National Guardsmen Quick to Fall Into Spirit of Wartime as Routine Begins

"ALL'S WELL," IS REPORT

Camp Gretna, Mt. Gretna, Pa., Aug. 3.—The Iron Division is rapidly working off any rust it may have accumulated since it flashed up Broad street in full war strength more than a year ago.

All the infantry, cavalry and machine-gun units are working out in the cool sunshine of the rolling fields of the camp. Regimental bands are warming up their best marches in odd corners of the brown canvas city.

General Price sits in council with his staff in the shade of his tent and smiles the smile of the good soldier when everything is under control, and the smoke goes up the mess-stone chimney just the same.

Specially drilled regular army officers and non-coms are driving the boots of a synonym for recruits into shape in double time. The spirit and sense of leadership in the sergeants and corporals of the "old Twenty-eighth" has already been caught by the new guards.

Keep Alive Old Traditions It is a camp of real work for officers and men, but it is cheerful activity because the N. G. P. is working to a new and shining purpose, to keep alive the traditions of the Keystone Division.

After spending a "half-horsed" day yesterday, the three troops of Philadelphia cavalry are now fully mounted and busy with maneuvers. The horsemanship and drill of Captain Thomas Cadwalader's "E" Troop is brilliant with the snap that expert riders and veteran soldiers can put into their work.

The Second City Troop, and Troop A are half filled with recruits who are learning a lot about horses and the lay of the land out Fountain Head Hill way.

Terms of Defensive Military Alliance Sent to Washington

By the Associated Press Washington, Aug. 3.—General terms of the defensive military alliance between France and Belgium, as drawn up by Marshal Foch, of the French army, and the Belgian chief of staff, were received here today in official circles.

Military support of France by Belgium in future armed conflicts is pledged under condition that France prove not to have been the aggressor. Belgium also reserves the right to remain neutral in any dispute between the two nations.

The alliance is to endure for a period of five to fifteen years. It is understood that, before official promulgation, the terms will be submitted to disapproval of the parliament, following similar action by the British and Japanese Governments in advising the league in order to bring its provisions in conformity with the aims of the league.

Even Old Jokes Reappear The men of the old and new Twenty-eighth make a fine study in contrast. The hundreds of heroes of the Argonne are now nationally known, and the recruits they are working so strenuously to make into soldiers of the division.

Guard Federalization Provides 2,000,000 Men Continued from Page One state must first be sworn in under the new dual act of federalization. After they have been thus enlisted and physically examined an inspector from the state National Guard inspects their papers, and if they are in order the adjutant general of the state guard so certifies to the adjutant general of the state and asks that the company be recognized as a unit of the National Guard.

Penrose Enjoys Long Auto Ride Continued from Page One the red car, Senator Penrose grinned back like a boy and waved his hand. The trip was over at 12:25 o'clock, when the red car drove up again at the curb.

He stepped out of the car unaided and when half-way to the house returned again to pose for the photographers. He refused to talk politics except to say he was keeping in touch with things by letter and long-distance telephone.
