A Host of Good Reasons for Coming to Wanamaker's on Monday

NOTE:-The following editorial was printed in the New York papers on having evoked considerable comment and drawn forth letters from old New Yorkers, it is herewith reproduced for the benefit and information of Philadelphians interested in the old A. T. Stewart Store and its Mother Store:

This first great store of New York founded 1823 by A. T. Stewart maintains the distinctive character it had in Mr. Stewart's lifetime, to which has been added the life and spirit of Mr. Stewart's old friend, its present owner, whose pride and signature govern all our undertakings in New York as well as Philadelphia.

The prosperity of this business since the new sign was placed at the corner of Ninth Street and Broadway on the old A. T. Stewart building a quarter century ago is still there. Across Ninth Street from Broadway to Fourth Avenue, the big New Building more than twice as high as the Stewart building looms up, doing a noble part as a staunch witness to the enduring principles of the two founders of this great, ever-increasing business. Mr. Stewart's first quality of merchandise

Women's Fine Silk Wraps Change Prices Now $45 to $100

These are the handsome, one-of-a-kind coats and capes that have been right in our own stocks at considerably higher prices-in fact, the wraps at the top price were just twice

There are capes of rich, gleaming sating, of heavy taffetas and of tricolettes. There are coats of satin, of radiant silk and of silk poplin-so you will see that the variety is wide and the assortment good.

The styles are distinctive and becoming. The wraps are beautifully made and lined with rich silks. And there are models suitable for street, afternoon and evening use. Some of the more expensive wraps are fur trimmed.

There are plenty of black wraps, many of dark blue, and others of tan shades, brown or white.

If you are looking for a handsome wrap to take away on your vacation this is an excellent opportunity to get it. (First Floor, Central) is the American aviation silk-a heavy, firm silk, of unusual quality and particularly useful for tailored gowns, separate skirts of whole suits. This silk is pure white, it launders beautifully, it will give no end of wear, is 40 inches wide and $5 a yard.

Frolaset Corsets, Laced in Front

They are built with the long straight lines which are the present vogue, and are designed for many different types of figures. To mention two or three-

One is a topless model of pink batiste with insert of elastic under the bust and with short skirt. This is excellent to wear while exercising. A model with longer skirt has a very low bust and a rubber band across the back. The material is pink coutil. $5.75.

A figured pink batiste with a band of elastic across the top and the back. $7.25.

A long well-boned model with very low bust and long skirt is intended for tall women. This is $9.

900 Mussed Waists-Going at $2 to $5

These are the olds and ends of waists remaining from our recent big sales, reduced from their already small sale prices to clear them out. They are cotton voiles and batistes mostly, and mostly white; and the lot includes 150 extra-sized waists which have tails instead of elastics and run from 46 to 54 inches in size. Their prices are $3.85 and $5.

Pretty New Silk Girdles to Grace Summer Gowns

Often the girdle adds just the touch which gives distinction to the whole gown!

One new girdle is of firm, lustrous crepe de chine in delicate pinks and blues. It is of generous width and good length, has knotted ends, and is $4.

Another girdle of novelty silk in a crepe-like weave has a little more luster. This, too, comes in delicate colors, is of the fashionable length, and is finished with fancy

Showing a Handsome New Consignment of Chinese Rugs

There are many reasons why Chinese rugs are deserving of respect, probably the most notable one being their originality in coloring and design. That is no small distinction. No rugs are so free from modern influences, and, as a natural consequence, the rugs of China are of a strong individuality, so much so that they are always unmistakable in any collection.

Our assortment of these rugs has been well refreshed by this new consignment, the rugs in which are typical of the best Chinese pieces obtainable.

All the characteristic Chinese colors are in evidence, especially blue, tan and golden shades, with occasional touches of salmon pink.

Prices are distinctly moderate.

Open Monday—The Summer Sale of Dress Goods Remnants

Probably 35,000 yards of good, fashionable materials have gone into it-voiles, ginghams, percales, linens, organdies, silk muslins, sateens, silk and cotton mixtures, cotton crepes—a little of everything, in a word, which we have been selling during the last two months of extraordinary business. The remnants are in lengths varying from a blouse length to a dress pattern.

Prices are a third to a half less. (First Floor, Chestnut)

Good Silks for Men's Cool Summer Suits

Thank the Japanese for the first silk, which is one of our own importation, and is a very heavy, beautiful quality silk, in the natural color. It will launder perfectly, wear most satisfactorily and is $4 the yard and 32 inches wide.

Another excellent silk for this same purpose-men's summer suitsis Chinese, and is also natural color. This is a pongee, is $3 a yard and is 33 inches wide

Schomacker Player-Pianos Emerson Player-Pianos Lindeman Player-Pianos Each Make in Three Different Player-Actions Three of the best makes of player-pianos in the world, each make shown in three different player-actions.

As not every make is equipped with the same mechanism as the others, there are five actions altogether.

Not all persons' tastes are alike, and while all the playermechanisms used in these pianos are of superior grade, you may prefer one action to the other two. In player-pianos, as in anything else, it is pleasant to have some latitude of choice. Every musician knows that the Schomacker, the Emerson and the Lindeman are three of the best moderately priced pianos made. Equipped with any of the splendid player-mechanisms with which we have them they make player-planos that are not equaled outside of the higher-priced instruments.

The prices at which these high-grade player-pianos may be bought are: Schomacker, $1150, $1200 and $1850.

(Egyptian Hall, Second Floor)

Lindeman, $800 and $850. In the Emerson and the Lindeman there are two actions at the lower prices Any of these instruments may be bought on convenient terms.
