Continued from Page One here today that this country has "reached a point where we should not permit any unassimilable race to fill up our Pacific states or any other states."

"It is rather difficult for the people of the East and the South to fully appreciate the Japanese immigration question and its effect upon the Pacific coast," said Mr. Swone.

"It must be said the Japanese are thrifty and as soon as they save something from their earnings they go into business for themselves, usually farming."

"As a result they are acquiring great tracts of land in California and taking over whole communities. As the Japanese come in many whites move away from the country."

"The Californians assert that the Japanese are a racial problem in that they could not be assimilated. It is very rare that a Japanese man marries a white woman, or vice versa."

"The Japanese love their mother country. They love the Japanese traditions and the Japanese language, and for that reason it is difficult to Americanize them."

MAJORITY IN DIET FIERCELY ATTACKED

Tokio, July 29.—(By A. F.)—The Diet adjourned today after a final dramatic attack on the ministry by Yukio Ozaki, former minister of justice, who accused the Seiu-kai majority in the house of stifling liberty of speech.

"This is highly inimical to real constitutional development," Mr. Ozaki asserted, "and destruction of freedom of speech by the ministerial party is tantamount to destruction of the very foundation of constitutional government."

The government forces did not succeed in mustering the necessary two-thirds to secure the expulsion of O. Shimada from membership in the Diet.

There is fighting all along the Zbrucz river, some of the Bolsheviki troops having forced a crossing at Kaneretz-Podolsk, which front is defended by the Ukrainians.

The Bolsheviki drive from the north-east along the railway and the thrust in Galicia in the direction of Lemberg are developing rapidly, despite Polish resistance on both wings. In the Red advance continues the Poles will be compelled to evacuate the Pripiet country.

Bolshevik Trifery Feared

Additional French officers attached to the military mission have arrived in Warsaw. All of them will be assigned to various Polish units as technical advisers. A large school for officers, under the supervision of French officers, was opened yesterday at Rembertoff, a suburb of Warsaw.

Newspapers continue to express their hope, but desire to invade Poland. They say it is clear from what is transpiring in the northeast that Bolsheviki are aiming directly at Warsaw and that in the south they are marching upon Lemberg.

Plea for the Teachers

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—Your recent editorial upon the subject of teachers' salaries is called with by the Board of Education, was to the point. It was a great disappointment to me to see that the Board of Education, when they read accounts in the papers that only nine members of the board were present and that ten were necessary in order to take any action upon the vital question of salaries.

Every one knows what effect this delay and holding off has meant in the spirit and morale of the teachers. No teacher can do good teaching and have a lasting influence over her pupils when she is compelled to have a distracted mind on account of inadequate pay.

Demands Fair Coal Price

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—We believe and advance the following reasons for the belief that if there would be a thorough, honest inquiry and investigation followed by prompt action by the proper government authorities, the betterment of the benefit of the masses, within a reasonable time in the near future, would be a remarkable and large reduction in the price of anthracite and bituminous coal.

The People's Voice

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger: Sir—Your editorial, "Right of the People to Have Their Say," is one that all reasonable and fair-minded people will agree with in its main points, but in my humble opinion you have got off the track in one or two of your statements and deductions.

The Anti-Saloon League and the liquor commission both also exerted their utmost power to elect members to the Legislature for or against the ratification, and the anti-saloon people got the majority of them.

Every one knows what effect this delay and holding off has meant in the spirit and morale of the teachers. No teacher can do good teaching and have a lasting influence over her pupils when she is compelled to have a distracted mind on account of inadequate pay.

Teachers spend years in preparation for their work and in addition to this they are expected to keep abreast of the times by taking up extra work in colleges on Saturdays or in the evenings, and to do this in any way of the day with fifty or more live pupils in about all most teachers can endure. They add to this extra effort to keep pace, plus an extra outlay of money for this extra work and no visible increase in compensation.

Ministers are granted from one to two months vacation in any year. Why should teachers be an exception? If the Board of Education would evolve a plan whereby the teachers would be absent during the months of July and August the same as during the other ten months, the problem would be solved.

It is impossible to draw sweat water from a bitter man. Education is as important in a school in any way as any other line of activity, regardless as to whether the radiation is from the sun or other source. Regardless as to how we look upon money in the light of the radiation of heat, it can cause a kind of radiation not easy of measurement. Are we dead or alive on this radiation? Let's examine it into this holding off.

sonably rapid returns on their investments.

"But recent and pending changes cannot help but better this condition. An enormous amount of replacement is now in order, and it really hasn't begun yet. During the war and even afterward the government spent no money on this item, and private ownership has done little more since March 1."

"Now, with railway labor better satisfied by virtue of wage increases, greater efficiency can be looked for in the running of the roads.

"Also with an increased revenue in sight there is no doubt that the railroads of the country will begin to replenish their rolling stock. The price of steel and kindred metals must inevitably rise, of course, but more locomotives will be built, more freight cars, more rails will be laid and existing stock will be improved.

"This means, of course, that transportation will be bettered and probably the greatest obstacle to a movement toward normal conditions will be removed.

"Even the housing condition looks as though it may be improved. The closing down of Hog Island and a lessening of activities at some of the other shipyards will inevitably help to ease this situation. I even notice some suburban building being done.

"With shipyards having less help and many industries curtailing their activities, owing either to overproduction, lessened public demand or the inordinately income and excess profit taxes charged by the government, I fancy that a short time labor will lessen its demands.

"I think that a big change for the better will be evident after the coming presidential election. Government mismanagement has done its share in keeping prices up, what with reckless expenditures and a general disposition to be constructive within the last few weeks to the point where it has made itself felt sharply in downward price trends for staple commodities.

had a potent effect in bringing down prices.

"One more factor has been the enormously increased immigration. Last week, with 14,000 immigrants to this country, was the biggest single week since the war. People from other countries have been only too anxious to come over here and help produce, but until recently the shipping board could not provide enough ships to bring them here.

"The people have been shopping more, said one of the factors that has helped to ease the situation. People are looking before they buy and not buying unless they have to. This has crystallized within the last few weeks to the point where it has made itself felt sharply in downward price trends for staple commodities.

CLEVELAND SEEKS SUPPLY OF FUEL

City's Transport Lines Glutted With Coal, but None for Local Use

Cleveland, July 29.—The board of directors of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce has decided to seek a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission to get assurance that Cleveland's coal needs will be taken care of. A committee chosen to ask for the hearing consists of A. C. Dustin, legal advisor of the chamber; F. H. Baer, traffic manager; C. A. Albright, president of the retail coal dealers' board of the chamber; Alexander C. Brown and Oliver W. Upson. If the committee is unable to obtain a reassuring statement from the commission, the chamber directors will again consider the question of applying for redress through the federal courts. Such action would be a suit to restrain the commission from execution of the provisions of Order No. 10. Order No. 10 requires the dumping of 4000 cars of coal daily at lake ports from mines in Ohio, western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia and Kentucky for shipment up the lakes.

Serve Healthful, Bubbling Peacock

Whenever there is a thirst to be quenched—no odds if it be the driest that hot weather ever produced—serve healthful, bubbling Peacock Ginger Ale. Peacock goes right to the thirst spot; refreshes, invigorates and satisfies.

You do not tamper with your health when you drink Peacock. It is a health drink and every ingredient used in it is purified before bottling, to protect your health. The fine ginger and fruit juices are specially processed to make them absolutely pure, and the water is sterilized and twice filtered before it is properly carbonated, and mixed with the other ingredients.

When you buy Ginger Ale, get PEACOCK—the drink that is not only thirst-quenching, but healthful and satisfying as well. Your grocer or druggist sells Peacock Ginger Ale in 15½-ounce bottles. Remember to say PEACOCK.

Also ask for Peacock Root Beer, Birch Beer, Sarsaparilla and Lemon Soda. WEISBROD & HESS, Philadelphia
