which will be open only to members of that concern.

This is an open day in the schedule of the Montgomery County League, but the teams have decided to play off the games which were postponed by the rain of June 5. The big contest of the day is at Doylestown, with Lansdale as the attraction. Lansdale shoved Doylestown out of first place by winning on July 4 and there is great rivalry between the two, which means a box office.

> morrow afternoon they will begin at 2:30. Incidentally, the tournament will be finished tomorrow, as it was scheduled originally for only three days, and Mr. Biddle, the official referee, is going to see to it that all of the matches are played according to the dope sheet. A Good Match

One of the first matches to start yesterday, and one which attracted a lot of attention, was that in which William H. Connell, of the Germantown Cricket Club, and Mrs. M. B. Huff, of the Philadelphia Cricket Club, and Miss Helen Sewell, 7-5, 6-2.

Mrs. Huff was very steady, as usual, and played an excellent game both in the back court and at the net. "Chief." e back court and at the net Connell's service was working in mid-season form, and he would have been credited with a lot of service aces if there had been any one around to credit him.

Miss Sewell also played well. She has been improving steadily ever since she began to play early in the spring in the women's interclub matches. At Wilmington in the Delaware state meet Miss Sewell put up a fine game against Mrs. Gilbert A. Harvey, forcing the national semifinalist to three sets. The follow-ing week Miss Sewell did still better, winning the Maryland state championship at the Baltimore Country Club from a big field, in which were included Miss Ann B. Townsend and Mrs. Huff. The hardest-fought contest of the lot was staged early on court No. 1. After three fierce sets, in which either team had a chance to win until the final point was played. Mr. Merritt and Mrs. W. P. Newhall won. They defeated Brooke Edwards and Mrs. Cross 6-8, 6-3, 6-4. Mrs. Newhall played one of the best games she has put up this year. She is a left-hander and played No. 1 on the Germantown Cricket Club's team in the Women's Interclub League last spring.

Joseph R. Carpenter, one of Philadelphia's veteran players, teamed up with Miss Carpenter, and defeated Joe Thayer and Miss Brock in straight sets at 6-3, 6-3. Some of Mr. Carpenter's gets were remarkable. Several times he returned for points fast overhead smashes from Joe Thayer's racquet.

As Expected

The victories of Bill Tilden and Billy Johnston over the French cracks, W. H. Laurentz and Andre H. Gobert, in the Davis cup elimination matches yesterday, did not create much excitement here. Everybody who has followed the fortlunes of the American players in Great Britain expected nothing else. Tilden's great victory over Gerald Patterson in the challenge round for the world's title, and his previous wins in the towns of the Gerald Patters of the Gerald Patters of the Gerald Patters of the Carter of the Gerald Patters of the Gerald Patt the tournament have placed the Ger-mantown Cricket man upon such a high pedestal in lawn tennisdom that a de-feat would be the only thing that could surprise followers of the game.

Although Tilden dropped the opening set in his match with Laurentz, his play in the third set was so indisputably superior to that of the Frenchman that superior to that of the Frenchmun that little is thought of the fact that he lost the first at 4-6. The scores of the other sets were 6-2, 6-1, 6-3.

Johnston trimmed Gobert as decisively as Tilden did his man. The Californian was leading Gobert in the first set 4-3 on Thursday when rain interrupted play. When they resumed yesterday Johnston ran the set out in short order without losing another short order without losing another game. In the second set Gobert made a great showing, carrying the games to 6-all before our national champion could end it. The third set went to Johnston at 6-3.

Yesterday's mixed doubles results:

Tilden and Johnston, American Pair, Meet Gobert and Laurentz, of France, Today

Eastbourne, England, July 10 .- To day's play in the Davis Cup elimination match between the United State and France was looked forward to confidently by the admirers of the American team as likely to decide the issuein favor of the American players.

The match carded for today was the doubles with William M. Johnston, of California, and William T. Tilden, of Philadelphia, the American pair, and Andre H. Gobert and William H. Laurentz, the French representatives.

The first complete day's play gave the Americans a commanding lead of two matches to none, Johnston having defeated Cohest and Tilden having defeated Cobert and Tilden having taken the measure of Laurentz. The team winning three out of a possible five matches becomes the victor, and to win the contest the Americans needed only to capture one more match. In the British national champion-ships at Wimbledon Tilden and Johnston met and defeated Gobert and Lau rentz, the pair against whom they con-

ESSINGTON REGATTA

Class-Other Events

Fiftee entries for the cruiser class alone in today's regatta at Essington have been received by the regatta committee of the Delaware River Yachtsmen's League. In addition to the race for cruisers there will also be events for glass cabins and open boats. It is being held under the auspices of the Riverside Yacht Club. Cruisers will leave at 2 o'clock sharp and go over a thirty-nautical-mile course to Deepwater Point and return. The course for the smaller boats is fifteen nautical miles.
