

DONE WITH POLITICS
DECLARES BENNETT

Former Police Lieutenant Is Happy With Family After Release From Jail

READY TO TAKE HIS JOB

"The only thing I can say is that I am glad to be out, and I want to thank my friends in Philadelphia and West Chester for all they have done for me."

Bennett was released from the county jail at West Chester yesterday after serving one year of the thirteen months' sentence imposed for his part in the Fifth ward election trouble of 1917.

The fight in the "bloody Fifth" that year culminated in the murder of Accut Detective George Eppley. Bennett and five patrolmen were sent to jail in connection with the case.

Bennett left the county jail shortly after 7 o'clock. Attired in a blue serge suit and wearing a straw hat, he strolled down Market street to Church street, where he stopped to thank Herman G. Hutt, a storekeeper, for his kindness.

A few minutes afterward Bennett was greeted by two Philadelphia newspapermen. No one else seemed to know who he was.

"I have nothing to say for publication," Bennett said. "I have no plans for the future. I have no plans."

Bennett was met at the front entrance of the prison by John L. Clower, the prison warden. Mr. Clower told Bennett that his wife, accompanied by Mrs. Isaac Deutch, widow of Ike Deutch, came to the prison to visit with Bennett.

After hiding good-by to the warden, Bennett jumped into the car with his wife and friends and started back to his home in this city, where another welcome awaited him from his three children.

Before Bennett was released two fines amounting to $800 and costs had to be paid. This sum was collected by Mrs. Deutch among friends of her husband.

Joseph Ruppik, forty-five years old, of Chester, was stabbed by Joseph Sofferzo, 1027 Christian street, last night following a heated argument at Fourth and Christian streets.

Ruppik was taken to the Howard Hospital in a serious condition. Sofferzo was arrested by the police of the Seventh and Carpenter streets station and will have a hearing before Magistrate Coward today.

The Municipal Band will give a concert tonight at Gray's avenue between Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth streets. The Fairmount Park Band will play at Georges Hill at 8 o'clock.

CITY WANTS U. S. PIERS

Mayor and Delegation to Seek Oregon Avenue Property
A delegation of citizens, headed by Mayor Moore, will visit Washington this week and confer with Colonel F. D. Hines, of the United States Quartermaster Corps, concerning the plan to transfer the government piers at the foot of Oregon avenue to the custody of the city.

The terminal cost $11,000,000 and was built during the war as part of the army supply base at the foot of Oregon avenue. In April the government offered the terminal to the city at an annual rental of $380,000.

Information is being sought by Carroll R. Thompson, assistant director of the department of docks, wharves and ferries, upon the latest types of machinery of that description and a written report on the investigation will be submitted to Mayor Moore and Director Spruille. Those two officials, Governor Spruille and David J. Smyth, city solicitor, left Saturday afternoon on an inspection trip of the Delaware which included the Oregon avenue terminal. They will return this morning.

G. O. P. WOMEN
ASK RATIFICATION

Pennsylvania Organization Appeals Specially to Governor and State's Senators

NO LONGER AN EXPERIMENT

The Republican women's committee of Pennsylvania today appealed for final ratification of the equal suffrage amendment, which needs the approval of one more state to become effective.

The committee addressed its appeal to all Republican governors and members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives. Governor Spruille and Senators Penrose and Knox were asked particularly to throw their support and influence to the cause. The appeal follows:

"We, the Republican women's committee of Pennsylvania, speaking for the majority of all women in the state, appeal for your support and influence in obtaining, at the earliest possible moment, the final ratification of the equal suffrage amendment.

"We have waited for many years for the attainment of this end. Most of us in Pennsylvania have accepted the delay without impatience, feeling that so great a change must of necessity develop slowly.

"Woman's suffrage, however, can no longer be regarded as an experiment. In state after state women have been enfranchised without interference with the orderly operations of government. On the contrary, in those states where women exercise franchise their participation in government has led to no rash and ill-considered legislation, but has rather exerted a stabilizing and conservative influence, and from the beginning of the war events have tended more and more to prove that in every field women have fulfilled many of the activities of men and by their energy and enthusiasm given a mighty impulse to the power of the nation.

"We are not a small group of reformers, we are a vast number of women who have not heretofore been in sympathy with our cause to bring to this issue that measure of equality as you would demand were your own political status hanging in the balance."

BEAT COST OF RIBBONS

Children of Southern Section Make Them of Paper
The children in the southern section of the city have a cute little way of their own to beat the back of the high cost of hair ribbons.

The cost of the ribbons went up to forty cents last week. The girls were determined to have their hair decorated, despite the ever-rising cost of the ribbons, and soon paper ribbons were being worn by every one.

63 DIVORCES GRANTED

Women Are Complainers in Majority of Cases Heard Here
Another long list of divorce decrees was handed down today by Common Pleas Court No. 5. In the majority of the sixty-three cases the divorces were obtained by wives.

In one case, that of Ada Hoffman Miller from Charles Allen Miller, the usual proclamation was made, but the signing of the decree was delayed pending the adjustment of a technicality.

The final decrees announced today follow:
