

LEGION ASKS POSTS FOR RATIFICATION

Delay in Approving State Constitution is Hampering Work of Headquarters

WEST PHILADELPHIA BAND

An urgent request for the posts in Philadelphia and throughout Pennsylvania to ratify the new constitution of the American Legion which was adopted at Allentown, was forwarded today from department headquarters, 841 Chestnut street.

Six weeks have elapsed since the state convention adjourned and only 124 posts in the state, out of more than 550, have acted favorably on the new constitution.

Department Commander Davis will be delayed in developing the organization provided for under the new constitution unless the posts give their attention to this vital matter. A vote of two-thirds of the posts is required for its ratification.

The appointment of the twenty-four deputy department commanders to supervise the work of the legion in the state must be deferred until after the ratification of the constitution, and inasmuch as these deputy department commanders constitute the state executive committee, it will not be possible to create that body until the posts have voted.

John V. Horan, one of the organizers of the Overbrook Post, the most recently chartered body of World War veterans in the legion in Philadelphia county, declared yesterday that this post has formed a temporary organization and will meet shortly to elect permanent officers. The post also has plans for a home in the Overbrook section, which project will be backed by influential citizens.

George Blair, one of the organizers of Post 333, which is composed principally of Third Regiment veterans, announced today that there will be a meeting of the post tomorrow night in the Third Regiment armory to plan for active work in the fall. This post will begin its regular meetings again in September. It will elect officers at the end of its fiscal year and will conduct a campaign immediately thereafter to double its membership. John F. O'Hea is the present commander.

Homer H. Hacker, of 726 Johnston street, Philadelphia, has resigned as representative to the county committee from Post 240, of which Joseph V. Somer, is commander. Comrade Hacker has been unable, on account of continued absence from the city, to attend legion meetings and felt that in justice to the post, he ought not to continue to hold the position.

Prince-Forbes Post, No. 7, hopes to make its post band a band for a West Philadelphia legion band, in which will be enrolled musicians from all West Philadelphia posts, provided the other posts in that section of the city agree to co-operate. This post has a paid-up membership of nearly 500 and is one of the strongest in Philadelphia.

GASSED VETERAN ILL
Breakdown is Result of German Attack, Physicians Say

A recurrence of illness from a gas attack which he suffered two years ago has left John Dobson Hutchinson, of 4171 Ridge avenue, an overseas veteran, in a serious condition. At theankenman Hospital, where he is being treated, it is said that his case is critical. Hutchinson, who is twenty-eight years old, served throughout the war in a machine-gun company of the 109th Infantry and in July, 1918, he was gassed by the Germans at Chateau-Thierry. He was in France for more than a year. About twelve months ago he returned and entered the employ of the Union League. A week ago he suffered a general breakdown accompanied by heart and kidney trouble brought on, physicians say, by the bad effects of the poisonous gas. He is a grand-nephew of James Dobson, a carpet manufacturer.
