hall, which was burned to ashes of "Up Tuum." There was much shooting, but no loss of life is reported.

Soldiers Use Machine Guns
Soldiers were compelled to use machine guns against rioters throughout the city last night and early this morning.

Three Unionists were shot dead by Sinn Fein snipers and another man's head was blown off.

The disorders in Sinn Fein workers in day after some streets Wednesday morning were attacked, were renewed at frequent intervals yesterday.

Shops Looted; Windows Smashed
Looting and smashing of windows prevailed throughout the trouble, spirit, groceries and licensed premises being especially singled out.

Disorder broke out at 8:30 last night at the junction of the Falls road and the city. Troops were hurried to the scene and fired on the mob, wounding many.

The soldiers returned quickly, but were charged by the troops and dispersed at 9:30. Re-enforcements arrived at 10:30.

retary asserted, "any decision of a Sinn Fein court or any transfer of title under such decision is illegal and will be upset as soon as possible."

Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, after declaring that "in three-quarters of Ireland the British Government had been entirely beaten," said: "There are only two courses open for solution—either surrender to the Irish republic or organization of forces to insure the government is not beaten again."

The Unionist leader asserted that what he had done in Ulster in the past would be done again. "I had not done my part," he stated, "Ulster would today be ground down under the heels of murderous assassins, who are now making Ireland infamous in the eyes of the world."

invaded," asks the newspaper, "is it so certain the Bolsheviks won't get them?"

Paris, July 23.—(By A. P.)—Marshal Foch will not go to Warsaw unless the report of the French and British missions now on route indicates the necessity of his presence and subsequent developments show that military aid by the Allies is required to prevent the Bolsheviks from overrunning Poland, it was learned today.

The newspapers today comment on the seriousness of the situation of Poland and emphasize the importance of the allied mission to that country. The Journal expresses the fear that the mission will arrive too late. The Petit Parisien declares that France and England will furnish arms and munitions to Poland, which has sufficient manpower of its own. Other newspapers demand that immediate measures to aid Poland be inaugurated.

The Polish ministry has been intrusted to extreme radicals with the idea, it is said, that such a government would be better able to make terms with the invaders. It is stated that preparations are being made for the evacuation of Warsaw.

One fear expressed is that if the frontier of Germany, a Spartan or monarchist uprising there would be inevitable, either of which, they say, would be equally fatal to the reconstruction of Europe.

Papers which have been consistently distrustful of the Germans foresee that the military party of Germany not only would find in such a case an excuse for further delaying reduction of the Reichswehr and disarmament of the civil guard, but would secure a direct line of communication with Russia and make itself master of the Bolshevik organization and Russia herself.

"If this plan is carried out," says the Daily Mail, "Russia would become a German colony and all her vast wealth and man-power would be at Germany's disposal. The Allies would have lost the peace after winning the war."

The Daily News, which is not unfriendly to the Bolsheviks, says the seriousness is not less because of the fact that eastern Germany is full of arms and ammunition dumps to be surrendered to the Allies. "These finally will be available for Poland if she is invaded, but supposing East Prussia is

government has asked the Allies for authorization to send troops to the plebiscite areas as a measure of protection against the Bolsheviks. The Soviet representatives in Berlin today denied that the Bolsheviks planned to invade Germany.

Paris, July 23.—(By A. P.)—The German peace delegation here has asked the Supreme Council for authorization to re-enforce the troops in eastern Prussia with volunteers and to occupy Marienwerder and Allenstein, where the recent plebiscites gave a large majority in favor of German sovereignty. The Germans say that more troops are necessary to defend the frontier against eventual incursions by the Bolsheviks.

POLES HEROICALLY MEET FOES DRIVE

Warsaw, July 22 (delayed).—(By A. P.)—The Polish front is holding immediately south of Priepet and in Pella, but further south a breach in the line effected by Bolshevik cavalry is reported, according to today's official communique, which reads:

"Fighting continues east of Grodno in the region of Szanowyn. To the south our troops, according to plan, retired from Baranovitchi, and are repulsing Bolshevik attacks.

"South of the Priepet and in Polesia we have thrown back the enemy. The struggle is growing more violent in the vicinity of Dubno.

"A division of enemy cavalry, profiting by our weakness, attacked our positions near Woloczysj and Frydrychowka, throwing in a great quantity of artillery and five armored trains. The enemy attacked five times, but it was heroically repelled by the Fifty-third Regiment of infantry. Heavy losses occurred on both sides.

"To the southward the enemy succeeded in crossing the river Zbrucz near Sidorow, where the battle is progressing.

"Bitter attacks continue uninterruptedly along the Styry river line."

Speaker Says 'American Bourgeoisie' Broke Principles of Democracy

Moscow, July 20.—(By A. P.)—Nikolai Lenin, premier of Bolshevik Russia; G. S. Zinovieff, Bolshevik governor of Petrograd, and M. Kalinin were the principal speakers at the opening session of the congress of the Third Internationale at Petrograd Monday. The sessions, at which fifty-one countries are represented, tomorrow will be transferred to the Kremlin palace at Moscow.

One of the crucial matters discussed was the question of admitting representatives of the Socialist parties, which recently abandoned the Second Internationale. According to M. Zinovieff, the German Independents and the French Socialists will be required to do some "house-cleaning."

M. Zinovieff also attacked the American democracy for "its persecution of all entering the ranks of revolution by way of the Third Internationale."

"The American bourgeoisie," he said, "has laid aside its constitutional guarantees and broken the principles of its much-praised democracy. It has defined its real position."

A Vienna dispatch of July 17 said that foreign diplomatic experts there commented on the Russo-Austrian agreement as a possible means of making Vienna the headquarters for Soviet propaganda in central and eastern Europe and paving the way to closer relations. The dispatch said the Austrian Government explained that it was considered necessary to accept the agreement so that the exchange of Austrians held prisoner in Russia for six years might be obtained.

Lithuanians Deny Collusion

London, July 23.—(By A. P.)—Regarding the relations between Lithuania and Russia, the London Times says the Lithuanians deny any collusion with the Germans or Bolsheviks. They are determined that their frontiers shall remain inviolate, according to the newspaper, and have placed themselves at the disposal of the Allies, asking only such aid as has been promised Poland. The Lithuanians are reported to be negotiating with the Soviet government for the withdrawal from Vilna.

Why Cox and Harding Will Make League Chief Issue

Both candidates on the Democratic ticket declare that they will make their chief fight on the League of Nations issue. Replying, Senator Harding says that since "the President demands a campaign on this issue," since "the Democratic platform makes the issue paramount," and since "the Democratic candidates unqualifiedly acquiesce," then "the Republican party and candidates gladly accept the challenge."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, July 24th, throws many side-lights upon the reasons why the candidates are pushing the League of Nations to the front as a dominant issue, and it will be highly interesting and instructive reading to the American voter just now.

WILL STOP OUTRAGES, PREMIER DECLARES

London, July 23.—(By A. P.)—Premier Lloyd George told a deputation of the parliamentary committee of the trades union congress today that he was anxious to see the Irish question settled on a basis acceptable to the majority of the Irish people. The premier discussed with the men for an hour and a half the outcome of the special trades union congress called early in July to consider labor's attitude on the Irish question.

Mr. Lloyd George declared the government was not afraid to accept a truce, but that it could not permit overt outrages and bloodshed. He was prepared to go a long way to letting Ireland manage her own affairs, if the necessary assurance was forthcoming. He suggested that labor use its influence to obtain a settlement.

"I regret to say that Parliament and the kingdom must brace itself to face a bitter period in Irish history, as a determined and organized attempt will be made to establish an Irish republic by means of murder and intimidation," declared Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland in the course of a debate on Irish affairs in the House of Commons today. He appealed to all parties and creeds to support the government and predicted the situation would become worse than at present.

"The attempt to form a republic in Ireland will not be abandoned without a struggle," the chief secretary said, "but it can be defeated by united determination of all parties and all creeds to remove savage methods and restore their natural right to decide as to the ultimate and best government for Ireland."

"There never was a time when the Irish executive, the British cabinet and the House of Commons were more determined of settling the Irish question, and we are ready to welcome representation from every quarter as to the best method of solution."

Sir Hamar said he would have to ask the House to pass certain legislative measures to meet the situation. He suggested one to create a tribunal superceding civil courts, which had proved to function during the recent sessions, and another empowering the lord lieutenant of Ireland to establish a trial of offences committed in Ireland.

"Pending these measures, the present situation is a serious one," he said.
